"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heal humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

A COMPLAINT.—Messrs. Chroniclers—It has often been remarked and with a great degree of truth, that there seems to be an insane passion in Portsmouth for repairing and rebuilding old buildings. Some old shell of a house is sought out and after a vast deal of expense being laid out upon it, a structure appears which pleases neither the unlucky proprietor nor the observant public. In fact no one is suited, except it be the fortunate recipients of the expenditures.

The old house will remain an old house still, notwithstanding all efforts to make it appear differently. The experiment might as well be tried of rejuvenating an old man by the infusion of young blood into his veins.

Here is a case in point. Jefferson Hall, as every body knows, never did possess any great architectural beauties, nor any extraordinary conveniences for elections and drills, and hardly is suitable for those purposes. Nothing can be said in favor of it except as to its location. It is surrounded on all sides by well appearing if not handsome edifices; all of which only serve to make it appear more hideous to the view. But still for certain purposes it answered very well, and bad as it is, it will be missed in a city so poorly provided with halls, as is this. The select wisdom of the city—God save the mark — totally regardless of public opinion, have commenced operations in repairing and altering this old building, thus causing a mere waste of money upon something with which no one will ever be satisfied.

If we must have a City Hall, of which indeed we do stand in need, let there be one to which the attention of the stranger can be pointed with satisfaction.

The old South church—an ancient and venerable, but well preserved, and well located building, must be needlessly removed, and nothing to take its place, and a miserable shanty in the most public part of the city must not only remain, but have useless sums lavished upon it.—No wonder then, in considering these and many other curious proceedings, people are often lead to exclaim, "give us back the old town organization."

Our City Fathers evidently consider it a great luxury to be taxed, but if they have any pensioners to reward, let the money be given outright, so that the people may know upon whom their charities are bestowed.

GROWLER.

☞ Among the improvements, or changes, going on in real estate in this city—and there are many at the present time—we notice that the residence of the late Adm. Storer is being torn down, to make way for a new edifice. The old house is brick, of unique and beautiful pattern, situate corner of Middle street and Richards Avenue; and many a reader will join with us (and the owner,) in regretting that it is to be demolished. But Albert L. Jones, Esq., who has purchased the Storer estate, designs erecting a new residence on this eligible and spacious lot, and it was found architecturally impossible to preserve the old mansion, in consonance with the attainment of the desires of Mr. Jones in the arrangement of his new mansion, which will undoubtedly be an ornament to that fine portion of our beautiful city. Mr. James Moses is the architect, we believe. So the handsome old house must go—and before it is half worn out, too. We are sorry—we are always sorry to see a good building destroyed, even when a better one is put in its place. For, especially in the present scarcity of houses here, is it not better to go out a little, where there is room, and build the nice new tenements and lease the old ones for somebody else? With slight additions and improvements, this would still have been one of the neatest residences in the city, and of a style which never grows old or unsightly, and we wish it might have stood longer.

☞ The deserter, who poisoned himself in this city on Monday night, was drafted last August, and not at the recent draft. At that time he did not pay commutation, nor even report at the Provost Marshal's office, but ran away,—copperhead stories to the contrary notwithstanding. He also deserted after volunteering. He was kindly treated while in custody, and no blame can possibly attach to the officers for arresting him after having thus twice rendered himself obnoxious to the laws.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

AMUSEMENTS.—Messrs. Editors:—Messrs. Pike & Brown, we are sorry to say, ceased their dramatic performances at the Temple last Saturday evening. They have drawn excellent houses—and go away after having won the approbation of all who have heard them. Men and women, who have witnessed no dramatic entertainment in this city for years until now, have become their firmest friends. The company as a whole is good—the best which has visited Portsmouth for a long time. We have been particularly pleased with the acting of Miss Dolly Bidwell. So far as we have seen her, she has never failed to act her part in a manner that would be acceptable to the most fastidious and enlightened audience.—She certainly does everything well, and has deservedly become quite a favorite here. We understand the company appears in Newburyport this week. Success go with them. Yours,

AN OLD PLAY-GOER.

☞ The screw-steamer Albatross, from off Mobile, arrived at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday morning, about 4 o'clock. Her crew, consisting of upwards of 200 men, have been allowed a furlough of a few days, and it is said that the major part of them are to be paid off and discharged, their term of enlistment having expired. The Albatross will probably undergo extensive repairs here, which, we should judge, are much needed, as this vessel has been in several severe engagements. She was one of two vessels that succeeded in passing Port Hudson under a shower of shot and shell—acting as tender to the flag-ship Hartford on that occasion.

— Sec. Chase's declination of a nomination for President is declared to be final.

— Richmond papers now admit that they have underrated Gen. Grant.

— T. Butler King, of Georgia, died May 10th.

— The steamers Isabel, Matagorda alias Alice, and one other, escaped from Galveston with the Harriet Lane.

— The negro troops, it is said, have not been with the Army of the Potomac since it left the Wilderness.

— Dallas, Ga., where Gen. McPherson won a brilliant victory on Saturday, is about 25 miles from Atlanta.

— Gen. Grant was supplied with stores of every sort, before his latest flank movement, sufficient to last until June 7.

— Gov. Brown, of Georgia, has called out the entire body of reserve militia, and the women and children are fleeing in terror southward. The President of the Atlanta Relief Company wants "information as to where any number of destitute families can find shelter."

— In Wednesday's Boston Traveller, under the head of "Marriage," we find the announcement of one in that city by Rev. Dr. Neale, the parties being Hiram T. Merritt and Miss Carrie R. Look of Addison, Me.; and to it are appended the following touching lines:

"Let others boast of dress and Look,
The gew gaws they inherit.
She put herself upon the book,
The friend of real Merit."

And probably he thought that if he should "Look further he might fare worse," and his plans Miss-Carrie.

A Cool Fellow.—The New York Times tells about an exhibition lately given in Jones' Wood, by Sig. Core, wherein that fellow placed himself under fire. A bower of chips and brushwood was built and ignited, and clad in his defiant garb, Sig. Core stepped into the roaring mass, walked leisurely along the flames, made his appearance at the four entrances of the structure, and remained fizzing and cooking until the light material was all consumed. He then came out and complained that he was not quite done. Some of the wood, it seems, was green; as it did not burn quite briskly, the poor fellow felt a little "rare."

The entertainment was curious, and may lead to practical results. Sig. Core claims that he has invented a dress by which firemen and others may pass through, and even remain for some minutes in the midst of fire and smoke. The Signor made good this claim. Wherever the flames were fiercest he placed himself, and although his helmet cracked and huge blisters of a sallow character bulged out on it, he himself was safe and sound; neither spent in wind, nor flushed in face.

☞ A Rhode Island paper says that a man has been apprehended in that State as a deserter. He came home from Cuba purposely to enlist; joined one of the batteries; was sent to do garrison duty in North Carolina; thought his duty too slow; said he had enlisted for the sake of fighting and must fight; deserted and joined a New York infantry regiment; was sent into the Gulf Department; fought in sixteen battles; was wounded, furloughed, and came home to be arrested as a deserter

Rye, N. H., Feb. 25, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, to even position it sometimes her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but the obstinate disease would not yield. I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There was no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. Joseph Jenkins.

Portsmouth, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food. I commenced taking it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. Lowd.

From Elder I Chepley, Lee, May 10, 1841.

Dr. Swett. Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and this previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but her disease did grow wexer till she commenced using your Panacea and Humor Wash. Since then, she has recovered her health, and can rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 2 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Bellevue Hospital, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, if at many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in few days or weeks, and we offer to invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cure which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from pain, and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from eminent physicians, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as been less as ever was opposition to any discovery.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." Our reply is, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as been less as ever was opposition to any discovery.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some ray, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." Our reply is, to

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE (OR LOW) LIFE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'k, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumas, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum,

This taint (hereditary or acquired) filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, and chronic cases of Warrious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disgure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Ulcers. Life Syrup is doing great so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to these Glandular Swellings, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and Uterus, are generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Gravel or Swelled Legs, this Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and obstinate. Tumors will be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Stomach, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or sliding sound), Dropsy of the Heart (Case and all the affections of this important organ, are cured by Life Syrup. Accurate pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Loins, Dizziness, Coldness of Feet, Nervous Fears, Lassitude, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Bloated Countenance, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Weakness.

Life Syrup, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all Secret and Private Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

BOTH PRIVATE and PUBLIC Diseases, the painfully painful or diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the disease and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, loss of appetite, costiveness, jaundiced or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, pain is obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pale countenances, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay until your diseases are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents morning sickness, and increases the quantity of the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly valued both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and broil over a bright fire combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Store are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and use of the valuable Furnaces, would address those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable article.

The objections urged by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, seriously impeding the convenience of over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases in the coal, as they pass off in a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and clog the flue, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinker, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Gray's Patent

Molded Collars

Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting collars extant.

The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles noticed in all other collars.

The cravat causes no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH IN SIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.

The Gorette Collar has a smooth and even finished edge on both sides.

These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND SHAPED TO FIT THE NECK.

They are made in "Novelty" (or turn-down) style, in every half size from 12 to 17 inches, and in "Eureka" (Gorette), from 13 to 17 inches; usually packed in "small size" in neat blue cartons, containing 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.

☞ EVERY COLLAR is stamped

"Gray's Patent Molded Collar."

ONLY A BABY'S GRAVE.

Only a baby's grave!
A foot or two, at the most,
O star-daisied sod, yet I think that God
Knows what that little grave cost.

Only a baby's grave!
To children even so small
That they sit there and sing—so small a thing
Seems scarcely a grave at all!

Only a baby's grave!
Strange! how we moan and fret
For a little face that we here seek a space—
O more strange, could we forget!

Only a baby's grave!
Did we measure tears by this,
Few tears were shed on our baby dead;
I know how they fell on this.

Only a baby's grave!
Will the little life be much
Too small a gem for life diadem,
Whose kingdom is made of such?

Only a baby's grave!
Yet often we come and sit
By the little stone, and thank God to own
We are nearer Heaven for it!

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but offers to inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that for the prosecution of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during Twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has prosecuted for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Facts for the People.
The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 35 to 50 per cent. this season.
We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to
THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.
Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.
One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says' he has saved more than its cost already.
A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets fall a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.
These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

The Roll Pans are very useful also for baking corn cakes, drop cakes, muffins, gingerbread or anything requiring a quick and light bake.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into shape with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other bed-bottoms will have it on account of its being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1864.

The N. H. Legislature.

The Legislative session opened at Concord on Wednesday with the usual formalities of organization. Charles H. Bell was elected President of the Senate, and Wm. E. Chandler, Speaker of the House, and the other officers nominated at the Union caucuses on Tuesday evening, as already published by us, were elected, except that Mr. Lord of Manchester, the regularly nominated candidate for Clerk, was beaten on the third ballot, by Benj. Gerrish, Jr., of Dover, the assistant clerk of last year—Mr. Gerrish having 18 majority, and 36 more votes than Mr. Lord. The Concord Monitor, in relation to this matter, says:

Mr. Gerrish's friends claimed that in conformity with precedents, he was entitled to succeed Mr. Lord, who had held the office of Clerk two years, and that he would unquestionably have received the nomination if the canvass had been openly and fairly conducted, and if their candidate had not been, at a very late day, taken by surprise by Mr. Lord's unexpected determination to run. We suppose there is substantial truth in this view of the case. At any rate, Mr. Gerrish's friends were strong enough, on the third ballot, to secure his election by a handsome majority, and we have no doubt that he will perform the duties of the office acceptably.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

The Governor's Message was delivered on Thursday, and is as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives: When I assumed that high official position which has for the past year engrossed nearly all my time and efforts, it was with emotions of peculiar reluctance and distrust. I did not feel that the fact of my being but a poor politician and no orator disqualified me to manage the affairs of the State at a time when their successful management demanded, more than all things else, business experience and tact. But I was entering upon a new and untried field of effort with a popular minority of more than five thousand votes to remind me that I had yet to gain the confidence of my fellow citizens. In such circumstances, I could only pledge myself to regard the interests of the State as my own interests, and endeavor to manage its business affairs as I had long managed my own. That pledge I have faithfully sought to redeem, and, I trust, with no such detriment to the welfare of our State as partisan clamor affected to fear. The people of New Hampshire have pronounced, in unmistakable terms, their approval of that administration which receives to-day a new lease of power.

CONTINUED LOYALTY OF THE STATE.

While it is grateful to my feelings that I have been emphatically sustained by the people of my adopted State in the last appeal which I shall, in all human probability, ever make to their suffrages, I can but regard the results of our last State election as of infinitely greater significance than the mere triumph of an individual. There was a great principle at stake and the voice of New Hampshire, reechoed by her sister States, will ring throughout the world and be remembered to distant ages. History will bear record, that, along the valley of the Merrimack, and beneath the shadow of our granite hills, the first great battle of 1864 was fought and won. From this time, speculation in regard to the position of New Hampshire ceases. Neither flattery nor threats can corrupt her unchangeable loyalty.

RIGHT OF SOLDIERS TO VOTE.

The fact that the citizen soldiers of our State contributed their share to that glorious result which struck dismay to the rebel leaders requires no extenuation or apology. If our battle-scarred veterans have not the right to vote, I know not who has. I regret, exceedingly, that at the last session of the Legislature measures were not taken to so amend the constitution of the State as to secure this right to all our soldiers without withdrawing them from the field of active operations. Such an amendment has lately been adopted by the State of New York; and I would urge the proposal of a similar amendment to our people as an act of simple justice to our noble soldiers. I cannot understand why a man's loyalty should disfranchise him: nor do I believe the liberties of a nation are safer in other hands than those of the men who have taken up arms to defend them. God helping me, our New Hampshire troops shall vote in the State if they are not permitted to vote out of it.

NEW APPORTIONMENT OF REPRESENTATIVES.

If a convention should be called to frame an amendment to the constitution which shall secure to our soldiers a right of which, I am sure, its framers never intend to deprive them, I would suggest the propriety of submitting to that body the task of diminishing the excessive numbers of the House of Representatives. New Hampshire, with a population of 326,073, has in the lower branch of her legislature, three hundred and thirty-three representatives. New York, with a population of 3,880,735, has only one hundred. I do not know that the unwieldly proportions of the House, secure for our State any better legislation than other States receive at the hands of a smaller number of law-makers; while the saving in expense and the increased facility for the transaction of business growing out of a reasonable reduction would be great. By dividing the State into representative districts, as has been done in Massachusetts, even the smallest and least populous locations would be sure of a representation in our legislature every year. If the idea of diminishing the number of the lower house be regarded with distrust as exposing our legislation to the liability of being affected by improper influences, the number of the Senate might be so increased as to bring its members into more immediate contract with the people and give it a more effective check on the proceedings of the House. I commend this measure to your favorable notice, from motives of economy and convenience alone, without having considered its probable bearing on the political complexion of the legislature.

EXTENSION OF STATE HOUSE.

An endorsement by your honorable body of my recommendation in regard to a reduction of the numbers of the House, may possibly obviate the necessity for an immediate enlargement of our State Capitol, and defer to more peaceable times the vexed question of a change in the location of our seat of government. I have, however, complied with the provisions of the resolution adopted at the last session of the legislature with reference to this matter. The plans and estimates which had previously been made for the enlargement of the State House have been subjected to the revision of one of the best architects in the city of Boston—G. J. F. Bryant, Esq. His report, which I shall submit at an early day, embodies able and important criticisms on the old plans, together with new plans and specifications, which combine great architectural beauty with a proper regard for internal convenience and comfort. It is understood that the city of Concord will offer most liberal inducements for the continuance of the State Capitol in its central, convenient and time-honored location. On the other hand the city of Manchester contemplates the erection of an entirely new and first-class edifice for the use of the government without expense to the State, as an inducement for the removal of the Capitol to that flourishing city. No formal propositions have as yet been received from either of these corporations. If I should be able, at a subsequent time, to submit such propositions to your consideration, I bespeak for them your continued, careful and candid consideration. The question at issue is one of too much importance to be hastily disposed of upon the impulse of prejudice or passion, or made a matter of mere bargaining. Any change which you may make in the location or form of our State Capitol should be done with an enlightened regard to the permanent demands and future convenience of the commonwealth.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The provisions of the act passed at the last session of the Legislature with reference to the establishment of an Agricultural College have been promptly carried into effect by the Governor and Council. The Secretary of the Interior has been duly notified of our acceptance of the munificent grant of public lands set apart for this object.—The Land Scrip has been received and safely deposited in the hands of A. C. Pierce, Esq, the Commissioner designated for that purpose. A committee of ten, of which the Hon. Horton D. Walker, of Portsmouth, is chairman, has been appointed to prepare a plan for the establishment of this institution. Their report will be laid before you, and suggest what further action is demanded in the premises. I would, however, in this connection, raise the question whether this Land Scrip may not profitably be converted into cash at an early day, while money is plenty, and before the large grants recently made by Congress are brought into the market; and whether any better permanent investment can be found for these funds than the six per cent. bonds of the State of New Hampshire.

STATE PRISON.

The State Prison, under the attentive and prudent management of Warden Foss, continues in a prosperous condition, and the receipts for the year are in excess of the ordinary expenditures, although the net earnings are not as large as during the previous financial year, owing to a diminution in the number of convicts and the increased price of provisions.

The sum of $3000, appropriated by the Legislature for rebuilding the west wall of the prison, has been expended by the Warden, under the direction of the Governor and Council; and the increased size of the yard will be of great permanent value to the institution. A further appropriation will be needed to suitably complete the wall. The condition and wants of the prison are fully stated in the Report of the Warden, which I commend to your careful consideration.

You will also have before you the able Report of the Rev. Samuel Cooke, the faithful and efficient Chaplain of the Prison, who has succeeded in a remarkable degree in winning the confidence and affection of those committed to his charge. The condition of the Sabbath School and library of the Prison, and the apparent interest of its inmates in the weekly religious services, show conclusively that Chaplain Cooke is the right man in the right place. I am confident that you will cheerfully appropriate the usual sum of $100 for replenishing the library, and providing stationery, etc., for the use of the convicts.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The Asylum for the Insane, under the efficient personal supervision of Dr. Bancroft, is in its usual prosperous condition. Special appropriations are however demanded to ensure its usefulness and success during the ensuing year. Owing to the advance in the price of materials and labor, the sum appropriated at the last session of the Legislature for the re-construction of steam heating apparatus has been found insufficient for the completion of that object. The money heretofore appropriated has been economically expended, and a part of the heating apparatus is already in successful operation; but the air-chambers and coils have not, as yet, been introduced into three wings of the building. Comfort, safety and economy demand the completion of this work, for which an appropriation of $5000 is needed.

An extraordinary appropriation is also demanded for the support of the indigent insane. The cost of board furnished them at the asylum far exceeds the amount which the statute appropriates for their support, while their relatives and friends are, in most cases, utterly unable to meet this increased expense. I would impress upon the members of the Senate and House the fact that we cannot do too much for the relief of those unfortunate individuals whom God, in His inscrutable providence, has deprived of His noblest gift to man. In these times of universal distress and hardship, let us retrench elsewhere, but let not the insane suffer.

In this connection I would remind those who have friends that betray symptoms of insanity that our State Asylum is designed to be a curative institution and not a mere prison-house for the confinement of those who have become dangerous or hopelessly insane. About seventy to eighty per cent. of cases of recent insanity can be discharged as cured with a brief course of treatment; while only thirty or forty per cent. of those cases in which this disease has become confirmed will ever recover. A just regard for economy, no less than considerations of humanity, enforces the importance of promptly submitting to skilful medical treatment, those whose reason is in any degree impaired.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

The continued prosperity and usefulness of the House of Reformation, at Manchester, should be a source of gratification and pride to every citizen of New Hampshire. I am happy to believe that the unfounded prejudices which have hindered the successful working of this institution are dying out, and that it is now universally recognized as an honor to the State. As the result of repeated personal examination, I am confident that its internal management can hardly be improved. There are, however, some points in which it still claims your fostering care. Owing to causes which have been already mentioned, the appropriation of last year for the introduction of steam heating apparatus has proved insufficient, and a further appropriation of $7000 is necessary for the successful completion of this desirable change, and for other objects which will be specified in the Report of the Trustees.—The ends for which the Reform School was established would also be greatly advanced by the erection of a cheap building, of which the basement might be used as a work-shop and the upper story as a gymnasium. Sufficient power for carrying lathes and other simple pieces of machinery would be furnished by the boiler which is already in position, and the opportunity thus afforded for developing the mechanical genius of the inmates of the institution would be of marked advantage. It is desirable, too, that the farm connected with the Reform School should be brought under a higher state of cultivation, and it is worthy of consideration whether, with liberal appropriations and successful management, this department of the State Reform School might not soon contribute largely to render the Institution self-supporting. Its proximity to a large and flourishing city, with constant demands for the product of farm and garden, certainly favors this expectation.

STATE FINANCES.

As our fiscal year does not end until the first of June, I shall be obliged to refer you to the report of the Treasurer, which will doubtless soon be laid before you, for a detailed statement of the exact condition of our State finances at the present time. I would, however, submit the following statement of the condition of the Treasury on the first of May, 1864, which was drawn up at my request by the Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, from a personal examination of the books of that department:

AMOUNT OF INDEBTEDNESS.

It will be seen from an examination of this statement that the amount of our State indebtedness on the first day of May, 1864, was, in round numbers, twelve hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. There should, perhaps, be included with this sum, in order to ascertain the exact amount of our indebtedness at the present time, the amount of State aid already paid to the families of volunteers, but not returned to the Treasurer at the time when this exhibit was drawn up. This item properly belongs to the next fiscal year, for the statement given above embraces one year's payment for this object; but as an outstanding claim of which the validity is conceded we may as well meet it at once. Estimating these outstanding claims of the towns for reimbursement in the matter of State aid at six hundred thousand dollars, our entire indebtedness is $1,824,866.05.

ORIGIN OF DEBT.

This is a large sum; but it is not sufficient to bankrupt the State of New Hampshire. It is not so large in proportion to the numbers and resources of our people, as the indebtedness which our fathers incurred to purchase those liberties which we are struggling to defend. Nor has this indebtedness been accumulated through extravagance in the management of our ordinary financial affairs. I would urge the people of New Hampshire to scan the items of expenditure which the State Treasurer may report, compare them with those of other States, and satisfy themselves in regard to the degree of economy with which our affairs have been conducted since the war begun. Our large deficiency is strictly a war debt and as such let us discuss it and provide for its ultimate payment in a spirit of enlightened patriotism.

NECESSITY OF FUNDING DEBT.

With the increasing burdens of national taxation, it will hardly be thought advisable to provide for the immediate payment of any considerable portion of this indebtedness by direct State tax, and it is no more than just that our children should bear some part of those burdens which purchase the liberties that they are destined to enjoy.

I would therefore urge once more upon your attention the recommendation made in my message of last year, that our floating debt be at once funded while money is plenty and desirable securities command a high premium. Bonds should be issued, bearing interest semi-annually, at six per cent., and running for fifteen or twenty years, sufficient to cover this entire indebtedness; and a sinking sund created to meet the payment of these bonds at maturity. I hope you will not suffer the session to close until this matter has been fully weighed and definitely settled.

WAR DEBT OF TOWNS.

In this connection I would recommend to your favorable consideration the propriety of the State's assuming a reasonable and uniform proportion of the indebtedness incurred by the various cities and towns in the commonwealth in filling their quotas of men under the several calls of the General Government. To assume the whole of these debts in every case would be unjust to those communities in which self-sacrificing effort has taken the place of lavish expense; and favor towns which, from a want of sympathy with the national cause, have delayed action until enormous bounties were inevitable to meet the demands upon them. Where towns have desired to be ruined by a war debt let them have the privilege. But any reasonable indebtedness incurred for the national defence the State should cheerfully assume. Many communities have, in their patriotic devotion, taken upon them a burden which they are ill able to bear, and which should in justice be equally distributed among their fellow-citizens. These debts can be more judiciously and economically disposed of by the State than by the corporations which have incurred them.—Uniformity of treatment, and the certainty of ultimate payment would thus be secured to all who have advanced money to maintain our ancient reputation untarnished. It is not too much to expect that those who now hold the securities of our cities and towns would very cheerfully convert them, upon reasonable terms, into the bonds of the State.

This matter I regard as of vital importance and bespeak for it your candid and unwearied attention. I have caused a circular to be issued to the proper officers of each town and city in the State with a view of ascertaining the amount and present condition of their war debt, and hope, during the session, to be able to lay before you such information as may guide you in solving this difficult problem. Enough has already been ascertained to show that the indebtedness of our towns has been greatly overrated for partisan purposes.

CLAIMS ON UNITED STATES.

Our claims upon the treasury of the General Government, amounting to $693,028.42, may demand your attention. I am happy to say that the amount due the State at the beginning of the year has been diminished by the payment of $224,000.00, effecting a saving in the matter of interest alone of nearly fifteen thousand dollars per an num. I have no doubt that the existing claims will, with the return of peace and prosperity, be allowed and paid. Indeed, it is by no means improbable that the United States will ultimately assume a large proportion of the war debts of the several States. These considerations should not, however, hinder us from availing ourselves of the present favorable opportunity for putting our State finances on such a footing that they can be safely and economically managed for a term of years.

CONTROL OF TREASURY.

I have, during the past year, felt that it was desirable that the Executive Department should have a more immediate supervision and more effective control of the finances of the State than has heretofore been granted it. The same thought has often been expressed by the members of the Honorable Council, and I would commend it to your consideration. The disposition of State securities and the assumption of pecuniary responsibilities on behalf of the State, should, in my opinion, be vested in the Governor and Council, acting in concurrence with the State Treasurer.

I would moreover, recommend in consideration of the increasing business which burdens this department, that the salary of the State Treasurer be so increased, or such special appropriation made for the coming year, as to secure the services of a thoroughly qualified clerk in our State Treasury, who shall be required to submit a balance sheet to the Governor and Council at the beginning of every month.

While no man can question the integrity and loyalty of the present incumbent, and no man doubts his ability to solve the ordinary financial problems of our income and expense account, a balance sheet of over two millions of dollars and the endless complications of State and National expenditure, civil and military debt, demonstrate the necessity of a practical accountant and able financier in the Treasurer's office.

Let me remind you here that it is your duty as well as your privilege to satisfy yourselves that the statements which I submit in regard to the condition of our finances are reliable; and that the sums reported to you are authenticated by proper vouchers and securities.

CORPORATIONS.

For the financial condition of the railroads, banks, and insurance companies of the State I must refer you to the able reports of the Commissioners to whom their immediate supervision belongs. The past year has been to these chartered companies one of seeming prosperity, and so far as I am aware, they neither ask nor deserve especial attention at your hands.

The manufacturing corporations of the State do however seem to demand your notice. A special tax has for years been laid upon our railroads and banks; and I cannot understand why the same burden may not justly and profitably be laid upon other corporations whose stock is now selling at a high premium. The Legislature of Massachusetts, while repealing the law which unjustly discriminated against our citizens, has enacted a new statute, which imposes a burden quite as great on all stockholders resident or non-resident. A tax of one and one-sixth per cent. is now levied in that State upon the market value of the capital stock of all corporations, after deducting the value of their property which is subject to local taxation in the several towns. This action makes no invidious and unconstitutional distinction against the citizens of other States, and is prompted solely by a desire to swell the receipts of the State by subjecting all available sources of income to an equable tax. But the same necessity which prompts this increased taxation on the part of our sister State, exists in our own case, and the adoption of a law similar to that of Massachusetts would lay no excessive burden on our citizens. I would, therefore, recommend to your favorable consideration the propriety of laying a special tax, similar to that which we have long levied on railroads and banks, on the manufacturing corporations within the limits of our State.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

On the first of June, 1863, New Hampshire was charged with a deficiency at the War Department in Washington of 338 men on all previous calls. By what process of Arithmetic this result was attained I am unable to state, since the principles which were applied to the solution of the problem were professedly the same which gave us, according to my last annual message, a surplus of 570 three years before. But we have learned to bow to the decision of "the powers that be", and this deficiency, as reported from Washington, must be the basis of our calculations for the past year.

THE DRAFT.

On the 3d of July last a draft was begun in this State on the basis of an enrollment which demanded of our citizens a quota of 5,053 men. This draft was as a general thing, peaceably acquiesced in by the people of New Hampshire. Threats of resistance were current in some portions of the State, and in one or two instances there was some slight collision with the authorities; but the preparations which had been made for the enforcement of the draft within our borders, and the fate of those who attempted an organized resistance in other States disarmed all opposition. Very few of those who were drafted reported for personal service, and a number hardly greater paid into the treasury of the United States the commutation fee designated by law. The remission upon us was, in most instances met by furnishing substitutes, who have, I regret to say, in many cases, proved but heartless and inefficient soldiers. In some instances, however, they have distinguished themselves by personal bravery on the field. The number of men held to service under the draft in this State was 2,971, a number far in excess of that which any other State furnished for the same ratio of population. This method of recruiting our armies, did not, however, from glaring deficiencies in the act under which it was enforced, prove as prompt, efficient, and equal in its operation as had been anticipated. Calls for voluntary enlistment have been more successful, and would seem to be more in accordance with the genius of our free institutions.

THE CALL OF OCT. 17TH, 1863.

During the month of October, 1863, the President of the United States issued a call for 300,000 volunteers, of which New Hampshire's quota of 3,768 men was promptly and efficiently filled, though mainly by the enlistment of those who were citizens of our State.

THE CALL OF FEBRUARY 1ST, 1864.

On the first of February, 1864, a call was made for 500,000 men. This call as explained by the War Department, was intended to cover those of July and October preceding, as well as all previously existing deficiencies, and serve as a new basis for all future calls for men. Under it there were demanded of New Hampshire 6,588 men against which demand we were credited with all men held to service under the draft, and all volunteers subsequently mustered. We were accordingly, at the moment when this call was issued, in excess of all demands upon us.

CALL OF MARCH 15TH, 1864.

On the fifteenth of March last, a call was made for 200,000 volunteers to be followed by a draft, if the requisition was not promptly met. To this call our State has responded mainly by re-enlistments on the part of its noble veterans in the field. It is however to be regretted, that the people of New Hampshire, feeling that our deficiency under this requisition was but slight, relaxed their efforts to meet this demand upon them and a draft was ordered on the 12th of May to cover a slight deficiency in some sub-districts of this State.

I give in a tabular form some statements which will be more fully developed by the Adjutant General of the State, although the report of that officer, owing to his recent appointment, can hardly be as full and complete as we could wish it would otherwise have been. These statements have been derived from the proper United States officers and may be relied on as correct.

TABULAR STATEMENT.

Quota of New Hampshire under call of Feb. 1, for proportion of 500,000 men and all existing deficiencies,		6,573
Quota of New Hampshire under call of March 15, for proportion of 200,000 men,		2,588
Entire demand on New Hampshire for past year,		9,161
Number of men held to service under draft,	2,971
No. of Volunteers enlisted since the draft and prior to March 1,	3,895
No. of new enlistments from March 1 to May 10, 1864,	386
No. of re-enlisted veterans, to May 4, 1864,	1,657
Number of men furnished during the year,		8,909
Deficiency of State on all calls to May 10,		252
Whole number of men furnished to May 10, 1864,		26,647

The draft which has recently been enforced in this State, is some localities in excess of this deficiency, as the United States has at last endorsed the principle for which we have always contended, and recognizes each town and ward as a sub-district, accountable for its own deficiency and accredited with its own excess. The aggregate deficiencies of our delinquent towns amount to seven hundred and sixty-four men, and a draft was ordered in those sub-districts to cover all demands upon them. The aggregate excess of other towns amounts to five hundred and fifteen men. Accordingly our State is, since the recent draft to cover all deficiencies, 515 men in excess of its quota, and the towns which have furnished this surplus will be accredited with these men on subsequent calls. It is probable that some re-enlistments are yet to be returned to the office of the Provost Marshal General, for which we shall receive like credit.

BOUNTIES.

In order to fill the quota of New Hampshire under these repeated calls, the Governor and Council have been compelled, during the greater part of the year which has just closed to offer to recruits and re-enlisted veterans a uniform State bounty, of one hundred dollars. The expense thus incurred exceeds half a million of dollars; but it is absolutely essential to the credit of the State, and the success of our national arms; and no true patriot can object to its assumption. The Governor and Council have felt that they were warranted in taking the course which they have in this matter by chapter 2580 of the Pamphlet Laws of 1862. To have called an extra session of the Legislature to consider the question would have been to incur needless expense and lose valuable time, when the result was a foregone conclusion. Experience has demonstrated that it is advisable that the State should offer such bounties as may be necessary to meet future demands upon us and do away with the evils resulting from reckless competition among the different towns.

CAVALRY REGIMENTS.

No new regiments have been organized within this State during the past year. The only change in the number and rank of our organizations being the enlargement of the battalion formerly associated with the 1st Rhode Island Cavalry to a full regiment, known as the First New Hampshire Cavalry, and the change of the 8th New Hampshire to mounted infantry. The first of these organizations has recently left the State with its ranks, imperfectly drilled and utterly destitute of arms and horses, against the earnest and repeated protest of the Executive Department. I felt that these men were not in condition to render effective service in the field, and that we should in justice, have the same privilege which other States have enjoyed, of equipping them for active service.

TREATMENT OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE BY THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT.

And in this connection I am constrained to say that, from some reason, our State has hardly received from the General Government that consideration which her promptness to respond to every call upon her, and the distinguished valor of her sons would seem to demand. Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts have each one United States General Hospital within their limits. Vermont has two. It seems hard to our sick and wounded soldiers to be carried within sight of their native hills to languish and die; and it is through no want of effort on my part that this state of things continues. Again, Connecticut has six general officers who have risen from the command of regiments since the war begun. Maine has twelve; Massachusetts has sixteen; New Hampshire has one. It is not from the want of men who are qualified to command that the claims of New Hampshire are thus ignored. There never was a braver and more accomplished soldier than the lamented Putnam. Colonel Griffin of the Sixth Regiment and Col. Potter of the Twelfth have each successfully commanded not only a brigade but a division. Other officers might be named who richly merit preferment; yet none of them have won their stars. I cannot repress the feeling that, with the bravery and unselfish co-operation of those citizens of New Hampshire who are resident in Washington, greater justice might be secured to our noble State.

CONDUCT OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE TROOPS.

If New Hampshire has few generals, she has many heroes. The names of some of her regiments are familiar as household words throughout the length and breadth of "the Union as it was" and others have lacked only opportunity, to win for themselves a like immortal fame. At Gettysburg, Port Hudson, Fort Wagner, and many another bloody assault or stubborn defence, the valor of New Hampshire's sons has shone forth with conspicuous glory. They have proved themselves firm as the granite of their native hills in resisting the shock of war, terrible as the lightning which plays about their summits when it comes their turn to strike, as in the present energetic and promising advance upon the rebel capital the New Hampshire Battery, and all our regiments but three are in the advance—all but two contribute in some way to the vigor and success of the attack.

To mention those New Hampshire regiments which have especially distinguished themselves is simply to enumerate all that are embraced in the commands of Burnside and Butler.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE'S DEAD.

But the valor which our gallant soldiers have displayed, the victories which they have won, have entailed upon us losses more sad and terrible than can be estimated in gold. In the late battles our State has suffered more severely than any other. Many of our brave defenders sleep on the field where they met the foe. New Hampshire weeps for her noble dead. She will cherish forever the memory of their devotion, their valor, their glorious and yet untimely fate. In the organization of the association to consecrate the National Cemetery, at Gettysburg, is entrusted, the Hon. Ira Perley, of Concord, served as Commissioner from New Hampshire, and his report in regard to the disposition of the remains of those who fell in the great, decisive battle of the war, will be laid before you at an early day. At the consecration of that hallowed spot our State was fully and fitly represented.—Wherever it has been possible to pay a last tribute of respect to departed valor, it has been my care to do so. And yet I realize that these grateful memorials and solemn pageants have little power to soothe the bitterness of aching hearts. As the chief executive officer of the State, I would tender to the relatives and friends of those who laid their lives on the altar of their country the sympathy and prayers of the Commonwealth.

OUR SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

But while we tenderly cherish the memory of the noble dead, we would with equal tenderness care for the living. It is our privilege and our duty to seek out and individualize the New-Hampshire man who languishes in the dreary wards of the crowded hospital, or is left neary worn and penniless in the streets of a strange city. A word of sympathy from HOME; some little delicacy, prepared it may be by his sister or his mother, is worth more to him than medicine or rest. It has been my especial care not to neglect this grateful task. I have spared no pains nor expense where the welfare of a sick or wounded New-Hampshire soldier was at stake. Nor do I intend to in the twelve-month to come.

During the past year Hon. Larkin D. Mason, at Washington, Col. Frank E. Howe, in New-York, and Robert R. Corson, Esq. in Philadelphia, have faithfully and efficiently labored to relieve the wants of our suffering heroes. And on the route of our returning nine months' regiments, as well as around the hospital in which their enfeebled and travel-worn ranks were mustered out of service, a host of self-constituted, self-sacrificing, self-sustaining State agents have sprung up, who asked nothing of the republic, save the privilege of caring for her needy sons. May He reward them who has said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

THE STATE MILITIA.

The number of the enrolled militia of the State, on whom we must rely for suppressing insurrection within the borders and from whom we must call for volunteers in response to any sudden demand for external defense, is 29,583. Of this number, five hundred are enlisted in seven uniformed and comparatively well-drilled organizations, of which two are skeleton battalions.

The great majority of our enrolled militia have only a nominal organization, with no discipline, and only such arms and equipments as their own inclinations or the requirements of former laws have prompted them to secure. Whether the efficiency of our State militia demands a change in the Statute which prolongs its nominal existence is a question which you can perhaps answer better than myself. I have, however, felt it my duty, acting under the existing law, to do all in my power to foster the military spirit among the people, and rejoice that my efforts have not been wholly in vain. In answer to a recent call for two companies of uniformed militia to take the place of the Heavy Artillery which was raised for the defence of Portsmouth Harbor, every volunteer company in the State promptly tendered their services, and the forts at the mouth of the Piscataqua are now garrisoned by the Strafford Guards of Dover and the National Guards of Manchester. I regret exceedingly that the National Government found it necessary to violate the pledges which were made to those who enlisted in the Heavy Artillery that they should not leave the State. But the necessity of sending into the field every man who could possibly be spared was apparent to all, and I rejoice in the spirit in which our citizens have met this unexpected demand on their patriotism.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

I would call your attention to the urgent necessity of a liberal appropriation for the employ of an adequate and experienced corps of assistants in the office of the Adjutant General. The records which have been kept in that department since the beginning of the war are of the most meagre and informal description. We should gather up the materials for a full and reliable history of New-Hampshire's contribution to the defence of our national liberties before it is forever too late. Massachusetts has eight clerks in constant employment in her Adjutant General's office, and expends a large sum annually for occasional assistance. New-Hampshire has left her Adjutant General, with a salary fixed by law at $400, to do his work alone. The immense pressure on that department demands a more generous course in the future.

GENERAL CONDITION OF THE STATE.

Notwithstanding the severe losses which we have incurred by disease and death and the heavy pecuniary burdens which we have been called to bear during the past year, the condition of our people is better by far than we could reasonably anticipate, after three years of devastating civil war. The magnitude of the vote polled at our annual election demonstrates that our population has not essentially diminished within this time. The price of all the necessaries of life has largely advanced, but the compensation of labor has increased in a corresponding ratio. The value of the products of our fields and forests bears substantially the same relation as of old to the cost of articles of foreign growth which are demanded for home consumption. The Almighty has blessed us hitherto with bountiful harvests and shielded us from the ravages of pestilence and the more deadly assaults of merciless foes. A stranger might pass from the seashore to the fertile valleys of the upper Connecticut without being struck by signs of distress or want.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS.

In the condition of the nation, too, there are signs of cheerful promise. Since you last assembled in this hall, the great conflict between constituted authority and lawless violence has been settled in the streets of Boston and New-York. The waves of hostile invasion have been stayed and rolled back upon the Rebel Capital, which is now for the first time since the war begun, seriously threatened. "The cradle of Secession" has been rocked by the thunder of Northern cannon; help has been borne to the distressed loyalists of Eastern Tennessee. The Mississippi has been opened to commerce from its source to its mouth. The heart of the Rebellion has been pierced at Chattanooga. A healthy spirit of enduring, persevering patriotism has supplanted that poorly-disguised indifference or cowardice which threatened to purchase an unsubstantial peace at the expense of honor and justice. Men who mean victory have been placed in command of our armies. The ends which God would accomplish by this fraternal strife, have become more clearly defined and more cordially recognised.

The sky is not yet clear, but the clouds are breaking, the wind betokens fair weather. The heart of the the patriot is cheered by the hope that soon a free, united and happy people shall fill every smiling valley, and cluster around every towering hill-top from the Atlantic to the Pacific. For this end let us labor and pray with unselfish patriotism and unwearied devotion. Let us count no task too great, no burden too heavy, which our country would have us do or bear.

Gentlemen of the Legislature, your duties, meeting as you do in this crisis of our national affairs, are of unusual interest and importance. Your personal influence will be felt in the history of our country, for good or evil, to the end of time. Those matters which I have commended to your attention, demand your careful examination, your candid and unprejudiced action. Let me urge upon you the importance of taking sufficient time to consider well your duty, whether this session be long or short. Let me appeal to you to remember your accountability, not to your constituents alone, but to Him whose infinite wisdom must pass final judgment upon every vote recorded, every thought expressed.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
Concord, N.H. June 2, 1864.

☞ The amended National Bank bill having now passed both Houses, will undoubtedly receive the signature of the President. Its main features are the same as those of the original act. The principal changes are:

First. No banks can be organized with less capital than $100,000 in small towns, and $200,000 in cities with a population of over 5000.

2d. Banks must redeem at par at National Banks in certain designated places regarded as commercial centres.

3d. None but registered bonds can be received as securities for circulation, and the necessary memorandum on these can be signed by an officer of the Bank or by the Comptroller.

ANOTHER DRAFT was commenced at the Provost Marshal's office in this city on Thursday, to supply deficiencies in the quotas of towns—to compensate for those exempted on account of disability under the last draft—two weeks since. An order was received directing that the business be closed up forthwith; and also that 200 per cent. in addition to the real requirements should be drawn, in order to cover all deficiencies. The names drawn on Thursday we give below,—they being drawn out by Mr. Edward D. Childs, who was blindfolded for the purpose. The draft will be continued at intervals, until concluded. So large a number in excess being drawn (200 per cent.) it may not be found necessary to notify all,—as a sufficient number to fill the quotas will probably be obtained from those first drawn:

TUFTONBORO'—Lyford M Wiggin, Richard B Neal, Mark F Piper, Jacob G Smith, Andrew Thomas 2d, Asa D Fox, Orrin H Durgin, David M Smith, Stephen F Horn, Augustus Bean, Jonathan L Morrison, John Grant, Jacob Hodgdon, Franklin L Hersey, Daniel J Hersey.

BARNSTEAD—David E Avery, Samuel H Emerson, James Locke, George W Ayers, Samuel J Pitman, Timothy Emerson.

PLAISTOW—Daniel C Pike, John Bradley, Leonard Johnson, John B Peaslee, Gates T Embury, Morris B Dow.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Foster has assumed command of the Department of the South. All is quiet at Charleston once more. An expedition up the Ashepoo river, in Florida was unsuccessful.

Lee's whole army left the South Anna on Friday, and marched via Hanover Court House again to our front, and took up a position north of the Chickahominy, to the right and left of the Mechanicsville road. Details of the cavalry fight on Saturday, in which all the rebel cavalry took part, show that it resulted in a signal victory for our troops. The rebels attempted to surprise Gen. Hancock on Monday night and failed. They were repulsed with heavy loss, leaving 400 or 500 prisoners. On Tuesday afternoon Gen. Sheridan attacked Fitz Hugh Lee at Cold Harbor, and after a hard fight routed him and held the place, having taken many prisoners. The rebels left their dead and wounded on the field.

—— Manchester has offered $500,000 for building a State House, to be located in that city.

—— Lieut. Col. Drew, of the 4th N. H., is a member of Gen. Butler's court "of brave men," organized "to try cowards."

— The London correspondent of the Hamilton (C. W.) Journal of Commerce thinks that a war between England and the German powers, if not a general European war, is now inevitable.

— The Baltimore Convention will be compcsed of 480 delegates. Mr. Lincoln's friends claim that 263 delegates have been instructed to vote for his renomination, and only 22 (the Missouri delegation) to vote against it.

— The Louisville Journal is frightened again at John Morgan, and states that he is concentrating 5000 rebels at Abington, Va., to invade Kentucky. But the Journal itself is apt to "act Morgan" occasionally, its loyalty being of a peculiar kind.

— The Baltimore American says Gen. Butler's loss in prisoners taken with Gen. Heckman was but 460 (instead of 1500, as reported), and that all the prisoners taken from Gen. Butler and the Army of the Potomac do not exceed in number 800.

— A wretch wishes to know if the ladies who held a meeting in Washington the other day were those who solemnly vowed to drink no tea in the American Revolution. He was induced to make the inquiry, he says, after seeing the photograph of the members of the convention.

— Thomas Hughes, the English author, will probably be elected to Parliament by the Finsbury electors, who never yet chose a Tory to represent them. Mr. Hughes is a warm and powerful friend of our Union, and will act with John Bright, Richard Cobden, Peter A. Tailor, and other staunch friends of the American Union.

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 Tremont Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of this.

J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt within less space easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as a. ove, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different states.

☞ The Richmond Examiner of the 26th inst. states that great gloom prevails in the city, caused by the closing of all the stores, shops, &c., for the purpose of bringing into the service all men bearing arms. The families of the poor militia, it says, continue to mingle anathemas and tears with their borrowed crusts against those in authority. The people have grown sick of the wrongs inflicted upon them within the brief space of a few weeks, and you can be sure that they will treasure them up.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM.
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York Eighth Volunteer Regiment under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!
What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel in the present day.
Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.
During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as before less as ever encountered by any Reformers.
Rapidity of Cure.
Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while other doubt the permanency of cures, that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply!
In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the equilibrium, and the balance of the scale.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,
A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.
Paralysis.
Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.
It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.
Dyspepsia.
Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Sick Headache, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.
Scrofula.
Sores, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas.
This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.
Rheumatism.
(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.
If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and the hitherto adhesive, yet most painful cases are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by it.
Nervousness.
Nervous Debility, Consumption of Thought, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.
Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.
Mercurial Diseases.
Salivation, Fading of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.
Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.
Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like
ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.
And all other disfigurements of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,
Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken to prevent the swellings from extending, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases should be cured by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.
All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Loss of Appetite; Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammations and ulcerations of the uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.
Epileptic Fits, sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a pulse of 120 per minute), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life syrup.
Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exertion, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Darkness, Dry Cough, Night Sweats, Pain in the Side and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, are speedily cured by the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or neck, no remedy has proved its equal.
MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very speedily eradicated by the use of this medicine. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is diseased in the skin.
In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an aggravated or cancerous condition of the liver, and accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
☞ As a general Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.
Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.
THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.
PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.
TO MOTHERS AND DELICATE LADIES
It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the nutriment of the mother. Nature will do the rest. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.
Constitution Life Syrup
Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.
It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.
CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites; its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.
☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are prevented, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.
For full particulars get our pamphlet from any druggist in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.
Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the removing of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, filling each assembly room as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce incubus so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over the former and others may have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass out into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which gives them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
Six Heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

REBEL CRUISERS ABOUT.—Information having been received that there are reasons to anticipate an attack somewhere along the eastern coast by rebel cruisers now afloat, all the working force on the fortifications in this harbor have been occupied for the past few days in getting into position heavy ordnance. We understand that the emergency was considered of such importance by the military authorities, that a large force was employed all day yesterday. We hear that the same preparation are being made on all the coast defences, and also, that some rebel steamers have recently left England. In the present days of sensation, all these matters must be taken with much reservation, but that there is something in the wind, we have not the least doubt.—Portland Argus.

— For the first time in its honorable history, the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon in Philadelphia is appealing for aid.

— A New Orleans paper says, "A true Union woman is like the sugar we sometimes get—a combination of sweetness and grit."

— The telegraph wires now report that Mr. Chase intends to dispose of fifty millions of the 6 per cent Bonds, payable in 1881, at auction.

— Four companies of rebel prisoners, who have taken the oath of allegiance, have been recently located in the forts of New York harbor.

— Uriah Lloyd of Gloucester has been sentenced to four years' imprisonment for stealing during the recent great fire in that town.

— On Saturday night, the 7th, Gen. Sedgwick, in reply to a question as to the condition of the men under his command, is reported to have said: "I can fight my corps six days more and they'll fight better the last day than any day before."

Dr Charles T. Jackson, State Assayer, who is the most undoubted authority, after an analysis of our Port Wine, says.—"The Bold Grape leaves forty-four grains of solid matter, consisting wholly of the fixed principles of grapes. I find no adulterating ingredients, and consider it suitable for medicinal and general use."

The Boston Traveller says:—"The California White or Hock Wine rivals in flavor the best of Hock Wines, and costs much less."

The Saturday Evening Gazette says:—"The Hock Wine is equal to the Stein or light wines which we import, with a fine and rich flavor, and believe its purity unquestionable."

Hon. John G. Downey, late Governor of California, says:—"I most cheerfully recommend our Wines to all who desire a pure juice of the grape."

The New York Commercial Advertiser says:—"The wines have a fine flavor, and need only to be tasted to be approved."

The Boston Transcript says:—"The White Wine is equal to the best Hock."

EPPING, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to no end by a celebrated physician, for Sarsaparilla and Sarsaparilla, &c., but she obtained no relief until she procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swayne's Panacea, and several bottles of his Liniment Wash, which have effected a cure. There is no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swayne's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed very full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dis-ease at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often felt as if my food remained in my stomach, and I felt a scrofulous humor, and that previous to your using our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without a natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA AND HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CRESLEY

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!

This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use long enough to afford time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.

They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.

The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!

These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Mr. WM. CONN, Mail Agent C. & P. Railroad.
Mr. E. A. STEVENS, House furnishing Dealer.

SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

General Crook's command has started on a second expedition in West Virginia.

A rebel iron clad came down the James River on Wednesday morning and attacked our monitors. After a heavy engagement of two hours she was driven back again.

Longstreet has so far recovered from the wound he received in the Wilderness that a Richmond paper thinks he will take the field in about three weeks.

Guerrillas are unusually active in Arkansas, and the rebels there have gained some advantage at isolated points. They seem to be endeavoring to drive our troops from the State, except those at Little Rock and Helena.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Grant reports that an attack was made by the 6th corps on Wednesday about 5 P. M., the troops under Smith, Warren, Burnside and Hancock being held in readiness to advance in their respective fronts. The attack lasted till after dark, and resulted in our carrying the enemy's works on the right of the 6th corps, and also the first line in front of Smith. The first we held; but the latter were commanded by another line in the rear, which made them untenable.—The enemy made repeated assaults on each of the corps not engaged in the main assault, but was repulsed with loss in every instance. Several hundred prisoners were taken. During the night the enemy made several assaults to regain what they lost, but failed.

In the rebel attack on the 5th corps, Monday evening, when they made assault after assault, and each time were turned back bleeding and discomforted, we lost but 200 in killed and wounded, while the rebel loss is stated to have been not less than 1500. We took 200 prisoners, among them 10 commissioned officers—and it is said that a rebel General and two Colonels were among the killed.

The rebels again attacked Gen. Butler's wing on the 1st, but after a spirited fight they were repulsed, with slight loss on our side. There is a report that Fitz Hugh Lee was captured by Gen. Smith's forces with 500 of his command on Wednesday night, while attempting to make a raid in the direction of White House.

The rebels seem to have postponed for the present their threatened annihilation of Gen. Butler, and to have sent to Lee all the troops that could possibly be spared.—About 15,000 rebels are at Petersburg, in our immediate front, and in the defences of Richmond on the South side. When orders reached Gen. Butler to send reinforcements to Gen. Grant, he had pontoons laid across the Appomattox river, and his men were to march that night to attack Petersburg, instead of which, however, they took another route.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY.—Rev. Mr. Bowles of Manchester was elected Chaplain of the House. In Convention the votes for Governor were reported as follows:—

Whole number of votes cast,	68,622
Necessary to a choice,	34,312
Estimated as scattering,	72
Edw. W. Harrington, Manchester,	31,382
Jos. A. Gilmore, Concord,	37,168

And Joseph A. Gilmore was declared elected Governor for the ensuing political year. There was no legal return from Goffstown, the election having been held on March 9th, instead of March 8th, at which time 194 votes were cast for Mr. Gilmore.

The votes for Councillors were also declared. In the 5th District, Oscar F. Fowler had 5,962, David Culver, 5,964, and there were 8 scattering. There being no choice, Mr. Culver was elected by the Convention, and he consequently resigned his seat in the House.

— Gen. Francis Fessenden arrived at his home in Portland on Tuesday, and was greeted with military honors. He is a young man, but he deserved them. When a man at the age of 26 has done so much as he for the nation, his townsmen do well to honor him.

— The Salem police rescued a drunken man with $800 in gold in his possession, just as he was entering a rum hole where it does not take long to spend money.

— Our army on the Peninsula has found on all the Virginia farms a plenty of ice stored by the rebels, who felt secure in their possession of that portion of Dixie.

— Sherman's army burned several large iron foundries and a million dollars worth of cotton at Rome, Ga., and probably made Rome howl.

—There is a woman in Montreal, 28 years old, who, it is said, has had the pleasant habit of swallowing needles frequently since she was 8 years of age. Her health is about so so.

— The U. S. Senate has passed the joint resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Lieut. Col. Bailey, Acting Engineer of the 11th army corps, who saved the gunboats in the Red river.

— An Irishwoman, who narrowly escaped being run over by the cars near Bennington, Vt., the other day, indignantly asked the engineer why he didn't turn out for her.

— A large number of indictments were stolen from the District Attorney's office, in Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday night, and the prosecution of the criminals will have to be suspended in consequence.

— Assassination is frightfully on the increase in New York. Within the past ten days six or seven policemen have been stabbed, and the ruffians remain undiscovered.

— The steamer Pocohontas, from New Orleans, has been sunk off Cape May by a collision at night with the steamer City of Bath. The Pocohontas had 101 persons on board, and 40 were lost,—chiefly discharged soldiers.

— Gen. Shepley, of Maine, has been placed in command of the Department of Eastern Virginia, embracing Fortress Monroe, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Yorktown and the eastern shore.

— The large increase in imported goods, the diminution of exports with which to pay for them, the delay in the passage of the tax bills in Congress, and the existence of two rival systems of banking, the Boston Traveler thinks, are the principal causes of the recent advance in the value of gold.

— During the last month the government is said to have reduced the amount of Treasury notes in circulation about fifteen or eighteen millions of dollars, but the new national banks have turned as much or more in amount of the government bonds into paper currency.

— In the Washington military hospitals, last year, the rate of mortality was less than 4 per cent. The splendid hospitals in London exhibit a mortality of more than 9 per cent; Paris 10 per cent; hospitals of the Bosphorous during the Crimea war 20 per cent; those on the Crimea over 14 per cent.

OUR ARMY MISSION.

Extracts from Rev. Mr. Patterson's Letters.

POINT OF ROCKS, May 27.

My last letter informed you that I was about coming to this place. I intended to write immediately on my arrival, but could not send a letter; but if the mail left every hour, it is not certain I could find time to write. You never saw so busy a man as I have been. I am general chaplain of the hospitals, on board the hospital transports, and of all our regiments in Butler's army—am on my feet, running hither and thither, from morning until late at night.

I have been through all the N. H. regts. in this department; there are seven of them. Last night I spent at Gen. Marston's headquarters. We have a very strong position here. Our lines extends across the Peninsula from Point of Rocks to the James. I have been from one end of the line to the other, and have inspected the rebel lines which lie a little way before us. I have been where the bullets whistle and the shells burst. There is skirmishing going on quite frequently—no general engagement.

There has been quite an artillery duel to day, there is occasional firing while I write. I am at the hospital by the river, where I shall remain for the night. Don't be uneasy about me. I never felt a more perfect sense of security in my life.

May 28. I had filled the preceding sheet, when I was informed that the hospital was being vacated and that I could be of service on board the transport. I started immediately. We dropped down the river as far as Bermuda Hundred, where we anchored until the break of morning. We are gliding along rapidly now, with our "freight of human souls," two hundred and fifty sick and wounded men, and shall be at the Fortress by 11 o'clock, where I hope to see letters from home.

I have written to the Sunday School.—The incident related to them has fallen under my eye this week. These days are full of experience. Having the freedom of the Department, I see more in a week than a soldier sees in a long time. There is something going on now. The 1st Army Corps moved yesterday—many think to re-enforce Gen. Grant.

I cannot tell of my future. I may go on to Baltimore for supplies—I may return immediately to the front.

FORTRESS MONROE. We reached here at noon. After getting our disabled boys into the hospital I ran to the Post Office.—How glad I was as the clerk passed out my letters one after another, none can know who have never been from home among strange and trying scenes.

My heart goes out to the bereaved of my flock. God pity and sustain them! How I wish I could be with them. As soon as I can be spared I will come home.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. A. J. Goodrich, a merchant and much respected citizen of Newton, committed suicide by drowning on Wednesday of last week. The day before his death he had returned from Boston, where he had been to purchase a stock of goods for his store. He was quite wealthy, but disappointment in love is said to have brought him to a watery bier, though he was 40 years old.

—— Lieut. William Blaisdell, who was on the staff of Gen. Wm. Blaisdell, formerly Colonel of the Mass. 1st, died in Newton, May 25, at the age of 30 years.

—— A country exchange not of large circulation this week has fourteen items verbatim from the Chronicle; and three others made up from our columns. It gives credit for not a single one.

—— The dwelling-house, saw and grist mill, near Gonic Village, owned by Dodge, Bickford & Co., were destroyed by fire on Tuesday. The mill was insured for $1860. No insurance on the house.

—— A building in Lancaster, owned and occupied by O. E. Freeman as a saw and carding mill, and the shops of Harvey Adams and Monahan & McCartney, with their contents, were destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. Loss $16,000; and no insurance.

—— The work of putting up the line of telegraph over Mount Washington was commenced Wednesday by Col. J. W. Robinson, of Concord, Superintendent of the Boston and White Mountain District of the American Telegraph.

—— The New Hampshire troops behaved nobly in the recent engagements. The 9th, of Burnside's corps, was the only one that entered the rebel entrenchments near Spottsylvania. The 7th repulsed a charge, and fully retrieved the disaster that was forced upon it at Olustee, Fla.

—— Gov. Gilmore's son Edward has been seriously ill in Concord for a few weeks past, and very slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—— The Laconia Democrat states that Col. T. J. Whipple, of that place, has 24 acres of land, on which he raised last year 40 tons of good hay, 434 bushels of potatoes, 123 bushels corn, 24 bushels of wheat, and 10 bushels of beans, besides a large lot of fruit and garden articles.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER!—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 222

THE LIFE AND TIMES
—OF—
Benjamin Franklin,
BY JAMES PARTON,
Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.
Two vols., Crown 8vo, 647 and 707 pages, with Steel Portraits. Cloth, extra, price $5.
In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give the fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to maturer readers,) and to append to these a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.
Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspaper books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be new to all that have not made the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the best subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.
Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1 Franklin's Apprenticeship to Life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the sons of Wm. Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and Labors in Philadelphia
The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.
Also, Ready,
A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols., crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

SPECIAL NOTICE
To Shoe Dealers.
The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 TREMONT ROW, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.
A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.
The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.
J. T. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Celebrated and Exclusive Manufacturers of this,
J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.
This invention consists of a pair (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the tougheest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibilences, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing a Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the Eastern States.

Local.

☞ As a party of soldiers from Fort McClary were crossing the river in a boat on Friday morning, the boat by some means was capsized near Fort Constitution and they were thrown into the water. Some of them swam ashore, and the rest were picked up by a boat, which put out from Fort Constitution, where the accident was observed. One of those rescued, however, was saved in an almost wholly exhausted condition, just as he was going down for the last time. He was taken to the hospital at the Fort and the proper restoratives applied.

THE DRAFT.—The following names were drawn on Friday morning:—

GILFORD—George L Folsom, Frank Osgood, Caleb G Ricuardson, Arthur Tucker, Joseph L Prescott, Urish Collins, Stephen B Coles, Warren D Hise, George H Moulton, David H Mahser, Simon Rowe, Benj M Mitchell, Charles S Wiggin, Rinaldo R Somes, Orrin Weeks, Stephen H Sargent, Ansel Lamprey, Joseph Donovan, Waldo H Jones, Alanson Young, John F Saltmarsh, Jeremiah G Clarke, Henry E Brown, Edwin Malloon, Dudley Gilman, Levi B Smith, Annis G James, Lyman W Gilman, Asa Ladd, Henry Tucker.

OSSIPEE—G W Clark, Francis R B Hobbs, Thomas L Wentworth, George C Whiting, Benj F Bean, Charles W Grant, Charles A Hammond, John S Sceggel, John F Goldsmith.

FAIR.—The Misses of the South Parish will hold a Fair, in aid of the New Hampshire Relief Society, at the Chapel rooms on Court street, on Tuesday evening, June 7. Refreshments will be offered for sale, and the patronage of every friend of the object is respectfully solicited.

Admittance 10 cents. Doors open at 6 1-2 o'clock.

Also on Wednesday afternoon, at half-past two o'clock.

☞ The Journal says: The business men of Portsmouth were somewhat surprised to hear the other day that efforts were being made to remove Mr. Morse from the Post Office, and a strong remonstrance, which about all who have any business at the office signed, was at once forwarded to Washington. It appears that the movement for removal did not originate in this city, but elsewhere, and was based more on political prejudices than on any lack of attention by the incumbent.

☞ Brown & Pike's Dramatic Combination will appear at the Temple to-night, when they will afford our citizens the last opportunity to see the great play of Ten Nights in a Bar Room, dramatized from T. B. Arthur's celebrated story. By reason of engagements elsewhere the company will leave this city on Monday morning next.

☞ Fort Constitution, in Portsmouth Harbor, and all the batteries erected for coast defence in Maine, have been placed under command of A. A. Provost Marshal General Gardiner, of Maine.

☞ We employ about eight "hands" (or pairs of hands) in the mechanical department of the Chronicle; and the absence of four of them (including our foreman) on Friday, obliges us to omit or delay many things this morning.

THE FAIR, by the young ladies of the North Church, at the Court House this week, produced about $400 in aid of the Christian Commission.

☞ About 850 re-enlisted veterans of the 12th Maine Regiment passed through this city on Friday morning, en route for the Gulf Department.

☞ Rev. Mr. Canfield of Concord is to preach at the Universalist Church to-morrow.

☞ The public meetings of Ward 2 will in future be held at the Court House.

THAT HALL AGAIN.—Messrs. Editors: For one I am glad to see that the City Government have undertaken to remodel Jefferson Hall, and I hope it will be transformed from an unsightly and ill-arranged building, into a convenient, and so far as it can be, an ornamental one. Not knowing what plan or plans have been suggested, or contemplated, of course I cannot speak of them;—but I hope that some portion of the front will be taken off, and the same material used to enlarge and modernize it, somewhat like the Rockingham Bank or North Church; and that it will be surmounted by the National Emblem. The size and form of the present Hall suggest that to make it convenient and suitable for City Rooms, it be altered very much like the one at the head of State street, Boston, which was so long used for city purposes in the upper story. In that the entrance was on the side; the Aldermen's room at one end, and the Common Council's at the other, with partitions, doors and passageways between. The seats and desks are with spaces between, and arranged in semi-circular form, and not like ours at the present rooms, which seem more like a billiard table, or extended pigeon stand. It would seem that that the whole necessary alterations of the Hall for City Rooms and Market Stalls might be not only a profitable outlay, but an economical one,—not necessarily costing more than about half what the present City Rooms cost; and the interest on the expense need not be more than one-half what the city now pays for rent. When not in session the Aldermen's Room might be considered and used as the Mayor's, and the Common Council's as the City Clerk's,—a great spread, or a multiplication of rooms being entirely unnecessary. MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.
They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.
The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

STATE CONVENTION.

In another column will be found a list of the Delegates to Baltimore from this State. The following are the Resolutions adopted by the Convention, which was unanimously in favor of the re-nomination of President Lincoln.

Mr. Bell from the Committee on Resolutions, made the following report, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the first great duty of the American people is to suppress the present rebellion, to restore the supremacy of the National Government over our whole territory, and to remove the causes of existing hostilities, in order that we may enjoy secure peace and a permanent Union; and we pledge our support to the Administration in the use of all apt and efficient measures to accomplish these ends.

Resolved, That the honesty of purpose and personal integrity, the love of liberty and devoted patriotism, the reliance upon the people and the desire to attain results without being bound by theories, the common sense, sagacity and practical statesmanship of the President, have endeared him to the hearts and commended him to the confidence of the people; and we declare ABRAHAM LINCOLN to be the first choice of the Union voters of New Hampshire for President of the United States for the ensuing term.

Resolved, That upon the success of our armies in the field, depends the nation's life; and the valor, constancy and sufferings of the soldiers of the Union who have devoted their lives to the service of our common country, demand our warmest gratitude, and we pledge the utmost endeavor on our part to supply their every want and alleviate their every suffering, and to care for and protect the families they have left behind.

At the conclusion of the resolutions, there being no speeches to make, the Convention adjourned.

The Cleaveland Convention met on Tuesday according to its several calls. About three hundred persons were present. Gen. John B. Cochrane of New York, presided. Fourteen States were represented. Resolutions were unanimously adopted favoring the preservation of the Union, and suppression of the rebellion by force of arms, the abolition of slavery by Constitutional amendment, the sanctity of free speech, press, and the habeas corpus, condemning violations of the right of asylum, and re-asserting the Monroe doctrine. The platform also includes the one term policy for the Presidency, and the confiscation of rebel property. General John C. Fremont was nominated for the Presidency by acclamation, and General Cochrane was nominated for Vice President.

THE TEN-FORTY-LOAN.—The rapid absorption of this loan by the public shows conclusively the feeling of our shrewdest people regarding the soundness of our Government, and not only shows this, but, also, that they will, by the investment of their funds in its securities, make it sound. These bonds are not only sought by the monied, but by those of small means who wish to secure, in permanent funds, the little they possess. There is in all of this an expression of confidence that argues the best for our nation.

In Common Council Thursday evening Councilman Billings of Ward 2 resigned his seat, having removed from the city.

A resolution was passed instructing the committee on City Lands & Buildings to enquire for what purposes the alterations in Jefferson Hall were being made, by what authority and under what appropriation.

Among the New England contributions to the recent Fair in Maryland for the benefit of the Christian and Sanitary Commissions, the Baltimore American acknowledges a box of fancy articles, and $38 50 cts. from Portsmouth, N. H.

Morning Chronicle.

The mode of conducting elections among the Passamaquoddy Indians is somewhat pecular. The voters in the tribe on election day assemble outside of the hall in which are the candidates, each standing in a corner of the room, and never more than four candidates are allowed, because there are four corners to the room. A guard is placed at the door, and voters are admitted only one at a time. He enters the hall, goes up to the candidate of his choice, and says, "I vote for Sockalexis," or whatever the name may be, and then takes off his cap and drops it at the candidate's feet, shakes hands with the candidate, and then retires. After all have been admitted, the caps are counted, and the candidate that has the greatest number of caps is declared elected.

When Mrs. Grant left Washington for her Western home she remained a short time in New York at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Several gentlemen called upon her, and in the course of the conversation congratulated her on the elevation of her husband, and expressed a hope that he would be successful in this campaign. Her whole manner, quiet, dignified and reserved, seemed to express surprise that any one could doubt his success. Pausing a moment she replied: "I have no doubt but the General will succeed, for he is very obstinate man." This remark ended the conversation.

— Gen. Butler must now look out for his "carcass," for if we are to believe the Peterburg Express, Beauregard is preparing to make mince meat of him.

— Hon. Anson Burlingame once made a speech in front of Tremont Temple, in the course of which he spoke of Banker Hill Monument as "that tall, gray shaft on Bunker's Height." The compositor made it read that tall gray shop, &c.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, it at many diseases hitherto considered incurable only incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—we Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanency, and think the diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-poised scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. The proper treatment is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, whether it be inherited, or DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis,

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Sores, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerous, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Neuralgia.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling the with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced—Lame, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years with bleak despair, have perused these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing to restoration and a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Blue Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken at the first swelling developed, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the human family, and are community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depend upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

AFFLICTED FEMALES suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the Limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration, are speedily and permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup has cured in numerous instances. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed in a short time. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling in other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Lupus, Epithelia, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any some pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Dread of Consumption, Night Sweats, Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languishing of the Mind, are speedily restored to the old of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Cutaneous Diseases, either of the Face, Neck, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the lady, and should be removed. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which gives so much annoyance to the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an aversion to exertion, Constitution Life Syrup, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivaled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from Diseases peculiar to their sex and they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature's great remedy is made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES

It is the aimed and most essential medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the sufferer attending the period of pregnancy, strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the milk—a medicine that we think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to his

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those who contemplate remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing the advantage of over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The nearer the smoke-pipe is lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in this.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned as by the operation of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, including the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Gray's Patent
Molded Collars

Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting collars extant.

The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles noticed in all other collars.

The cravat causes no puckers on the inside of the turned-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH INSIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.

The Gerrote Collar has a smooth and evenly finished edge on both sides.

These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND SHAPED TO FIT THE NECK.

They are made in "Novelty" (or turn-down) style, in every half size from 12 to 17 inches, and in "Eureka" (Garrote, from 13 to 17 inches; and packed in "solid sizes" in neat blue stone, containing 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.

☞ EVERY COLLAR is stamped

"Gray's Patent Molded Collar."

Sold by all dealers in Men's Furnishing Goods and Umbrellas.

"HELP THE BRAVE!"

BY DANIEL A. DROWN.

Patriots! hear the voice that calleth
From the blood-stained fields of war,
Where heroic manhood falleth,
Worshipping bright Freedom's star;
Heed their pleadings, though unspoken,
Who would now the UNION save,
Though their valiant ranks are broken
In the strife. Come, help the brave!

Hear the echoing peals that rumble
O'er the valleys and the plains,
While the brazen tongues now humble
Rebels cursed by cruel gains.
See! our vet'ran corps ne'er linger,
Though before is many a grave,
Where skill points her magic finger
Men press on. Come, help the brave!

Thousands 'mid the smoke of battle
Fall as martyrs tried and brave,
Shouting, while the thunders rattle,
"Ne'er give up—the UNION save!"
Maimed and helpless see our wounded
Uncomplaining, calmly die,
While the bugle never sounded
A retreat, but victory!

Noble sons of worthy sires!
Who could fear nor sword nor flame;
In their breasts the sacred fires
Gathered strength and burned the same.
We will honor their devotion—
Sacred shall be every grave,
While our hearts, with deep emotion,
Join the call, Come, help the brave!

On the couch of pain and fever
Valiant men are needing aid,
But their earnest wishes shall never
Be denied, till life shall fade.
Loving hearts they left behind them—
Dearest treasures of this life—
Willing duty o'er should find them
Where the fiercest was the strife.

Names and deeds like theirs shall ever
Live in every patriot's heart,
And the boon of FREEDOM never
From the nation shall depart.
Heroes of a noble calling,
Precious shall be every grave,
And while loyal sons are falling,
Still we cry, COME, HELP THE BRAVE!

FATHER, THOU whose eye beholdeth
Scenes of this eventful hour,
While the vision fast unfoldeth,
Be to us our shield and tower.
Let peace smile o'er hill and valley,
Purchased by our honored brave!
But till then, while thousands rally,
Still we pray, OUR COUNTRY SAVE.

Portsmouth, May 27, 1864.

OUR SICK AND WOUNDED.

Think! they went forth from us stalwart and strong,
To the cheer of the bugle, the stir of the drum;
New—who shall picture the hospital throng?
Art is palsied, and eloquence dumb!

Valor brought from the hard fought field,
Patience learned of prolonged disease,
Silent anguish and pain concealed,—
O what shall we do for heroes like these?

We whose places may not be found
Up and down in those pitiful ranks:
Who fill no cup on the battle-ground
For lips too lifeless to smile their thanks!
What shall we do for them? We have Wealth
And Plenty, growing in quiet and ease;
Still that is better, and cheerful Health
Whose cup of labor is clear of lees.

What shall we do? Let us one and all
Bring the gain of our toil, the fruit of our rest
For those who answered their country's call,
And out of God's bounty gave their best!

—Boston Transcript.

THE 'HEIR APPARENT.'—From the Gardiner, Me., Home Journal we get the following bit of intelligence: "Young Robert Lincoln, accompanied by several friends, visited our city last week and will probably remain through the summer. He dresses in the most immaculate white and black, and is a great vocalist. He is fond of the birds and trees, and almost every day his voice may be heard as he trolls some ditty to his admiring friends."—Portland Adv.

That's very good for Bob-o-Link; but at other chap, the "Heir Apparent" does not sing much.

☞ The news from Mexico continues to be very contradictory. The N. Y. Herald's correspondent says the Juarez Government has been perfectly established at Monterey. The Liberals, more than 40,000 strong, are preparing to march on Potosi. The French and Imperialists had been completely routed at Jounta; there was great enthusiasm for the National cause.

— Egypt is being developed very rapidly. Not only are the cities of Alexandria and Cairo receiving a great influx of inhabitants, but the inland towns and vallages are overrun, and factories, with high chimneys and long lines of black smoke, cut the clear sky of the flat landscape through the length and breadth of Lower Egypt.

— The process of embalming the dead of Washington has become so cheap and so many have entered into the business that much rivalry and contention is engendered.

— They tell the story of a delegate to the Democratic Convention in Portland the other day, who tried to light his pipe with a tooth pick at a hotel.

Buy one and try it—if not perfectly satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days he son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

French Roll Pans.

A further supply just received by the subscriber. Persons who have been waiting so long for them, can now be supplied.

These pans are greatly in demand for baking the New Bread, about which so much stir is being made.

This bread is the most economical and healthful ever made, and is very palatable when properly prepared; but much depends upon the manner in which it is baked—and the peculiar form of these pans is just what is required for the purpose.

The Roll Pans are very useful also for baking corn cakes, drop cakes, muffins, gingerbread or anything requiring a quick and light bake.

Every housekeeper should have one.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from persons, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Sherman reports that on Wednesday, June 1st, McPherson moved up from Dallas to a point in front of the enemy at New Hope Church. On Thursday, Schofield and Hooker having been shifted to the extreme left, pushed forward to Marietta. At the same time Stoneman's and Garrard's cavalry were sent to Altoona Pass, which they reached and held possession of. These movements have secured that Pass, which was considered an important one. Other important movements were in progress.

The 17th Army Corps, recently assigned to Gen. Frank Blair, has been thoroughly re-organized and strengthened, and left Huntsville, Ala., May 23, to join Gen. Sherman's army. The corps is largely composed of re-enlisted veterans, who have seen hard service under their old commander, McPherson.

Forrest is reported to be at Corinth, preparing for a raid on Gen. Sherman's rear, but many of his men are deserting.

Gen. Banks' army is reported to be at Morganzia, 200 miles up the Mississippi.—A portion of the troops under Gen. Smith, have gone to Georgia, and Gen. Canby will go as soon as possible to the assistance of Gen. Steele at Little Rock, Ark.

Carleton reports that Gen. "Baldy" Smith with a division from Gen. Butler's army, joined the 6th corps at Cold Harbor on the 1st; and that the number of prisoners taken by us during the day was nearly 1000.

Gen. Grant reports that no operations occurred on Thursday. On Friday morning at half-past 4 o'clock he attacked the enemy's line and drove them into their entrenchments, but without gaining any decisive advantage. Our losses were large,—estimated at 3000 killed and wounded.—We took over 300 prisoners, mostly from Breckinridge. Probably our loss exceeded that of the enemy. Our army remained close to the enemy,—at some points within 50 yards.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

Passengers from White House report that on Thursday great clouds of smoke could be seen rising in the direction of Richmond, and it was believed at White House that a disastrous conflagration was in progress at the rebel capital. Rebel prisoners at White House speak discouragingly of their cause, and say they have no doubt Gen. Grant will be able to capture Richmond, but that he will have to walk over a great many dead bodies to do it. On Friday the report at White House was that our army held the railroad at Savage's Station, a part of our forces having crossed the Chickahominy above that place. Prisoners who have arrived at White House say Lee has been taken sick and gone back to Richmond, leaving the rebel army under command of Gen. Ewell. 800 rebel prisoners have already reached White House, and others are on their way down. A correspondent, writing later, says: "I have just conversed with an officer who left the White House on Friday, at 4 P. M. He says that our army had crossed the Chickahominy at Mechanicsville successfully. We have been driving the rebels before us ever since Wednesday, and have inflicted very severe losses upon them. Some few have got thro' to the works on the northeast side of Richmond. Gen. Grant has succeeded in carrying out the splendid plan of driving the main body of the rebel army down to the swamps, where he is confident of destroying their whole army. The siege of Richmond proper will then, probably, be commenced. Gen. Grant will use both the York and James rivers, and have Gen. Butler to cooperate. The resistance of the rebels is growing weaker at every point at which they are attacked. Our army is in excellent condition and good spirits."

Nothing official from any quarter has been received up to 10 o'clock to-day—Sunday.

THE FLORIDA.—The British pirate Florida is believed to be on the coast north of our blockading squadron, where she will not be likely to encounter any opposition. Our coasting trade at this season is very valuable, as thousands of vessels are engaged in the coal trade alone, the derangement of which would entail a heavy tax upon the whole community by the enhanced price of coal. The Boston Traveller asks—Why does not the Navy Department buy or charter suitable vessels from the merchant service, and at once arm and send them to sea to protect our shipping? Something ought to be done without delay. People not interested in shipping can form but a faint idea of the deep indignation which our merchants feel against the British pirates, and their mortification at the failure of our Government to destroy them.

— The Superintendent of Government Railroads has arrived at White House with locomotives and cars.

CHIPS—HEWN AND GATHERED.

— Boston uses over one hundred and fifty million pounds of ice per annum.

— Ohio has furnished 291,952 men during the present war.

— A grandson of Gen. Harriman is a Colonel in Gen. Hooker's army.

— Garibaldi has sent his dagger, proverbial in Italy, to the Philadelphia Fair.

— There are now 456 paymasters in the army.

— Fort Darling, it is said, mounts 50 guns.

— By the roads our Army on Tuesday was about 12 miles from Richmond.

— Maj. Gen. Carl Schurz has been placed in command of the convalescent barracks at Nashville.

— The rebels say that 97,000 prisoners have been in Libby prison since the war began.

— A blithe young man thinks that kisses between two ladies must be like lemonade with the lemon left out.

— Down in New Jersey, instead of saying "a false alarm of fire," as we, they say, "a still alarm."

— The Pennsylvania Reserves fought nobly and successfully on Monday, though their term of service expired on that day.

— Gentlemen in Boston must now pay $4. per week for their board (only) and ladies $3.50.

— The rebels have iron-clads, torpedo-rafts and other infernal machines, to send down the James river against our gunboats.

— The steam engines of England do the work of eighty millions of horses and four hundred millions of men.

— It is said in a recent history of the British mails by Mr. Lewins, that the great majority of complaints at the post office are made by clergymen.

— A negro, "the enviable possessor of a shock of fiery red hair," has made a sensation by his appearance in the streets of Portland.

— They say that the wife of a New Jersey soldier, named Brown, heard in the morning that her husband had been killed in battle, and was married again before bed-time that night.

— W. H. Morris and John Brown were convicted at St. Louis, May 25, of having participated in the Lawrence massacre, and were shot the same evening. Justice was tardy but sure.

— Four young ladies of Lansingburg, N. Y., recently inhaled chloroform by way of amusement. One of them remained insensible for a long time, and is yet in a critical condition.

— Young Davis, of Lynn, who murdered Mr. Breed, the grocer, to rob his money-drawer for holiday change, has pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and has been sentenced to the State Prison for twenty years.

— "Carleton" pronounces Monday's fight with Ewell's as a whole, one of the most satisfactory days' work of the campaign. The desperate attempt to turn our left was an utter failure.

— A sick man in Litchfield, Conn., was left on Monday night in care of a single watcher, who was seized with an attack of delirium tremens, and in his frenzy assaulted the helpless invalid and beat him to death.

— Gen. Butler has ordered that all the rebel prisoners recently sent to Point Lookout shall be returned to him. It is said that all the colored troops captured from Gen. Wild's command have been shot by the rebels.

— Mr. Caleb Hodgson, Mayor of Carlisle, England, being asked for some aid to the tercentenary celebration, refused, saying: "Shakespeare was a clever man, but he might have turned his talents to better advantage."

— It is thought that the next great battle will be on the line of the rebel defences on the Chickahominy, and that it will decide whether the city can be carried by a coup de main, or whether it is destined to become the object of a summer's siege.

— The U. S. Senate, on Friday, passed a bill to prevent counterfeiting the coin of United States. Probably there will not be many attempts at it just at present. A man who tried to pass the genuine even would be recommended to apply for board at an Insane Asylum.

— Nine schooners and sloops took part in the regatta of the New York Yacht Club on Friday. The distance was 40 miles, and the first prize was taken by the sloop Annie time—3 hours, 59 minutes, 20 seconds.—The schoner Maggie was second: time—4 hours, 7 minutes, 1 second.

— Fitz Hugh Lee thought he had cut off Gen. Sheridan's retreat during the latter's great raid, and sent word to Jeff. Davis and Bragg to ride out and see the sport of capturing the Yankees. They did ride out, but quickly rode back again, for they found the rebel cavalry making for the defences on the double quick, with our troops in pursuit of them.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY.—The Standing Committees were announced in both Houses. In the Senate, Mr. Hatch is Chairman of those on State Institutions, and Roads, Bridges and Canals; and a member of those on Military Affairs, and Education. The Portsmouth members of the House are thus assigned:—Judiciary, Hackett; Banks, Tucker; State Prison, Walker, Chairman; Insane Asylum, Hill and Odiorne; Finance, Haven; Incorporations, Hatch and Wendell; Roads, etc., Moran; Retrenchment and Reform, Yeaton. Coleman of Newington is on the Committee on the Division of Towns; and Weeks of Greenland on the committee on Insane Asylum.

A bill was introduced levying a tax upon certain corporations—1 1-6 per cent. on excess of market value of stock, above the taxed value in towns where located. A preamble and resolutions were introduced and referred to a special committee, recommending the passage of the anti-slavery amendment to the U. S. Constitution, now before Congress. The Committee on the Judiciary were instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the act creating a board of County School Commissioners, and to suggest a substitute. Mr. Haven, of Portsmouth, gave notice of a bill in relation to the taxation of deposits in Savings Banks.

A message was received from the Governor, transmitting the memorial of the city of Concord, proposing to alter the State House on plan submitted, or appropriating $100,000 for altering it on any other plan; and also a memorial of the city of Manchester, proposing to build a State House at a cost not exceeding $500,000, whenever the State may locate it in the city of Manchester.

A NEW LIFE OF FRANKLIN.—Our readers (says the Boston Transcript) need not be informed as to what our opinion is of Biography as a branch of popular literature; the elaborate and careful reviews of books of this class, which have appeared in our columns, is the best proof of the interest and importance we attach thereto; and if, in the whole range of characters, hallowed by wisdom and virtue, we should select one which it is useful and desirable to revive to the popular mind and heart, today, it would be Benjamin Franklin, the Boston Boy, the Philadelphia printer, the American patriot, man of science, diplomatist, economist, philosopher, and national benefactor. Never since he died has there been a time when his precepts and example had a wider significance, or his memory a more salutary charm. As to the story of his life the world knows it by heart, in outline and spirit; or rather it knows intimately an episode of his childhood and youth which he himself recorded—the most naive and memorable of autobiographies.

The world, too, knows, as a matter of history, Franklin's scientific triumphs and official career; but there are thousands of details linking together the varied epochs of that wonderful life; there are minor but characteristic facts, domestic and personal, as well as political, which serve to harmonize the career of Franklin, to complete and vitalize the idea of his character.—Sparks has admirably brought together the historical evidence, the correspondence, the documentary memoirs, and many an able critic has eliminated therefrom a portrait of the man full of impressive consistency and individual charm; but neither nor all of these exponents furnish a complete, consecutive and satisfactory narrative, describing Benjamin Franklin's life from the cradle to the grave. This is the task which James Parton prescribed to himself, and of which these two goodly crown octavos are the published evidence. His labor has been one of exemplary patience and love. He has given us a full, fluent and most interesting life of Franklin—seasonable, authentic, thorough.

We are not disposed to make any criticism or suggestions such as a study of the subject inspires, because whatever flaws minute examination may detect, as a whole, and in view of its general scope, character and execution, we can heartily welcome the work as an opportune, valuable and attractive addition to our National Biographical Literature. It is marked by much research; it has some novel additions to the old stock of anecdotes; it goes into frequent and curious details; it overflows with a national flavor and is identified with national life; it is rich in practical lessons for the hour; and it brings home to the intelligence and affections the wise, intrepid, patriotic, philosophical, prudent man, who, as Poor Richard, as the Discoverer of Electrical Laws, as the advocate and defender of his country, as inventor, ambassador, author, mechanic, statesman, citizen, man, is the nearest to average humanity as an example, guide, and practical hero. Mason & Brothers have brought out the work at a time and in a manner which will insure its wide and cordial reception.

— In England one person in 1,307 is blind; in Ireland one in 643.

— $100,000, the full sum, has been received by Hon. Edward Everett, for the relief of the sufferers of East Tennessee.

NATIONAL BANK IN EXETER.—A meeting was holden last Thursday evening of subscribers to the amount of $50,000 to establish a National Bank in Exeter, and an organization was effected by the election of Woodbridge Odlin, Joshua Getchell, Luke Julian, and Henry C. Moses, of Exeter, and George E. Lawrence, of Epping, as Directors, and Charles E. Lane, of Exeter, as Clerk.

THE LIFE AND TIMES

OF

Benjamin Franklin,

BY JAMES PARTON,

Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.

Two vols., Crown 8vo, 697 and 707 pages, with Steel Portraits. Cloth, extra, price $5.

In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give the fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to mature readers,) and to append to these a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.

Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be new to all that have not made the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the best subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.

Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1 Franklin's Apprenticeship to Life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the sons of Wm. Penn. 4. Sixteen years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and Last one in Philadelphia.

The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.

Also, Ready,

A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols., crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of Ladies' Boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 83 Tremont Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the United States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods.

The Duplex Ellipticㄱ (or Double) Steel Spring.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of this

J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded places, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Mechanics can be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different States.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PRYSIOLOGICAL HAIR RESTORATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," it will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes scurf, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HAIR" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

CITY ROOMS.—Jefferson Hall will soon lose the name it has borne for over sixty years. It is being altered into rooms for the occupancy of the City Council. An expenditure of $1200 is being made for this purpose, thus making the rent $75 dollars a year, instead of between $400 and $500 now paid. The expenditure of a few hundred more for a good cornice, (like that of the Rockingham Bank,) on the front, and sides, would make the structure an ornament instead of an eye sore to every person of taste.—Journal.

The Board of Aldermen are remodelling Jefferson Hall into rooms for city officers. This project was rejected by the Common Council, but the Aldermen have taken the matter into their own hands and will go on and make the expenditure without any appropriation for that purpose. It is easy to perceive what effect such proceedings will have upon the credit of the city in times when its bonds are no higher than they should be in the market. The real object of the operations is to compel the earlier building of a City Hall by depriving the public of the use of Jefferson Hall. The new rooms will not be much more convenient than those now occupied by the city, though the rental will of course be far greater.—Cor Ballot.

We are requested by the owner of the premises, to state that the rent of the City Rooms is $200 per year and the taxes—not $400 or $500 as given in the Journal.

☞ We understand that Conductor J. C. Langley, of this city, has recently sold his beautiful roan stallion to Hon. Jas. H. Butler, for Mr. Richmond Smith and other parties in Concord—the price being the round sum of one thousand dollars ($1000). The animal is well worth the money—being a proved stock horse, of good size and high blood, at once a great roadster and quick trotter, and a pleasant and reliable family beast, and withal very handsome.—Take him all round, he is a hard one to beat.

☞ The ship of the line New Hampshire, will leave the Portsmouth Navy Yard for Port Royal to-day (Monday) and is to be towed to sea by the screw steamer Albatross. The N. H. is quite a respectable looking craft, and good judges assert that she will do some pretty fast sailing but we "don't see it."

☞ James Depuis, a sailor, of this city, died suddenly in Newport, R. I., on Thursday last. He was about 45 years old, and leaves a wife and family.

☞ The sale in London of the ship Coronation, built in Portsmouth, in 1863, is reported.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Annual Convention of the N. H. Unitarian Association is to be held in Nashua on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15th and 16th. The exercises of the Convention will be as follows: Wednesday, 11 A. M., Business Meeting; 2 1-2 P. M., meeting for the discussion of the question—"What is the present tendency of religious inquiry, and the relation of Unitarianism thereto?" 7 1-2 P. M., sermon by Rev. W. O. White, of Keene. Thursday—8 A. M., Prayer and Conference Meeting; 10 A. M., meeting for the discussion of question—"What are the grounds on which to base our hopes of a more cordial union among Christians of every name?"

—— A complimentary supper to Gov. Andrew and Staff was given at the Phenix Hotel, Concord, on Thursday evening.—Gov. Gilmore presided, and speeches were made by Judge Perley, Gov. Andrew, Maj. Burt, of Gov. Andrew's Staff, Hon. Amos Tuck, Hon. N. B. Bryant, and others.

—— A very interesting revival has for some time been in progress at Francestown. The students of the Academy have shared largely in the work. Also in New Boston there is great excitement and many conversions.

—— A list of Unionists who have died in the rebel prisons at Columbus, Ga., from Feb. 27 to Mar. 31, includes the names of Sergt. John G. Ames, and E. S. Allen, of the 2d N. H. regiment.

—— As Mr. M. S. Hunt was at work in the Amoskeag Gun Shop, Manchester, one evening last week, a piece of steel flew into his right eye, completely destroying it.

—— We have received the Statesman Political Manual for 1864, which is too well known and appreciated by all the politicians in the State to require recommendations.

—— Mr. F. G. Stark, Hospital Steward of the 2nd N. H. regiment, writes that a large number of the men were down sick with the diarrhea.

—— Representatives H. B. Harriman, of Warren, and William J. Smith, of Brookline, have been drafted.

—— Gen. Neal Dow spoke in Dover on Tuesday evening, on his experience in the War, by invitation of the City Council.

—— Rev. Francis E. Abbott, of Beverly, Mass., has accepted a call from the Unitarian Society in Dover.

One ought every day at least to hear a little song, read a good poem, see a fine picture, and, if it be possible, to speak a reasonable words.—Goethe.

☞ The Legislative Caucus of the Union party in the House of Representatives has permanently organized, we notice, by the choice of the following members as officers: Charles H. Campbell, of Amherst, President; Geo. W. Burleigh, of Sounersworth, and Oliver P. Hubbard, of Hanover, Vice Presidents; Wm. H. Hackett of Portsmouth, and E. S. Stearns, of Rindge, Secretaries. The first candidate nominated by the Caucus was Speaker Chandler, by acclamation, and the party elected him in the House! The second candidate (Sam'l D. Lord) for Clerk was defeated by a coalition of Democrats and dissatisfied Republicans in the House of Representatives.—From this we may infer that a caucus nomination is not equivalent to an election, and that after a candidate for Senator gets the caucus vote of the Union party, by the aid of the Democrats he may be defeated.—Politics are mighty uncertain.

☞ Our old friend the editor of the Ballot has actually got to talking horse.—He says of a certain stallion—that he "is a very handsome horse, of the good Morrill blood, and has all the points of beauty as well as for speed. By invitation of the owner, we took a short ride behind him, but in the wet condition of the roads he threw mud so fast that we could not see our watch to time his performance. We are satisfied, however, that he can go a mile considerably inside of three minutes, and that no better stock horse can be found in this vicinity." Pretty well for a beginner—but look out, Thomas, how you mount the high horse of equine criticism, or 'you may get thrown. That is almost as unsafe a beast as the stalking horse of politics.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FAIR.—The Misses of the South Parish will hold a Fair, in aid of the New Hampshire Relief Society, at the Chapel rooms on Court street, on Tuesday evening, June 7. Refreshments will be offered for sale, and the patronage of every friend of the object is respectfully solicited.

☞ Mr. Joy's evening Singing School for Ladies and Gentlemen, is held at Mercantile Hall, on Tuesday evenings.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER!—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 222

To every barrel of Flour you can make thirty pounds more Bread or Biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, than by yeast fermentation or any other Saleratus.—It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs, and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of great alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote to the disease Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immeasurable service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not.—When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtue of Sarsaparilla.—For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the Agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Gentler Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly,—and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Rinsher, W. H. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists, m25eoltaw 3w Tu

CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of pronouncing a perfect and permanent cure of diseases that never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA, GLEET, OR WHITES.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœal Ulcers, pains and aches in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms standing this unknown disease, made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the best and kind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Pimples on the face, Emissions, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous irritation and fickle society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contracting matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be boarded with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best preventives. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!
What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.
Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.
During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as never been at every other one side of the seas, to have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,
A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.
Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.
It is universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.
Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Wright at Stom's, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bowel Complaint.

Scrofula.
Strumous, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.
This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.
Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.
If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.
Nervous Debility, Sympathies of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.
Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.
Salivation, Fastening of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.
Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the bad breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like
ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.
And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the external appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,
Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken when the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the unfortunate victims, to the consequent, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.
All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with intense pain, and the obstruction of the uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup invariably cures. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.
Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves producing a grating or blowing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.
Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Disease, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Dropsy of Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languishing of the Mind, are speedily cured by the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Throat, Nose, Tongue, Stomach, Bowels or Skin, no remedy has ever proved its equal.
MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young with a view to marry. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which so disfigures the face.
In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an aggravated or chronic form of Liver Complaint, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.
Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and limbs, give them new energy, new life and happiness.
THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same disease. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.
PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is impaired in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within reach of all.
TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.
It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the blood—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.
Constitution Life Syrup
Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.
The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large outer Reservoir for the oven; also a place in the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. A difficulty, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the case can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of the dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Fresh Cracked Wheat
Or Wheat Grosts, Graham Flour or Wheat Meal, and Buckwheat Flour, for sale by ap9 LAFAYETTE LAIGHTON.

Gray's Patent
Molded Collars
Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting collars extant.
The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles noticed in all other collars.
The cravat causes no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH INSIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.
The Garotte Collar has a smooth and evenly finished edge on both sides.
These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND SHAPED TO FIT THE NECK.
They are made in "Novelty" (or turn-down) style, in every half size from 12 to 17 inches, and in "Garotte" (Gazette), from 13 to 17 inches; and packed in "solid sizes" in neat blue cartons, containing 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.
☞ EVERY COLLAR is stamped
"Gray's Patent Molded Collar."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American and foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more is REQUISITE TO SUCCESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of Specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, with full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDM'D BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of them was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Please Look at This.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swayne's Compound, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. I have no other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were affected, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not been troubled since from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWAYNE: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly night and labor by day. I cheerfully recommend one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 1 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may28

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in the city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

French Roll Pans.

A further supply just received by the subscriber. Persons who have been waiting so long for them, can now be supplied.

These pans are greatly in demand for baking the New Bread, about which so much stir is being made.

This bread is the most economical and healthful ever made, and is very palatable when properly prepared; but much depends upon the manner in which it is baked—and the peculiar form of these pans is just what is required for the purpose.

The Roll Pans are very useful also for baking corn cakes, drop cakes, muffins, gingerbread or anything requiring a quick and light bake.

Every housekeeper should have one.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!

This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a great improvement on all things in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.

They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Accompanying testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.

The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of its being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement, for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding, for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!

These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Gen. Sherman, 4th, 8 P. M., 13 miles west of Marietta, states that his left was then well around, covering all the roads from the South to the railroad about Ackworth. His cavalry had been in Ackworth, and occupies Altoona Pass in force. Other accounts state that, May 25, there was a sharp and bloody fight between Hooker's corps and the rebel Gen. Hood's command, near Dallas. Its results to our troops were the gain of two miles of ground, a favorable position, two pieces of artillery, and a better arrangement of our line for subsequent operations. Our loss was 1500. On the 27th there was a severe fight on the left; on the 28th there was heavy picket firing; on the 29th the rebels made a night attack, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

A dispatch from Gen. Sherman, Sunday, 3.50 P. M., at Altoona Creek, states that "the enemy, discovering us moving round on his right flank, abandoned his position on Saturday night and marched off. Gen. McPherson was moving for Ackworth.—Gen. Thomas was on the direct Marietta road, and Gen. Schofield on his right. It had been raining hard for three days and the roads were heavy. An examination of the enemy's abandoned works at Altoona show an immense line of works, which Gen. Sherman turned with less loss to ourselves than we have inflicted upon them. The army supplies of forage and provisions are ample."

Gen. Canby on the 3d was actively engaged organizing his forces, and was nearly ready for offensive movements.

The reported attack on our gunboats in James River is undoubtedly a hoax, as Admiral Lee in his dispatches mentions nothing of the kind.

A rebel major is said to have come into Gen. Butler's lines at Bermuda Hundred on Friday, bringing a report that the Federal forces are at Secessionville, and threaten Charleston. The commander there has telegraphed the rebel authorities for reinforcements, saying that unless he receives them immediately Charleston is lost.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Grant reports that the enemy suddenly attacked Smith's brigade of Gibbons' division on Friday afternoon, and after a furious battle for half an hour, were repulsed, with slight loss on our side. The same evening a portion of our cavalry fell on the rear of a brigade which Lee had thrown around to his left, apparently with the intention of enveloping Burnside, and after a short but sharp conflict drove them from their rifle pits in confusion. The same troops had previously fought and routed Gordon's brigade of rebel cavalry. Our entire loss during the three days' operations around Cold Harbor, will not exceed 7500. Col. Cesanola with 5000 men joined the army on Friday.

We have dispatches from Gen. Grant to 6 o'clock, P. M., Sunday. On Saturday morning the rebels attacked Gens. Hancock, Wright and Smith, but were everywhere repulsed. Gen. Hancock's lines are within forty yards of the rebel works. The rebels were very busy Saturday constructing entrenchments on the west side of the Chickahominy at Bottom's Bridge, and toward evening threw a party across to the east side.

— The Navy Department is in want of Acting Ensigns. Applicants must have seen eight years of sea service, and be between the ages of 25 and 35 years.

— The Baltimore Convention meets today—Tuesday. It is thought it will accomplish its work and adjourn on Wednesday afternoon.

— Gen. Grant's army is above the swamps, and in a much healthier position than was Gen. McClellan, if a summer campaign becomes necessary before Richmond.

— A fire on the night of May 27th destroyed eight large river steamers and several sail craft at the levee at New Orleans. Loss $200,000. The levee was considerably injured.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

The experience of the world proves that it is much harder to keep money than to get it—and also, that while it requires a pretty smart man to make money at all, even with hard work; the man who can make a good living, and more, too, without working at all, will generally be set down as the smartest of say. Further, a "live" man, or woman, no matter what their circumstances or condition, will always find more work (or play) on their hands than they can do—and will die with the harness of activity on. Well, better thus than to rust out—so at least "they say," whose actions, or rather want of action, proves that they prefer the rusting process; while some of the workers, this "jotter" among them, would like a large salary for doing nothing for a while.

We once heard a man say, when a friend offered to teach him something new—that he didn't want to know how to do any more things, for if he did, he should be still busier than he was already. So we, among our duties to ourself, our patrons and the State, the past week—in the absence, too, for a few days, of fully one-half our workmen—have found so many imperative calls on our time as to be absolutely unable, until this late day, to put on record what we saw and heard on 'Lection Day at Concord.

The ride up direct, Wednesday, in Conductor Langley's early morning train, was much more agreeable and far less tiresome than when an hour must be worn away at Manchester. The morning arrangements on the C. & P. Road now most needs be satisfactory to all concerned, we should suppose. On this occasion the weather was "perfect," and nature at her loveliest,—and with agreeable company aboard the train, the rifle could not fail of being pleasant.

The Horse Guards' annual drill, preparatory to parade, was held Wednesday afternoon, at the camp or fair ground, across the river. They were not out in full numbers—many being away in the army or elsewhere—but they never performed better, and their parade next day was the best, if not the largest yet.

We need not, at this late hour, give much report of the ceremonies of Election. We have already made brief mention of the whole, and given Governor Gilmore's excellent address to our readers in full, as we regard it as one of the best State papers we have had for years, and worthy the careful reading of every citizen, and so of occupying so much of our crowded columns. This same jotting pen, four or five years ago, was the very first, so far as we know, to nominate Mr. Gilmore for the office he has so honorably and creditably filled; and we have never yet seen reason to regret it—nor have the people, as shown by their last vote.

The display on parade was, perhaps, superior to anything ever before made on a similar occasion. Many distinguished guests from abroad were present, including Gov. Andrew and staff of Massachusetts, Maj. Whiston of the First Mass. infantry, and Ex-Speaker Goodwin of Lowell. Col. Henry O. Kent commanded the Horse Guards, with Capt. Gilman of Nashua as Acting Lieut. Colonel, (A. B. Hatch, Esq., the newly elected Lieut. Colonel not being in attendance). Col. Kent's staff consisted of Surgeon Gage and Judge Advocate Marshall, of Concord, Chaplains Eames of Concord and Burroughs of Portsmouth, the Quartermaster, and Paymaster Miller of Portsmouth. [And no event of the day was more agreeable to the officers and members of the Guards, and the public generally, than the attendance, on horse-back, of the venerable and venerated Rev. Dr. Burroughs, who, in thus filling so acceptably and creditably the office to which he was elected, puts to the blush many a younger man (younger in years, as the world calls it—but such hearts as his never grow "old,") who shirk all such responsibilities to the public. The dear old gentleman's majestic form and courtly carriage, with his cocked hat and dress belt and sword, was more worthy admiration, and more admired too, than any of the younger knights—though he was not half so well mounted as his courage, public spirit and fine horsemanship merited].

Hall's Band, of Boston, furnished most acceptable and inspiriting music, as usual. Capt. Webster of Concord commanded Company A; Lieut. Barry of Nashua Company B: and Lieut. M. Eldredge of Portsmouth Company C.

An elegant open carriage, drawn by six dark horses, contained Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore, Governor elect, Gov. Andrew of Massachusetts, and Ex-Governors Goodwin and Berry of New Hampshire—flanked on either hand by Governor Gilmore's staff, consisting of General Natt Head and Colonels Martin, Hutchins, George, Walker, Hubbard, Wright, Burleigh, Messer and Gage, richly uniformed and splendidly mounted on grey horses; and Governor Andrew's staff, as mentioned.

Elegant open carriages containing Ex-Governors Colby and Haile, members of the Executive Council; Hon. Charles H. Bell, President of the Senate; Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, Speaker of the House, together with distinguished strangers from abroad.

The Concord Lancers, Capt. P. Underhill; Manchester Cadets, Capt. Charles H. Straw; Belknap Zouaves, of Laconia, Capt. Willis Lane. The last three companies were wholly composed of boys, and their martial appearance elicited many encomiums: a drum corps attended each company.

"The cortege did not include as many military bodies as the escorts of some previous years, but at the same time was highly imposing and beautiful. Its passage through various streets of the city was a continued and enthusiastic ovation. Flags waved from public buildings, while thousands of people filled the streets and crowded the balconies of hotels and stores. It was a pageant worthy the distinguished magistrate, who, with the full and hearty endorsement of his people, assumes for a second time the duties and responsibilities of the Executive chair of New Hampshire."

The parade ended, and a hearty lunch at the Armory; and we were obliged, by business calls at home, to leave the beautiful and tempting tables spread at the Phenix Hotel spacious dining Hall, after a mere look. See the bill of fare, and tell us if it is not provoking to have to leave such untasted. The dinner has usually been served in Phenix Hall, and by celebrated Boston caterers, at much greater expense; but never so pleasantly, so cheaply, so satisfactorily, as this time, by Commissary Dumas. We copy report of the same, elsewhere, from the Monitor. Here is the list of goodies:

Boiled Salmon, with green peas; roast turkey, beef, pork and lamb; potted pigeons, lobsters plain and lobster salad; vegetables, relishes, pastry: oranges, strawberries and cream, ice cream, pine apple, nuts and raisins.

More anon, if ever we get time and room.

F.

DINNER OF THE HORSE GUARDS.

At the conclusion of the inauguration ceremonies at the State House, the Horse Guards proceeded dismounted to the Capitol, where the guests of the corps were taken up and escorted to the Phenix Hotel, where the annual dinner was spread by the popular host, Dumas. Every seat in the spacious dining hall was occupied. Col. Kent presided, supported by Ex-Gov. Goodwin on his right and Gov. Andrew on his left.

The company being seated, an eloquent and impressive prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Burroughs, of Portsmouth, one of the Chaplains of the corps. Half an hour of knife and fork exercise followed, in which both the Guards and their guests showed great proficiency. The dinner, by general consent was voted the best ever spread for the corps.

At the close of these exercises, Col. Kent called the company to order, and introduced Lieut. Barrett, of Nashua, as toast master, and that gentleman read the first sentiment:

The President of the United States.—May he by his devotion to the constitution—the bulwark of our liberties—which he has sworn to support, be governed only by those principles which will preserve our national and individual rights.

Chas. S. Marshall, Esq., of Concord, Judge Advocate of the corps, responded in a short and eloquent speech, in which he urged that it was the duty of every loyal citizen to give his most earnest and unconditional support to the Executive, in this hour of the nation's trial.

The second sentiment was:

His Excellency Governor Gilmore.—Amid the troublous times that are upon us, we recognize in our Chief Magistrate, a patriot and an unswerving supporter of the Government, a kind and considerate friend of our noble soldiers in the field, and an energetic and determined Executive. His body guard, which has experienced his many acts of liberality in behalf of the militia of the State, tenders to him its warm appreciation of his public services and personal regard.

Ex-Governor Goodwin was called upon to respond, and commenced by apologizing for the absence of Governor Gilmore, who had been called away by the illness of a dear son, who lay almost at the point of death. He bespoke the sympathy of every one for the Governor, in this his hour of affliction. Mr. Goodwin spoke earnestly of the great work Gov. Gilmore had performed in the brief year of his office, and pledged himself that as in the past so in the future, he would be found doing valiant service in the cause of right.

The third regular toast was then read:

The Chief Magistrate of the Old Bay State.—Our honored guest, endeared to every patriotic heart by his eminent devotion to the cause of liberty and the country; his presence on this occasion is an ordinary tribute of respect.

Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, on rising to respond, was greeted with loud applause. He said he should be guilty of an unworthy affectation if he did not confess to a more than ordinary sense of gratitude for the kind manner in which he had been called up. He did not take it to himself, however. He took it as a kindly and fraternal greeting from New Hampshire to Massachusetts, whom it was his unworthy privilege to represent. Massachusetts deserves all that can be said of her. We of Massachusetts and you of New Hampshire are of one blood. That inherent love of liberty, justice and law bequeathed to us by our Puritan forefathers, yet dwells in us both.

Whatever he might claim for the people of Massachusetts he fully and freely awarded to those of New Hampshire. Side by side all over the battle fields of this war our sons have marched, and fought, and died together. Speaking for himself, as an humble citizen of the United States, he would say he had enlisted for a long storm. This is our war for civilization. We have had our war for independence; and our war for commerce, but the present is our war for civilization.

The Governor paid an eloquent tribute to our noble fallen, and closed with a sentiment complimentary to New Hampshire. The Governor was in his happiest mood and his speech, which no mere sketch could do justice to, was received with the most hearty applause.

The fourth sentiment was as follows:

The Absent and Fallen Members of the New Hampshire Militia.—While we land the gallant men who fell not from our ranks, let our fallen brave; and would enshrine the names of Gove, Cross, Startevant, Ainsworth, Collins and many others in fresh remembrance, as we meet from year to year to participate in this occasion.

Ex-Governor Berry responded and feelingly responded, and his closing remarks were very strong and pointed on the present political aspect of affairs.

The fifth regular toast was:

The Massachusetts Militia.

Responded to by John Quincy Adams, of Gov. Andrews' staff, who in conclusion gave:

The Volunteer Militia of New England.—They have been true to us in the past; let us not fail them in the future.

The toast-master then read a short note from Ex-Lieut. Col. Bellows, regretting the state of his health rendered it impossible for him to be present.

After an eloquent speech from Colonel Kent, congratulating the corps upon the success of the parade, the exercises at the table closed.

Hall's Boston Brass Band discovered excellent music between the speeches, and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.—Concord Daily Monitor.

THE LIFE AND TIMES

—OF—

Benjamin Franklin,

BY JAMES PARTON,

Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.

Two vols., Crown 8vo, 637 and 707 pages, with Steel Portrait. Cloth, extra, price $5.

In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give the fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to maturer readers,) and to append to these a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.

Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be new to all that have not made the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the best subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.

Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1 Franklin's Apprenticeship to Life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the sons of Wm. Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and Last ors in Philadelphia.

The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.

Also, Ready,

A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols., crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 TREMONT ROW, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call in a greater number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of all the above Skirts.

J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, the ingenious braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same ease as a lady can do a silk or muslin dress, it entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as a.ove, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in the U. S. and throughout the different States.

Local.

☞ A petition is in circulation, asking the Board of Aldermen that the front end of Jefferson Hall building may be cut off several feet—we presume, so as to square with Piscataqua Bank Building. This would be a very decided improvement to almost the only pretence of a public square we have—and we can see no good reason why it should not be done. If the whole room is needed above, the upper story might be extended out over the rear or at the sides, or both. It is easy enough, we know, and perhaps too common, to proffer gratuitous advice or opinions on every occasion; but really, in a matter so vitally important, and likely to be so permanent, as this, we hope the whole bearings of the question will be thoroughly considered and judiciously decided.

☞ We heard a public-spirited business man of our city propose yesterday, that if the end of Jefferson Hall shall be shortened, as proposed, it would be a fine thing to adorn the new front with a statue of Governor Langdon. So it would—and our friend is just the man to see that it is done; and we doubt not, that if the Aldermen can see their way clear to make the proposed alteration, (which we think would be the greatest of all improvements,) that he will attend to it.

☞ The ship New Hampshire left the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Monday afternoon at three o'clock, being towed outside by the steamer Albatross. The tug-boat Portfire accompanied her out a short distance as a tender-boat.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement that the sale at auction of the double house on the corner of Adams and Bridge streets is postponed to Saturday next. The unavoidable absence of the auctioneer from the city on Wednesday necessitated the change in the time of the sale.

—— The News Letter states that the Portsmouth Sabbath School Association will visit Exeter on Wednesday.

—— The term of service of the 2d N. H. regiment expires to day,—Tuesday, and those members of the regiment who have not re-enlisted will be discharged.

THE LAKE STEAMERS.—The steamer "Dover," the Alton Bay boat, has been almost entirely rebuilt during the winter, and is about the same as a new and splendid boat. The "Lady of the Lake," which did a flourishing business last year, has also been put in the best of order, and will continue in charge of the popular commander, Capt. Winborn A. Sanborn.

STEAMBOATING ON THE MERRIMAC.—The Merrimac Steam Tug Co. have bought the propeller "Thurlow Weed," of Albany, N. Y. This boat was built two years ago and is of sufficient power to tow any vessel that can float on the river. She cost the company $8000. With two boats the company is well prepared to take advantage of the increasing freightage to Haverhill. They have contracted to tow all the coal vessels to arrive at Salisbury, West Amesbury, Groveland and Haverhill, and this with the other coasters doing business on the river, will furnish them with a profitable amount of work. As Salisbury and Amesbury capital has now fully provided steam navigation on the Merrimac, we shall expect to see the capitalists of Newburyport pushing forward to completion the horse-railroad enterprise.—Salisbury Villager.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.—The Boston "Normal Institute for Physical Education," incorporated in 1860, and under the management of Dr. Dio Lewis, will open its Seventh Session on the Fifth of July next, 1864. The demand for teachers of the New Gymnastics has become such, that the last two classes of Graduates, consisting of about ninety ladies and gentlemen, were at once engaged, and hundreds more might find profitable employment. Well-known medical men assist in preparing the pupils to act as guides in Physical Culture. In the department of Gymnastics, Dr. Lewis personally trains every candidate for the New Profession. If any reader would know more of this pioneer institution in a new and noble profession, let him or her send for a full circular to Dr. Dio Lewis, Boston.

MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospital, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in few days or weeks, and we continually invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cure which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from medical treatment, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as been seen as ever encountered any reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply: In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating in a DEPRAVED, IMPURE OR LOW STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Heartburn.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Glandular, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated, and the swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Nervous Irritability.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the last vestige of it, curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and renders Loose Teeth as firm as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken so soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing the disfigurement and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twelve years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy or Dropsical abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken at the first time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a gradual or sudden Dropsy of the Heart), Gout and all the affections of the important organs, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be speedily relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Nervous Irritability, Want of Sleep, Sunken Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Body, no remedy has ever proved the equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young miss in her teens. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an uneasy sensation of cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or pain in the diaphragmatic symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young Dyspeptic, Nervous, and Hysterical Female Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, premature early death and a long train of evils. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

YOUNG AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering incident upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is specially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus or Whites in females, where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an auxiliary to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and anodyne; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the other quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the cooking being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plate, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for warm water, also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for ventilating and cleansing the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes will be entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat by the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The objection for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of the Panacea."
JOHAN JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which did more for me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health."
M. W. HUNT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofula in her humor, and that previous to visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA AND HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicines one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three barrels full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the most durable of all the more to be tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring back its original form with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Gen. Sherman, Monday noon, states that he was on the railroad to Ackworth, and had full possession forward to within six miles of Marietta.

Col. Jay, commanding the cavalry of the 17th army corps, recently encountered Rhoddy's rebel cavalry under Col. Johnson, at Walton, Ala. Col. Johnson and several others were killed and many prisoners captured. Col. Johnson was a prominent man in Rhoddy's command.

The iron-clad fleet has been moved up to the support of Gen. Butler, who is intrenched on the peninsula formed by the Appomattox and James rivers.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Dispatches from Gen. Grant, Monday, report only certain changes in the position of corps for future operations. Everything was going on well. All needful supplies were on hand, and wagons transported them easily to the army.

A letter from the Army reports that Gen. Wilson with his division of cavalry had destroyed the Virginia Central railroad; and that on the 4th Ewell, who was on Lee's left, had entirely disappeared, leaving many signs of a hasty retreat.

The N. Y. Tribune's dispatch says of Friday's fight that it was promptly made by Gens. Hancock, Wright and Smith at 4:30 A. M., the hour appointed. Gens. Warren and Burnside did not participate. The attack was brave and our loss severe. The result was indecisive, although our general line was advanced materially. Gen. Smith carried and retained a well intrenched position, and the other corps are in possession of detached works and various positions more or less important, from which they drove the enemy. Prisoners taken are from all the corps of Lee's army proper, showing that the enemy has raised everything he can command.

Gen. Sheridan took Bottom's Bridge on Friday night, which may induce the enemy to retreat across the Chickahominy. The rebels made an attack on the 2d corps on the same night, but were repulsed with severe loss. The Herald's correspondent with the 9th corps says the enemy evacuated their advanced lines Friday night; their retreat was most precipitate, guns, knapsacks and camp equipage being left behind. Ewell has again failed to turn our right. At noon of Saturday there was no enemy in front.

There was skirmishing all day on Sunday, and in the evening the enemy attacked a working party in front of the 18th army corps, which brought on a general engagement. The firing was terrific for half an hour, and the rebels were repulsed, our loss being slight. Our whole army has been concentrated and strengthened, and reinforcements are still arriving. Richmond papers announce the death of two rebel Generals in Tuesday's battle—Lawrence M. Keitt of South Carolina, and Dale.

THE NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION at Baltimore for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President, assembled on Tuesday. Twenty seven States which have remained loyal were represented by 460 delegates; and in addition to these, delegates have been sent by the loyal residents of those parts of Virginia, So. Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee, which are under the control of our armies.

At 11 o'clock the doors were opened, and there was a great rush of spectators for seats in the galleries. An hour later the band of the 5th Ohio regiment commenced playing. At this time nearly all the delegates were in their places, while the galleries were crowded to overflowing.

The Convention was called to order by Hon. E. D. Morgan of New York, chairman of the National Committee, who proposed Rev. Dr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, as temporary chairman. His name was received with enthusiastic cheers, which were reiterated repeatedly while he spoke as one of the Border State Unionists—especially when he declared their fidelity to the Union, and that they were prepared now to go further than the original Republicans, being resolved to exterminate slavery. Rev. Mr. Riley of Baltimore offered prayer. After considerable discussion a motion by Mr. Lane of Kansas, that all the States and the Territories of Nevada, Colorado and Nebraska be called, was carried.

New Hampshire is represented on the committees as follows: on Credentials, B. J. Cole; on Permanent Organization, Bowers; Resolutions, Cross. It was voted to refer all resolutions to the committee on that subject, and the Convention adjourned to half-past 7. There were many speeches; cheers were given for President Lincoln and Gen. Grant, and at all allusions to the extinction of slavery throughout the country; and it was accepted as an admitted fact that President Lincoln would be renominated by an overwhelming vote.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Col. Harriman, of the 11th regiment, is a prisoner at Lynchburg, Va.

—— 136 recruits for the 6th regiment left Concord on Monday.

—— No business of public interest was transacted by the Legislature on Monday.

—— Albert H. George shot a hawk at Goffstown Centre, on Friday, which measured over four feet from tip to tip of wings.

—— The Manchester Union states that quite a number of towns in this State have already made contracts with substitute brokers to furnish men for their localities in anticipation of the draft. The price of substitutes was $600 at Concord on Friday.

—— Hopkinton has voted to pay $300 to each of the fifteen men obtained under the late draft; also, to raise $40,000, in order to fill their quota under any future call for men. Almost entire unanimity prevailed.

—— A girl named Ellen Johnson, of Concord, whose friends reside at Lyme, is supposed to have committed suicide at Hanover, Saturday, by drowning herself in the river. Her clothes were found lying upon the bank.

—— The Concord Monitor mentions a letter from Lieut. Holbrook, of Gen. Weitzel's staff, in which he relates what he has seen of the conduct of our N. H. regiments in the 18th corps, particularly the 2d. The Monitor says:—

Lieut. H. states that he has often heard Gen. Weitzel mention the 2d in terms of admiration. They were continually under fire and did splendid execution as sharpshooters, driving the enemy from their guns at the embrasures, and picking them off wherever they were compelled to come up and load the guns. One of the men of this regiment built a signal observatory in a tall pine tree overlooking the works, which aided Gen. Weitzel in obtaining much valuable information, as from it was had a good view of Richmond, with its fortifications.—Lieut. Holbrook also speaks with admiration of the services of Dr. Sawyer of Nashua, Rev. Mr. Patterson of Portsmouth, Mrs. Marden and Miss Dame of Concord, whose untiring kindness has done much to alleviate the sufferings of the sick and wounded.—Having personally experienced their attentions, Lieut. H. speaks very feelingly on the subject.

☞ Panama papers of May 27 state that the Spanish squadron still holds the Chincha Islands. The English, French and Chilian Ministers have visited the Admiral in behalf of peace, and the Admiral had returned the hostages and a Peruvian bark which had been seized, at the same time offering to give up all the reprisals if the Peruvian government will pay the bona fide claims, leaving the others to a mixed commission. Peru refused to do anything until all reprisals were given up.

The Admiral and the Spanish Minister, in a joint communicaton, declare that Spain does not intend to meddle with the form of government of Peru; that the occupation of the Chincha Islands in the way of reprisal was preferable to other acts of hostility, and that no impediments will be placed in the way of merchants at the Islands, the Spanish squadron remaining on the defensive.

Great indignation existed in Chili at the course of Spain, and Chilian vessels of war have been ordered to Callao. Chili is determined to aid Peru. The Peruvian military are being organized all through the republic, and it is expected that 100,000 men will be furnished on the first call. The forts at Callao are completely armed and several batteries constructed. Arica has also been fortified.

— The official Berlin journal denies that the allies have violated the armistice.

—A boat containing nine young men was upset by a squall in Salem harbor on Monday, and four of them were drowned.

— The mass meeting in New York on Saturday to express the popular gratitude to Gen. Grant was very successful. The number present was estimated at 25,000.

— The gross receipts of the St. Louis Sanitary Fair were over half a million. The army sword was presented to Gen. Hancock.

— Members of Congress are asking the President to call out five hundred thousand 100 days' men, saying they can be made ready for the field in 30 days.

— The Pope may be dying, but the last foreign arrival reports that he took part in the procession at the Festival at Corpus Christi, May 26.

— A New York banking firm has been robbed of twenty U. S. 10-40 bonds for $1000 each. Payment has been stopped, and a reward of $2000 offered for their recovery.

— They had a terrible hail storm in Tolland county, Vt., one day last week. Many of the hail stones were over an inch in diameter; in some places they were blown in huge drifts. The trees were much injured, and an immense amount of glass was broken in Rockville and Vernon Centre.

— The crop of grass bids fair to be remarkably large this season, and many fields look as if they would need mowing during the present month. But so long as grain remains at its present rates, it is thought that hay cannot depreciate to any great extent.

Messrs. Editors:—If you will publish this extract from a letter to the Christian Inquirer, you may gratify the many contributors to the box which was sent from here to the Baltimore Fair:

So many kind friends were interested in the Children's table, that a short account of it may not be unwelcome. We would tell those who so generously contributed that the articles were universally admired and quickly bought. They were divided between the Art table and the Children's, and the amount cleared by these two was over $5000.

The 18th of April came: as it grew dark the exquisite arches of light ran across the hall, and as the band struck up "Hail to the Chief" the crowd collected, and President Lincoln came in, with his retinue.—After the inauguration and speeches were over he walked round the room, and as he neared the children's table the boys and girls had a shake of the hand and a word of cheer. The whole corps of children numbered twenty-five. They took turns at the table—the girls selling and the boys going round with grab bags, &c. They were never unfortunate; but how hard they worked! bringing 10, 15 or 20 dollars apiece. Most of them dined at home, but we gave them their supper, and sixteen would be taken in at a time, and such clatter, fun and noise never was heard.

Many friends asked to know how much particular boxes made. We tried at first to do so,—but when the evening pressure of buyers came, we soon lost all account.—The first day we strung eighteen feet of dolls across the table, and some one said—"Will you ever sell all those dolls?" but before the fair was half over we had to go begging for more dolls. Then the reins, and balls, and animals had not one representative left. But we cannot enumerate articles, and only hope that our kind friends will take this as an acknowledgment of their gifts, without which our tables would have been naught. The receipts of the Fair have been $75,000, and the expenses comparatively light. The full returns are not yet made; but beyond all money and price is the knowledge that a grand demonstration has been successfully made, which puts Maryland on an equality with all the Free States,—and she can say:

"No more I, and no more thou;
We, and only we."

☞ Editors should read over their articles carefully, before they go to press, to see if they do not contradict themselves when they write a string of sensation paragraphs against an opponent or rival.—To show that this caution is not uncalled for, we take two or three sentences from the leading article in a copperhead paper in New Hampshire.

Sentence No 1. says; in speaking of the Fremont Convention:

There is some reason to believe that this Convention is but a trick, to promote the interests of the Administration.

But two or three inches below this, and in the same article, other sentences say:

The whole secret of this Cleveland Convention is found in the ambition and pique of the Fremont family, including John C. and Jessie. This movement, therefore, is not for the purpose of making anybody else President; and those who suppose that Fremont will withdraw in favor of anybody, at the eleventh hour, or any other hour, will find themselves mistaken. The truth is, first, he wants to be President himself; and second, he is determined that Mr. Lincoln shall not be.

The reader will see at a glance, that while the first extract says there is some reason to suspect that the Fremonters are to play into Mr. Lincoln's hands,—the second extract declares there is no reason to suspect any such thing, but the contrary. How wise the people must become, who are disciples of a teacher who writes such contradictory stuff. U. T.

"Mind your p's and q's" is an old caution which may not be generally known to have originated in a printing office. Those letters, with the b's and q's, are the least readily distinguished by apprentices, hence the term.—Rochester Courier.

Is our friend of the Courier correct?—We have had the impression that it originated from the primitive custom of keeping accounts on the doors, shutters, etc., at country groceries, on which, in former times, the grocer marked down with chalk the number of pints and quarts of liquor called for by his customers—the pints being designated by p, and the quarts by q. Hence it was important to the customer for him to mind his p's and q's. So also when the bill was paid, and the chalk marks were washed out, the account was said to be liquid-ated!

☞ The London Standard contains an article of some interest on raising cotton in Jamaica. Two years ago a Mr. Wegnelin stated in a London paper that he had tried to raise Sea Island cotton there, but his costly experiment failed,—and that it could not raised be there. Another man, however, renewed the experiment on the same estate, where 5000 lbs. of clean cotton have been raised on 45 acres of land, since that time, and 3000 lbs. are expected this year. The Jamaica Cotton Company have already picked this year 60,000 lbs., and they will pick two months longer. The experiments are expensive, but so far very successful.

— The English government is reported to have paid £235,000 for the Laird rams.

— The strength of the Italian army is said to be 380,000 infantry, 88 batteries, and 19 regiments of cavalry.

— Somebody says the original Eve was Adam's bone, but our Eves are wholebone, —all on account of hoops.

— French papers announce that a convict was lately tracked into the service of a young married couple, where he was officiating as a very pretty lady's maid, or a lady's very pretty maid,—we don't know which,—and had been doing all the duties of his role for three months. Imagine the horror of the young lady and the "pheelinks" of the husband, when the police said, "That young womap is the man we want."

☞ We have received from A. Williams & Co., Boston, a pamphlet entitled a Sketch of the Theory and Cure of Phthisis, (tuberculous consumption) by Dr. Carl Both.—For sale in this city by J. F. Shores, Jr.

☞ The Rebellion Record, Part 42, contains portraits of the Union Gen. C. C. Washburne and the rebel Gen. James Longstreet. This number brings the record down to last August.

☞ The United States Service Magazine for June contains a fine steel-plate portrait of Gen. Grant, which the publishers declare to be a correct likeness. The articles in this number are of the usual high character. It is an excellent magazine.

— Dr. Windship's heaviest lift with the hands is twelve hundred (1200) pounds—with the shoulders, by means of a strap over them, twenty-six hundred (2600) pounds. The Doctor weighs but 143, we believe.

☞ Farmers and others interested, should bear in mind the Auction of fine Sheep and lambs advertised in the proper place. tf

SPECIAL NOTICE
To Shoe Dealers.
The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 TREMONT ROW, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. "A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ There have been many changes in the livery business in Portsmouth within a few months—and every stable has changed hands. Mr. Woolbury Locke now occupies the stable in State street, formerly carried on by E. R. Locke & Tucker; and Mr. Joseph Whidden 2d took that in Fleet street, previously occupied by Mr. W. Locke.

More recently, the firm of Jones & Stoddard was dissolved, Mr. Nathan Jones selling out to Mr. Henry Stoddard, who now conducts this extensive American Stable.

Messrs. Tilton & Foster have sold their livery stock at the Stone Stable to Mr. O. A. Frost, landlord of the City Hotel, who will henceforth conduct both in connection, we presume.

Messrs. Ferguson & Burley are building a new stable on the old Andrew H. Jones location in Vaughan street, and will probably remove from the Somerby stable at the expiration of their lease, to their new and enlarged premises—when the "old whip," Mr. Sherburne Somerby, we believe designs re-opening his old place of business himself, with a new stock of horses, carriages and harnesses.

☞ A new book, and not only a new but a novel work, is just made ready for the publishers, by Mr. Jas. H. Head of this city, already somewhat known in the bookmaking world. The title is, Floral Architect and Decorator's Companion,— and the design is to fill a hitherto unoccupied field in reference to triumphal and other decorations, &c., as indicated in the name. Mr. Head has been employed upon it more or less for fifteen years, and worked and studied much for it during five years, while his last year's leisure has been mostly spent in copying the whole on seven hundred pages or nearly a ream of foolscap paper.

To any one who knows not what intense application signifies, the mere accomplishment of so much simple mechanical labor as here involved, would appear impossible, especially in connection with all the other engrossing duties of a busy man's life. There are scores of full page plates, and hundreds of smaller designs, illustrating the work—all colored, and all executed by the author; who, as past experience proves, knows as well how to publish and successfully dispose of his books, as to "make" them.

A POOR BUSINESS.—Some thief, who must be as stupid as he is dishonest, has lately twice broken into the old fish store of Mr. Staples, near the Spring Market; once several weeks ago, and again between Saturday night and Monday morning.—Both times he broke a window, and both times stove open a desk;—but did not get a cent of money either time. He must have been rather foolish the first time to look for money there;—and the second time an utter fool.

☞ The Fair held by the Misses of the South Parish, in the Chapel rooms on Court street, on Tuesday evening, was a pleasant gathering for the lively company which thronged the rooms. The Fair continues this Wednesday Afternoon at 2 1-2 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Proceeds go to N. H. Relief Society. Refreshments, &c. on sale, and the usual attractions.

The rooms are beautifully decorated with flags, bouquets, and others of earth's fairest flowers, and are well worth a visit.—The affair will close with an Auction.

☞ We notice in the list of killed in our late battles in Virginia the name of Wilbur P. Lamb—and have little or no reason to doubt that the deceased is Wilbur T. Lamb, formerly a resident of this city. He was about 22 years of age.

☞ The Boatbuilders and Yard Carpenters on our Navy Yard have just contributed $101.25 in aid of our sick and wounded soldiers, which was forwarded to the Christian Commission on Tuesday.

EXCURSION TO PORTSMOUTH.—The Mirror states that the members of the Elm Street Universalist Society, Manchester, are making arrangements for an excursion to Portsmouth, to visit the Navy Yard, Forts, &c., at an early day.

☞ The nice little propeller steamboat which is building at the South End by the Messrs. Townsend and others, for river, harbor and Shoals use, is nearly completed; and will probably be launched from her ways on Water street, to-day or to-morrow.

P. S.—Since the above was in type we learn that the boat will be launched this, Wednesday, afternoon at 2 o'clock.

☞ Carpenter W. F. Laighton, U. S. N., of this city, has been detached from special duty at Portland, and ordered to report to Rear Admiral Stringham for duty on board the U. S. ship Sabine, at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

☞ The annual meeting of the P., S. & P. Railroad was held at North Berwick on Monday. The following were elected as the Board of Directors:

Ichabod Goodwin, Portsmouth; George M. Brown, Dorchester; Israel M. Spelman, Cambridge; Charles E. Barrett, Portland; Nath'l Hooper, Boston; Edward P. Bancroft, Boston; George Wm. Burleigh, Great Falls; and Stephen H. Bullard, Boston.

☞ This evening, it should be remembered, the ever-welcome Peak Family are to give one of their popular concerts at the Temple. Those who enjoy "the music of the bells" will attend.

☞ An intelligent Boy, of good habits and fair education, can have a fine opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the profession of printing, or be inducted into the mysteries of 'the art preservative of all arts,'—in other words, to learn the Printer's trade—at this Chronicle Office. je5tf

— Mr. Conway writes to the Commonwealth that by some hitch inexplicable, Tennyson's new volume of Poems will not appear for the present—perhaps not this year—although an edition is already printed.

— On Saturday afternoon a small sail boat, in which were Col. Thurston Libby, and four little girls from 7 to 12 years of age, all of Auburn, Me., was capsized in the river, and all except Col. Libby and his youngest daughter were drowned.

— The Senate passed the Internal Revenue bill on Monday. The House passed the bill for the speedy punishment of guerrillas; also the bill prohibiting members of Congress or other government employees receiving compensation for services in proceedings relative to contracts, claims, charges, &c., in which the United States is a party, under a penalty of $10,000 fine, and imprisonment.

DEATHS.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ Mr. E. A. Joy's Juvenile Singing School, Saturday afternoons at 2 o'clock, at Mercantile Hall.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

TO PHYSICIANS.—Mr. Speer takes the liberty of requesting physicians to institute an examination of the merits of his Sambuci Wine. The Wine is the pure juice of a Portugal variety of Sambuco grape, cultivated by him for the purpose, and is now successfully used and prescribed by many physicians in the large cities, who have fully tested it and who regard it as peculiarly adapted to their mode of practice.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND.—Doctors' bills are too long for a poor man's pocket, but he may avoid them by keeping in his cupboard a box of Grace's Salve. If Tommy cuts his finger, or Mary scalds her hand, or Jacky bruises his toe, the Salve will cure them without sending for the physician. In winter it cures chilblains and frost-bites, in summer it removes tan and freckles, and all the year round it is a little box of blessing. Mother, don't forget to save your husband's hard earned money by buying a box of the universal Salve for 25 cents.

☞ Diarrhea and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by ages, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE. The subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS. EVERY ONE of them was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Is a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as the has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the most obstinate cases to be found in the following complaints:
Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.
Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparitive health.
Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.
Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been deceived upon by others who pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not.—When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla.
For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the Agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.
AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Fever or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.
They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly,—and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Facts for the People.
The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.
We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as the capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to
THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.
Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.
One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.
A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.
These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as firm as a hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into shape with the great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the trade, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, recommending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a single bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Richmond papers of the 4th give reports of successes by Joe Johnston, but dispatches from Gen. Sherman to the 7th are received, and disprove them.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Richmond papers give exaggerated accounts of Friday's fight, but admit that the rebel Gens. Law, Lane, Kirkland and Finnegan were wounded. They also state that Gen. Gilmore made an attack on Beauregard's works on Thursday night, but was repulsed.

Dispatches from Gen. Grant, Tuesday morning, state that an assault was made on Burnside about midnight, and successfully repulsed. On Monday afternoon 100 picked men of the enemy made a rush to find out what was the meaning of Hancock's advancing siege lines. Nine of the party were captured and the rest were killed or driven back.

Other dispatches report that the charge made on the 2d corps on Saturday night resulted in a loss to the rebels of about 100 killed and over 1000 wounded, few of whom they carried away owing to our command of the ground. And in the attack on Monday evening, when they advanced several times, they were handsomely repulsed, their lines being cut to pieces in their attempt to reach our works. Their losses must have been fearful, for our men shot them down at short range, while our batteries mowed them down in masses. Our loss was very light. A shell exploded among the members of Gen. Hancock's staff, one of whom lost a leg.

Our forces are throwing up earthworks at White House to guard against any attempt by the rebels to interfere with our base of supplies.

A dispatch from Mr. Dana, who is at Gen. Grant's headquarters, dated Tuesday evening, announces a victory by Gen. Hunter over the rebels under Gen. W. E. Jones, 12 miles beyond Staunton, Va., and that Jones was killed on the battlefield.—The Richmond Examiner states that his successor retired to Waynesboro, and holds the mountains between Charlottesville and Staunton, and that Gen. Hunter captured no hospital or other stores. Another dispatch states that the Union forces occupy Staunton. A dispatch from Gen. Grant, Tuesday afternoon, reports that all had been quiet on that day.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.—The Senate voted to meet hereafter at 11 o'clock A. M.

The House referred a petition from the Grand Jury of the County of Rockingham, relative to the fees of Jurors, to the committee on Judiciary. A bill was introduced to encourage enlistments in the 1st N H. cavalry. It provides for the payment of $300 bounty. Mr. Adams of Manchester presented a resolution by the Mayors and Selectmen of several cities and towns, recommending the assumption by the State authorities of the entire responsibility of filling the quota of the State under the last call of the President. The resolution was referred to the committee on Military Affairs. Notices of bills were given as follows: By Mr. Hackett, of Portsmouth—bill to incorporate the Union Mills. By Mr. Dow, of Atkinson—bill to abolish the term of the Probate Court, held at Plaistow, Rockingham County. By Mr. Burleigh, of Somersworth—bill in amendment of the act relating to the Great Falls & Conway Railroad.

☞ On Monday morning the Pennsylvania Reserves, returning from the war, were received with every demonstration of regard at the Capital of the State. They left three years ago full fifteen thousand strong, and return numbering only fifteen hundred! The stores in Harrisburg were closed, and the houses hung with flags and patriotic emblems as the veterans passed through the streets, escorted by a large civic and military procession. Salutes were fired, and all the city bells rung. The veterans were welcomed in eloquent speeches by Mayor Roumfort and Governor Curtin, and on Wednesday had a public dinner. They all overstayed their period of enlistment on the Chickahominy, to take a hand in the fight of last Monday. The time of every regiment had expired; some a week, some two weeks, and one 20 days.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's correspondent with Gen. Butler says of the battle at Hatchee's on the 2d inst.: "At 3 A. M. the rebels opened with artillery, and massing in a body, dashed on our picket line, and captured a number of the 24 New Hampshire, who then drove the rebels back, capturing twenty-five. Two other similar attacks were made, but none of these succeeded.—Our losses were heavy, but those of the rebels were much heavier. We took between 60 and 70 prisoners."

— California has contributed $10,000 to the Christian Commission, in gold.

THE NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION, at Baltimore, re-assembled at 7 o'clock, Tuesday evening, and the Committee on Permanent Organization reported the name of Hon. W. Denison of Ohio as President, with a Vice President from each State. Hon. Onslow Stearns, of Concord, is one of the Vice Presidents, and Edward Spaulding, of Nashua, one of the Secretaries. The report was adopted, and Gov. Denison was warmly greeted. He congratulated the Convention upon its meeting, and upon the formation of the Union party, "the only terms of admission to which are unconditional loyalty to the Government and the Union." At the close of his address one of the pages bore to him two beautiful bouquets, the gifts of the loyal ladies of Baltimore. Their presentation was greeted with great applause.

The Committee on Credentials were called for, but they said they were not half through; and a call for the resolutions was equally unsuccessful. Parson Brownlow then addressed the Convention by invitation, and made a characteristic speech, saying that the Tennessee delegation was for the Lincoln-arming-of-the-negroes Convention, and they were instructed to go for Lincoln all the time. He said that they had a man in Tennessee who might be named for Vice President—Andy Johnson. This was received with considerable applause, but it was by no means general. The Convention then adjourned until 10 A. M., Wednesday.

The theatre in which the Convention is held was opened at 9 o'clock Wednesday, and every available foot of room was speedily filled. At half past 10 the Convention was called to order, and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Ellis, of Ohio. The committee on Order of Business reported that the convention should first dispose of the report of the Committee on Credentials, then the report on resolutions, and then make the nominations—speakers to be limited to five minutes, unless by unanimous consent they have leave to proceed. Mr. King, of New York, presented the report of the committee on credentials, recommending that the radical Union delegation of Missouri be admitted; that the delegates from Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Florida and Arkansas be admitted with all the rights of membership, except the right to vote; and that the organized Territories and the District of Columbia be admitted without the right to vote. They recommended that South Carolina be not admitted. Minority reports were presented in favor of allowing all the delegations the right to vote. After considerable discussion, a vote was taken by States on the portion of the majority report relating to the Missouri delegation, and there were only four against admitting the radicals. Pennsylvania cast three of these and Kentucky one vote. The result was greeted with loud applause. The total vote was, for their admission, 440 against these 4.

It was then voted, 310 to 151, to admit the Tennessee delegates with right to vote; and those from Arkansas and Louisiana, by a vote of 307 to 167. New England was divided on these questions; on the first New Hampshire voted yea, and on the second nay. The delegates from Nevada, Colorado and Nebraska were admitted by a viva voce vote; and those from the other territories and from Virginia and Florida were admitted to seats without the right to vote: South Carolina was excluded entirely.

The committee on resolutions then reported an extended series, which were adopted by acclamation. They pledge individual effort and all the power of the government to quell the rebellion, to bring traitors to condign punishment, and to maintain the integrity of the Union and the laws; utterly oppose any compromise with rebels and traitors; declare that justice and safety demand the extermination of slavery (here is where the cheers came in,)—slavery being the cause of the rebellion, now its greatest strength and stay, and always hostile to a republican form of government; thank our soldiers and sailors in behalf of the American people (more cheers came in here); endorse the present Administration and its measures, especially the emancipation proclamation and the enlistment of slaves; urge harmony in the national councils; favor full protection to our colored soldiers in the field; recommend internal improvements, and pledge help to build a Pacific railroad; assert that the public credit must be held inviolable; and approve the position of the government that it can never regard with indifference any hostile attempt of any European power against any American republic,—being very strong on the Monroe doctrine.

A motion was made to proceed to ballot for candidates for President and Vice President. Mr. Cameron of Pennsylvania offered a resolution as a substitute, that Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin be declared the choice of the convention. Calls were made for a division of the question, and the resolution was promptly tabled. A motion was then made to nominate Mr. Lincoln by acclamation. On a call of the roll subsequently ABRAHAM LINCOLN was renominated amid tremendous enthusiasm.

CHIPS—HEWN AND GATHERED.

— Ozonized water is now used for drinking and the toilette in London.

— The Cathedral in Mexico is said to be the largest building in America.

— The salaries of the School teachers in Roxbury, Mass., have been increased 20 per cent.

— Citizens of Philadelphia presented Gen. Meade's wife with an elegant house, furniture, &c., in that city, on Tuesday.

— The rebels have lost nineteen Generals in Virginia alone, in the pending Virginia campaign.

— Telegraphic communication is established between White House and Fortress Monroe.

— A colored regiment, stationed at Fort Parapet, La., publish a newspaper, which they call the "Black Warrior."

— London is being torn up for the Pneumatic dispatch troughs, which will soon be ready to accelerate parcels.

— Among the rebel prisoners at White House are two females, one a captain of artillery.

— It is said that Gen. Meade will be promoted to the vacancy caused by Fremont's withdrawal.

— The battery and its deck mountings on board the U. S. steamer Kearsarge, when in the Thames, were the especial admiration of English naval critics.

— Yale College has received yet another bequest—this time $80,000, and from a nameless source. It is to be applied to the building of a dormitory.

— The preachers' stand at the beautiful camp ground in Kennebunkport, Me., was entirely consumed by an incendiary fire on the night of May 31. Insured for $300.

— The Senate Military Committee has resolved to reorganize the Invalid Corps, owing to a number of complaints having been made to them.

— The Postmaster General proposes to pay all Deputy Postmasters by salary, instead of by commission as at present provided.

— An association of ladies in New York meets three times a week for instruction in the duties necessary to make a nurse in the field and general hospitals.

— An enterprising South American has sent to an Albany locomotive shop for one hundred "cow catchers." He expects to use them in taking wild cattle on the plains of Paraguay,—so they say.

— Surgeon General Barnes has sent to the front all the volunteer surgeons at his disposal. And yet there is said to be a great lack of physicians, and many of the wounded suffer in consequence.

— Mr. Gladstone's speech in favor of universal suffrage has made a terrible uproar in British aristocratic circles. He purposes to issue a pamphlet to enforce his bold declarations.

— There is a report that the English war steamer Greyhound has been dispatched in search of the rebel pirate Florida, with sealed orders, which were not to be opened until the Florida was under the range of her guns.

— The Central Sanitary Fair, at Philadelphia, was formally opened on Tuesday afternoon by the Mayor. Addresses were made by Bishop Simpson, in behalf of the President, and by the Governors of Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

— Flanking is a great thing in Gen. Grant's army now, and the boys know how to appreciate it. One poor fellow, terribly wounded, said he saw the shell coming, "but hadn't time to flank it." And he enjoyed his joke with a smile and a chuckle, though the shell had flanked him by taking off his arm.

— Gen. Grant, in his advance on Richmond, has crossed every line of operations that has ever been planned with Richmond as the objective. He has adopted none, he has bisected all. He is at present on the line of McClellan's peninsular campaign; but will he remain on it? May he not swing across that too?

— A young lady of Wheeling, Va., was recently locked up to keep her from the company of her soldier lover. She managed one dark night to let herself down from her third story window, and joined him, but he refused to elope with her. Love-smitten maiden, imagine her feelings if you can!

— A letter from London announces that George Peabody, the banker, will retire from business in October, and that he is "desirous to spend the greater part of the rest of his life in the United States, but that he has resolved never to gratify that wish until the Union is restored." Mr. Peabody has done much for the poor of London: before the war he founded Institutes at Danvers, Mass., and Baltimore; with his great wealth he has been liberal. But has he done much for the cause of the Union? Has he given of his abundance to those who are fighting for the liberties of his native country—for the Union that he is waiting to see restored?

GOVERNMENT FINANCES.—Secretary Chase is understood to have closed the negotiation of a loan of fifty millions with the New York banks. He is to draw the money as needed and in return give the banks six per cent. certificates of deposit to be used at the clearing house. The certificates can be paid in on account of the loan. This will, it is said, prevent stringency in the money market.

The Loan bill reported in the House of Representatives provides for a loan of four hundred millions of dollars at six per cent. interest, payable in gold, or seven three-tenths per cent. payable in currency. The Secretary is authorized to dispose of the bonds in the United States or Europe. He is also authorized to issue 7 3-10 Treasury notes, to be substituted in lieu of any notes issued under previous acts of Congress, and to make temporary loans for not less than thirty days at a rate not exceeding six per cent. This bill will be the only law under which the public debt can be increased before July 1, 1865.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacture of this article.

J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided lightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress, it entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterwards willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as at ove, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in the city and throughout the different States.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 TREMONT ROW, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give a discount for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. "A Wonderful Discovery."
DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

NEW HIGHWAYS.—Mr. Editor: Noticing a petition presented to the City Council from the residents of Freeman's Point, so called, for a new highway to that place, it led me to inquire if they had any claims upon the city to grant them improved highway facilities, or if by granting it, it would increase, to any extent, the value of the city. By examining the valuation book, I find that the Freeman farm, previous to its being divided into lots, and a portion of them sold, paid a tax on a valuation of $5000—since which time, or for a period of seven years, it has steadily increased its valuation, owing to the improvements made by the purchasers of the land, until it now pays a tax on $9000; or an increase of $4000, without asking or receiving one cent from the city for any purpose whatever. They now ask, and I think very justly too, that the city will aid them in obtaining a new highway. Not only are the petitioners to be benefitted, but others, I understand, have purchased land there, and contemplate building thereon as soon as the accommodations asked for are obtained, thereby increasing the wealth as well as the population of our city.

When the city is called upon to make improvements of this character for the accommodation, more particularly, of a portion of its citizens, if the property in the vicinity is thereby increased in value sufficiently to pay the interest on the outlay, the city would be justified in granting the improvement; and even when the increase in valuation is not obtained immediately, if there is a probability of its being reached, it would be equally entitled to consideration. These inducements, I learn, have been held out by the petitioners, they having agreed with the city authorities to consent to an increase of valuation of 50 per cent. upon the present value of their property, if the city will give them the accommodations asked for, which will nearly, if not quite, pay the interest upon the amount required the present year, and they will guarantee that it will more than pay it in five years. And now, in view of these facts, I see no reason why the city authorities should hesitate for a moment to grant the petition.

PROGRESS.

☞ There are employed at present on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, about eighteen hundred workmen; and one would suppose that among so large a number of men, accidents would be of frequent occurrence. It very rarely happens, however, that a man is killed outright, and the average number of casualties will not exceed two per month. The following persons were the victims of disaster at the Navy Yard on Wednesday. An Irishman, named Richard FitzGerald, a laborer employed in the Master's Department, was knocked into the hold of the Colorado by the parting of one or two guys, which severely injured him. He has a wife and family at the South End.—Another, named John H. Watson, also a laborer, jammed his foot badly by a stick of timber. We believe he resides in this city.

☞ A large number of spectators assembled on Wednesday afternoon to witness the launching of the little propeller just built on Russell's Wharf. The Cornet Band were on board, and as the steamer started from the ways, struck up a patriotic air. The launch was the smoothest we recollect of ever seeing, the vessel hardly clearing the ways by twice her length before she was brought up.

☞ Partial lists of the killed and wounded at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., June 3, state that James Locke, Co. K, 2d N. H. regiment, and Michael Hare and C. L. Hoitt, of Co. G, 10th N. H. regiment, were wounded. They are all residents of this city.

☞ Mr. Frost, of the City Hotel, advertises that he has increased and improved the livery stock at the stone stable, connected with his hotel; and his past successful experience here and at Great Falls proves that he knows how to keep both a hotel and a stable.

☞ Lieut. Frank D. Webster, U. S. M., of this city, (who has just recovered from severe sickness by accidental poisoning) has been ordered to report for station duty at Charlestown Navy Yard, the 15th inst.

☞ Lieut. Col. Dawson, of the 15th U. S. Infantry, has relieved Maj. Gardiner in the command of Forts Constitution and McClary, and the coast batteries in Maine.

☞ The New York Express of Tuesday says: "The cattle speculators have got a black eye this week, and we hope will get a worse one next. Perhaps it is all right to speculate in bread and meat, so as to deprive one-half of the people from enjoying their usual allowance, but 'we don't see it.' Three hundred head of cattle were left over at noon to-day, and a hundred and more have arrived since. Many speculators who control this city through the Albany market are powerless in every other direction. To-day there was probably not less than ten thousand dollars lost by owners holding cattle over from Monday morning. Their greed proved their loss."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

— Mr. Larkin T. Lee, of Manchester, has been appointed Acting Master's Mate in the Navy.

— Wolfborough has voted to authorize the Selectmen to procure substitutes for those recently drafted from that town, the conscripted men to pay one hundred dollars each.

— Rev. Elbridge G. York, pastor of the F. B. Church in Wolfborough, was drafted in Concord last week. He has three brothers in the service; two others have been honorably discharged; a sixth enlisted but was rejected on account of physical disability; and he has twice offered himself and been rejected for the same reason. He now stands ready to answer this call, and if accepted will enter the service.

— A Freedom correspondent of the Wolfboro News gives the following:

A prominent Democrat, in a town not a thousand miles from here, was boasting to a knot of men collected in a store, of the many voters he could and had hired. "There," said he, "pointing to a staid looking farmer, "is a man that I hired to carry a vote last year." "Yes," said the farmer, pulling something worn and crumpled from his sleeve, "I have carried it ever since; here it is, you may have it if you want it." The laugh came in about that time.

☞ Several letters have passed between Gen. Grant and Gen. Lee in respect to collecting the dead and wounded between the two armies. Gen. Grant, in the closing letter, regrets that all his efforts for alleviating the sufferings of the wounded men left on the battle field have been rendered nugatory. Two rebel officers and six men, sent out to search for the wounded of their commands, were captured in consequence of the enemy not delivering Gen. Lee's letter until after the hour he named had expired. Gen. Grant has notified Gen. Lee that they were captured through a misunderstanding, and will not be held as prisoners, but will be returned.

Grant's is a face that tells no tales—a face impassive in victory or defeat; face of stone; a sphinx face! Not of him can it be said, as Lady Macbeth to her lord: "Thy face, my thane, is as a book, wherein one may read strange things." Rather is it a palimpsest, whose obscured characters escape the scrutiny of the keenest-eyed searcher. Nothing, indeed, could be more striking than the contrast presented by the two commanders, as they stood in consultation on that bare hill, with their faces turned Richmond-ward. The small form with the slight stoop in the shoulders, sunken grey eyes, still, reserved demeanor, impassive face and chin as of a bull-dog or close-set steel trap—that is Grant; the tall figure, with the nervous, emphatic articulation and action, and face as of antique parchment—that is Meade—and the antipodes could not bring together a greater contrast.—Cor. Times.

"I wonder where those clouds are going?" sighed Flora, pensively, as she pointed with her finger to the heavy masses that floated in the sky. "I think they are going to thunder," said her brother.

A CAPTAIN of a vessel loading coals went into a merchant's counting-house, and requested the loan of a rake. The merchant looking toward his clerks, replied: "I have a number of them, but none I believe wish to be hauled over the coals."

What is the most remarkable difference between the ancients and the moderns? The ancients urned their dead, and the moderns earn their living.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ Diarrhea and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.
They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.
The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

LINES

WRITTEN FOR THE CHILDREN'S FAIR.

Those who remember our defenders, serve the UNION and may honestly share their victories.

BY DANIEL A. DROWN.

Ye valiant men who nobly stand
In front to meet the foe,
Ye shall the highest praise command,
That freemen can bestow,
While we by deeds and words shall prove
Our loyalty and zeal,
For who that boasts a patriot's love,
But has a heart to feel?

We count with pride your victories o'er,
Obtained on sea and land,
Remembering all the toils you bore,
Ne'er shrinking at command;
While we, your "corps reserve" remain
Fit helpers in your needs,
For though we bear no battle-stain,
We show our loyal deeds.

Our busy hands from morn till night
Are serving you with pride,
While eager to maintain the RIGHT,
Like true men by your side.
Our hearts, though sad at your distress,
Yet know no ill dismay,
We rally at your call to bless
Our noble van to-day.

Secure within our homes we bear
No beat of iron hail,
Nor shouts of men who know no fear,
When rushing to assail;
We see no blood-stained track of war,
Marked by the thousands slain,
Nor hear the rumbling harvest-car,
That gathers living grain;

But with the deepest sympathies,
Our hearts beat for the brave,
Who, sundered far from dearest ties,
Have found a cruel grave;
E'er honored with their Country's fame,
As champions for the RIGHT,
These martyrs win a royal name,
Wreathed with immortal light.

Who helps a soldier in his need,
And seeks to smooth his way,
Performs a loyal part indeed,
As those who fight to-day.
He, who the bondman's cause defends,
Rebellion's power would quell,
A moral power effective lends,
That serves the UNION well.

Our cause is just. TRUTH will prevail,
It never can be slain,
Though myriad foes her walls assail,
She rises strong again:
On her unfurled front she wears
The signet of her power,
And LIBERTY—her sister—bears
Her shield this very hour.

The sacrifice of precious life
Shall not be all in vain,
Evolving from this lingering strife,
FREEDOM shall rise again.
Around her sceptre men shall stand,
Who boast no knavery,
Who nevermore shall feel the brand
Imposed by slavery.

God help our Brave! who nobly share
The burden of the strife,
Who manfully all dangers dare,
Who give their all—their life.
They live as heroes, to secure
Life's sweetest boon to ALL,
And, willing e'en to make it sure,
As honored martyrs fall.

God save our Country! still we pray,
Subdue our reckless foes!
Their cruel impious vengeance stay!
Which breeds such bitter woes.
Protect the poor! Defend the RIGHT!
Restrain the wrath of men!
Let FREEDOM's banner greet our sight,
And PEACE soon smile again!

Protect to-day our valiant host!
Direct them by THY power!
Else vain will be the strength we boast,
In this important hour.
Let pæans of great Victory
Soon ring through all the land,
And GOD be praised that LIBERTY
Can in her grandeur stand.

Gray's Patent Molded Collars

Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting collars extant.

The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles noticed in all other collars.

The crystal cases no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH INSIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.

The Gazette Collar has a smooth and evenly finished edge on BOTH SIDES.

These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND SHAPED TO FIT THE NECK.

They are made in "Novelty" (or turn-down) style, in every half size from 12 to 17 inches, and in "Enoch" (standing), from 13 to 17 inches; and packed in "solid sizes" in neat blue cartons, containing 100 each; also in smaller cases of 50 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the cest of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate ailments, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with a disease and overcome opponents as been lean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease cannot be eradicated by the "vitiated recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. Disease proceeds from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis,

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Bilious Headache, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath,

Scrofula.

Strumæ, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Tumors.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thought, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly is weak, shaking woman to will the medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Red Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and seduces the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome and lingering Sores, which disfigure so many of the youngest and most lovely in the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends on a Scrofulous Constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and weak, irregular, painful menses, or inflammation and ulceration of the uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart (Case and all the affections of this important organ, which are usually suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Appetite, Coated Tongue, Foul Breath, Languid Feelings, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Nervous Irritability, Low Spirits, Hypochondria, the Blues, Irregular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose, Throat, Lungs, Spine, Joints, Limbs or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon uterine derangement of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the disease, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, dull headache, nausea, vomiting, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex, are all free to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenances, strengthen their weak backs and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is impaired in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth, strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and sickness, gives a healthy tone to the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air ever comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are buffled up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them and deprives them of the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hall,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

THE MORMONS, with 100,000 people in Utah, "boast that in all their settlements is not to be found a drinking saloon, a billiard table, or a bowling alley; and with pride point to their cities, their churches, their school houses, their manufactories, farms, and possessions, as evidences of their achievements and evidences of their industry." They also claim that there is among them an entire absence of that terrible "social evil" which is apparently becoming more and more prevalent, or at any rate more and more public, in "christian" countries in this part of the world.

THE LIFE AND TIMES
—OF—
Benjamin Franklin,
BY JAMES PARTON,
Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler" in New Orleans," etc.
Two vols., Crown 8vo. 707 and 707 pages, with Steel Portrait. Cloth, extra, price $2.
In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give the fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for his benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to maturer readers,) and to append to these a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.
Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be new to all that have not studied the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the best subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.
Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1. Franklin's Apprenticeship to Life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and postmaster, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the sons of Wm. Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and his death in Philadelphia.
The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.
Also, Ready
A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols., crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

Important to the Afflicted.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 8 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pains and distress in the region of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by such habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 8 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and success relief guaranteed in a few days. The invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. It is claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in understanding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1864.

Special Dispatch to the Chronicle.

THE SENATORSHIP.

CONCORD, June 9, 10 o'clock P. M.

The caucus of the Union members of the Legislature for the nomination of a U. S. Senator as successor of Hon. John P. Hale, is being held; but reporters and everybody except members are excluded.

There is a great deal of excitement in regard to their doings, but as they sit with closed doors it is impossible to get particulars. There is a great deal of managing.

Hale's prospects are not considered very good at this hour. He stands fourth on the list of five or six candidates before the caucus. Thus far Gen. Gilman Marston is ahead about a dozen votes. It will be impossible to get any result to night, as they will not probably get through till near morning.

THE REBELLION.

Morgan's forces have invaded East Kentucky again, captured Mount Sterling and Paris, and have destroyed two important bridges between the latter town and Cynthiana. His troops are said to number 2500. They are in detached parties. One gang attacked the passenger train on the Louisville and Lexington Railroad near Smithfield, burned two passenger cars and a baggage car, and robbed the express car.

The gunboat Water Witch was captured by rebel boats in Assabaw Sound, May 3, after a severe fight. An expedition has been fitted out at Port Royal to destroy or capture her.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

The report of a victory by Gen. Hunter, at Staunton, Va., is confirmed. The fighting was on Sunday. The occupation of that town is of great importance, as it breaks up the extreme left of Lee's line, and uncovers it to our advance from that direction. From Staunton it is less than forty miles to Charlottsville, where the road from Lynchburg joins the Virginia Central.

Persons who have arrived at Washington from the front state that Lee's army has fallen back to the south bank of the Chickahominy, and that our troops now confront the rebels on the north bank. Several important changes in the positions of several corps have been made within the last few days. Gen. Grant has taken between 5000 and 6000 prisoners since Friday, 3d.

Detailed accounts by correspondents with Gen. Grant's army show that our forces are busily engaged in digging, entrenching, skirmishing and sharp shooting. Both armies evidently hold positions of great strength, which will probably be overcome by some strategic movement not yet publicly developed.

☞ The Union League have held a convention in Baltimore, having assembled on Monday. At a meeting of the Grand National Council, held Wednesday night, resolutions were adopted, cordially endorsing the nominations of Lincoln and Johnson, and the platform of the Union Convention, and pledging all the efforts of the League for their triumphant success. A committee was appointed to go to Washington and inform the President of this action. It was also voted to hold another meeting in New York between now and November if it shall be thought best. The League numbers over 700,000 voters, which is a good force to start with.

An important replevin suit, (executors of the late David Pingree vs. John Goddard) was lately tried in St. John, N. B., in which the Colonel pleaded his own case. Goddard and Pingree have carried on the lumbering business together for several years, Goddard attending to the collection of stumpage, marketing of lumber, &c., and paying over to Pingree his share of the proceeds. About the time that Col. Goddard began to raise his celebrated Cavalry regiment, there was due Pingree quite a sum of money. The logs were sold, by order of Pingree's agent, at prices which the Colonel contended were ruinously low. The logs were replevined and held by the Colonel. The Colonel gained the case.—Aroostook Pioneer.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Davis offered peace resolutions, which the Senate refused to receive. In the House a bill was reported for a railroad between New York and Washington. The Bankrupt bill was rejected, 64 against 65.

MORTALITY ON SHIP BOARD.—The emigration from Ireland is immensely large, and comes almost exclusively in British ships. Several large ships have brought from 800 to 1000 each. Those who come in propellers come quite well, but those brought in sailing vessels suffer greatly in many cases. The packet ship City of New York, arrived on Tuesday, reports the death of thirty-three passengers on the voyage, mostly infants. There were also three births on board. Her total number of passengers was 855.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— It is not true that the Lyndeborough Artillery has been ordered to Washington.

—— The Commencement exercises at the Methodist Biblical Institute in Concord occurred this week, Thursday being commencement day proper.

—— On Wednesday evening, next week, nominations are to be made by the Union Legislative caucus, at Concord, of candidates for Secretary of State, Treasurer, Warden of the Prison, and Commissary General.

—— Letters from Gen. Grant's army say that Gen. Marston's brigade was in the thick of Friday's battle and suffered terribly; Gen. Marston was wounded by a fragment of shell early in the morning, but remained on the field to the end.

—— The usual deluge of requests for change of name is being poured into the House of Representatives. There seem to be too many from ladies: they ought to know an easier way, and avail themselves of it, too.

—— Mr. John B. Sargent of Dover while plowing, on Friday last, died very suddenly of disease of the heart. He was alone at the time, but was seen to fall. Before assistance could be rendered him he was dead.

—— The Monitor states that the validity of the Will of the late Paul R. George is contested by some of the heirs:—Counsel for Mrs. George, Hon. Caleb Cushing and Hon. Mason W. Tappan; for the heirs, Hon. Ira Perley, and Messrs. George, Foster and Sanborn.

—— The arrangements for the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the settlement of Lancaster are being rapidly completed. Mr. J. M. W. Yerrington will report the proceedings, which will be published in pamphlet form. Hon. David H. Mason will preside, and Col. Farrar will deliver the oration.

—— The Concord Monitor states that an intelligent and active Irish lad, in Manchester, some time since became intemperate, committed crime, and, when arrested, fired upon the officer. He was for some months confined in jail, but on consenting to go into the army, was enlisted in the 10th regiment as a substitute. His courage and soldierly conduct have won promotion for him, and he now wears the stripes of a First Lieutenant in the Union Army.

—— "They have murdered me," were the dying words of Lieut. Geo. S. Cobbs of Co. B, 8th Reg., of Exeter, on the 14th of May, in the woods near Alexandria, where we had a skirmish with the rebels. They came upon our pickets in the rear and surrounding the Lieut. he surrendered his arms and was then a prisoner. Afterwards our men came up and the rebels fled, but first shot their prisoner. Our men found him while he had life enough to tell them how they had murdered him. Lieut. D. B. Newhall of the same company tells these facts.—Dover Enquirer.

THE LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—The Senate transacted no business of public interest. In the House, the Grand Jury of Rockingham county, asking for an increase in the fees of jurors, had leave to withdraw. Mr. Hackett, of Portsmouth, gave notice of a bill to incorporate the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls and Conway railroad; and introduced a bill to incorporate the Union Mills. A bill was introduced to abolish the Probate Court held at Plaistow; also a bill providing that owners of occupied woodland, and owners of adjoining land under improvements, shall maintain equally partition fences; also a bill to encourage enlistments.

TURRET SHIPS.—Capt. Coles, the British officer who claims to be the original inventor of the turret style of iron clads, instead of Ericsson, has met with failure in his very first vessel, the Royal Sovereign, which broke down on her trial trip in consequence of a serious defect in the plan of the vessel. One of the turrets, weighing 113 tons, is placed directly over the two after boilers, the weight of the turret resting on four columns under the deck, within a space of eight. The great weight caused the vessel's bottom to bulge, and the boilers were thrown out of gear.

The 6th Corps on Monday marched all day without rations. That night they formed line of battle, and what with the labor of intrenching and several hours of the sight getting rations, they obtained no sleep. On Tuesday, they were engaged with the enemy more or less all day. Tuesday night, on 30 minutes' notice, they marched at midnight, marched till morning, marched till noon, marched till 4 o'clock, and then set to work with all their might intrenching. And the day was one of the sultriest I ever knew, and the roads ankle deep with dust—impalpable Virginia dust, that hung so densely in the air that it became exceedingly palpable. And yet these 6th Corps veterans, hungry for two days, sleepless for three days, fatigued with relentless marching by day and by night, all streaming with perspiration, grim and blear-eyed, their hair dusted to the whiteness of three score years and ten—these men, despite it all, grasped shovels and axes with tawny hands, and sprang to work with never-surpassed vigor, and an hour later exchanged tools for weapons, and fought with unequalled spirit and tenacity. Show me another record that matches this?—Cor. Tribune.

— Gold sold as high as 98 1-8 in New York on Thursday.

THE UNION CONVENTION, at Baltimore, when the vote for Mr. Lincoln was declared, rose to their feet, the galleries responding, and cheers and acclamations rent the air. Caps were swung, handkerchiefs waved, the band played The Star Spangled Banner and Yankee Doodle, bells were rung and there was a big time generally. The delegates from Missouri, under their instructions, could not cast their first vote for him, and voted for Gen. Grant; but before the result was declared, Mr. Hume of that State moved to make the nomination unanimous. The result as declared was—Lincoln 529:

It was then voted to call the roll on the vote for Vice President. Indiana presented Andy Johnson, Iowa seconded it, and Mr. Maynard of Tennessee spoke warmly in support of him. Pennsylvania presented Mr. Hamlin; Kentucky presented Gen. Rosseau; and Mr. Tremaine of New York, in behalf of a portion of the delegation from that State, nominated Daniel S. Dickinson, and spoke earnestly for him. The vote was then taken, and was very much divided.—New Hampshire voted 1 for Johnson, 2 for Butler, 3 for Dickinson, and 4 for Hamlin. The result of the vote, as first cast, is given differently by the different Boston papers. We have carefully examined the figures, and think the following is correct: Johnson 200; Hamlin 150; Dickinson 110; Butler 26; Rosseau 21; Colfax 6; Burnside 2; Holt 2; Preston King 1; David Tod 1. Before the vote was declared, Kentucky changed its vote to Johnson; other States followed, and the vote was announced as follows: Johnson 497; Dickinson 13; Hamlin 9. A motion was then made and carried, declaring the nomination of ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee, as candidate for Vice President, unanimous.

The National Committee was then nominated, John B. Clarke, Esq., of Manchester, being the member from this State. A committee was appointed to wait on Messrs. Lincoln and Johnson, and inform them of their nomination—the President of the Convention being its Chairman, and J. H. Drummond the member from New Hampshire. The thanks of the convention were returned to its officers, and after some other unimportant matters the convention, at half past four o'clock, adjourned sine die.

— In one of the recent battles in Georgia, Gen. Howard, who has lost one arm in the service, had his foot struck by a ball, which took off part of his boot. — Rev. Mr. Spurgeon sometimes receives 400 letters a day. Some of them are anonymous, and many are unpaid. The latter he always refuses; but the other day he refused one which was both unpaid and anonymous, and it went to the dead letter office where it was found to contain a £20 note. He paid the postage on that letter.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of this

J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. We offer the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most fashionable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied at store, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different States.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 81 Dewsbury Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will make no obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a large stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern Vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "REGENERATE HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It will cause a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, where the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

PREPARED and sold by the Post Office and 13 Market Square, Agent for Portsmouth—Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 38 Hanover street, Boston, Wholesale Agent for New England, and sold by Druggists everywhere. TEBBETS BROTHERS, Druggists and Chemists, Proprietors, Manchester, N. H. Je1—tf

☞ A very reprehensible piece of carelessness was exhibited on Wednesday evening by some of the youthful scum that floats so plentifully over our city. The audience at the Temple were startled by a number of stones falling in their midst, thrown in at an open window, the first of which came with sufficient force to knock one of the footlight shades from the stage. Again we say, "Parents, look after your boys at flight," for if the law does not get its hand upon them, some injured or insulted individual may inflict summary punishment.

☞ Mr. Avery has been making enlargements and improvements in his newspaper and fancy goods store, to accommodate the rush and keep up with the times. The newspaper delivery is now at the farther end of the store, but lady callers for the papers will be supplied by a special clerk near the entrance. A salesman for varieties will also be stationed at the opposite counter, not far from the door. Avery keeps a good stock, and sells a heap of goods too.

☞ An unfortunate gentleman from the country visited the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday, in company with two ladies, and in his peregrinations about the Yard stumbled over a rope, fell upon his face, and so severely damaged his nasal organ and its surroundings that he was obliged to put in for repairs. His countenance was literally peeled from the eyes to the chin. The poor man had evidently seen enough of the Navy Yard for that day, and therefore immediately embarked for this side of the river.

☞ A gentleman passing a house at the lower end of State street, yesterday, saw a cage hanging close under the side of an open window, outside, containing a young robin; and the old one was trying in vain to thrust worms between the bars to feed it. It is more than useless to attempt to domesticate the robin—they always die in a few days. Better let him go and live.

☞ It is semi-officially announced that Secretary Welles will next week leave the national capital on his annual tour of the different navy yards. He will first visit New York, then Philadelphia, Boston, Portsmouth, and perhaps New London, which is pretty generally believed to be the site for the new navy yard.

☞ Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, of this city, was re-elected President of the N. H. Historical Society, at its 43d annual meeting at Concord on Wednesday. It is expected that Rev. Dr. Burroughs, of this city, will deliver an address before the Society during the present month.

☞ R. B. Forbes' new steamer "Gen. Grant," at the Pier Wharf, is being rigged. The Ballot says she is to be ship-rigged with Hawes' rig. She will, when masted and sparred, be towed to Boston to receive her machinery, which has not yet arrived from England.

☞ The new ship recently launched at East Boston for Messrs. E. F. Sise, Capt. Jas. S. Salter (who is to be master), and others, of this city, has been named the "Fleetford," in honor of Edward F. Sise, Esq.

☞ We notice the sale of A2 brig Anita Owen, 291 tons, built at Millbridge in 1855, sold at Boston for $12,000, to parties in this city.

☞ The Unitarian Society of this city have changed the hour of their afternoon service to half-past four for the summer months.

☞ Oren Bragdon, Esq., of this city, has purchased a farm in Billerica, Mass., and will at once remove thither.

☞ Harper's Magazine for June is for sale by J. H. Foster. Good, as usual.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.—The Concord Independent Democrat refers as follows to the efforts which have been made to procure a general hospital in this State for sick and wounded soldiers:—

Last November the General Government despatched an Agent to examine and report upon a site for such a hospital in this State. That agent reported. But there was a hitch as to location. Gov. Gilmore naturally enough desired that the hospital should be located in Concord. The authorities at Washington preferred Portsmouth, on account of its convenience of water communication, and stood ready to locate there a hospital of one thousand beds. In December Gov. Gilmore was informed of the readiness of the General Government to carry its proposition into immediate effect. But the Governor adhering to his wish for a hospital with five hundred beds in Concord, the carrying out of the plan contemplated by the General Government was delayed at his request.

— Bark Tamer Thistle, Hara, Bermuda for Wimington, N. C., was captured 4th inst. in lat 32 36, lon 76 04, after a chase of 6 hours, during which she threw most of her cargo overboard. She is an iron side-wheel steamer of 250 tons, and had a general cargo on board.

☞ The city of Newburyport advertises for recruits—the bounties offered being $550—of which the city pays $125, State $325, and the U. S. Government $100.—The city is preparing for the draft which will be ordered by the first of July. Every man obtained will count on the quota, and lessen the call under the law. Those who have become 45, whose names are on the list, are urged to see that they are stricken off, as all such, past the military age, unjustly swell the basis for the quota.

— A contribution of nearly two hundred pictures by foreign artists, which arrived too late for the Metropolitan Fair, will be opened for exhibition in New York for a few days, and then sold by auction.

— The steamer Berkshire, from New York for Hudson, was burned on the Hudson river on Wednesday evening, and 40 lives are reported to be lost. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. Those lost were burned to death in the state rooms.

— Albert W. Patrie, of Albany, N. Y., has received a verdict for $9000 damages, against a U. S. Marshal and his Deputy. He was arrested in August, 1862, for alleged disloyal words, without process, and carried to New York, where he was confined in a cell for several days. A man whose name is Patrie ought to be loyal to the country to the heart's core.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as wholesome as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ Diarrhea and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for the disease Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted, fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not.—When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla.—For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which we quote below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly,—and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Rumball, and all druggists. my25d1taw 2w Tu

CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

Morning Chronicle.

No man follows the army whose grief is not his inability to put on paper what he sees or hears. Wellington long ago declared that a battle cannot be painted, and much more is this true of Virginia battlefields; but the weakness of the pen is not in respect to the battle alone. The constancy and patience, the heroism and self sacrifice which are content to be obscure, such as have characterized our noble army, cannot be adequately told. Names are lost where so many are heroes, but history will honor the Army of the Potomac as the country never has done, and to have taken part in its sublime trials will hereafter be a greater title than to have belonged in Bonaparte's day to his army of Italy.—Cor. Tribune.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome difficulties which have been as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt the permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when some disease down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the equilibrium, and balance the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENTS TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Sycosis, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The worst cases are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have walked for years with blows the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, nervous women will the medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Peeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely of all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the skin, like

ULCERS, SWELLINGS, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to their relatives and best friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Breast, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken so soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the young and beautiful in community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which denote scrofulous corruption in the system. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The system should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra exertion. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling or other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation, Spasms, Nervous Twitches—producing a grating or filing sound), Pain in the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the Heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Disease, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languide of the Muscular System, Pain in the Side and Back.

THE GREAT ORIGINAL

Constitution Life Syrup

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either or the Throat, Nose, Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant for the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is discolouring the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an uneasiness or unhealthy condition of the liver organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands universally by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the nourishment which have used to think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With this stove there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—such as most of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF

Benjamin Franklin,

BY JAMES PARTON,

Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.

Two vols., Crown 8vo, 627 and 707 pages, with Steel Portraits. Cloth, extra, price $5.

In previous biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give the fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to mature readers,) and to append to these a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left as a connected piece, and as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.

Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the more interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes. Interesting as these, Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much that will be new to all that have not made the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, more than any subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.

Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1 Franklin's Apprenticeship to life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the heirs of Wm. Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and Letters in Philadelphia.

The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.

Also, Ready,

A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, greatly enlarged. 2 vols. Crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Canada, England, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal counsel and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIX PATENTS ALL, EVERY ONE of whom was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Syrup, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have noted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENKINS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dis tress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. Extract.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofula in the worst form, and presented to you visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to feel quietly by night and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Over 40,000 have been sold by the manufacturer in a little more than two years—nearly 400 of them in Portsmouth and vicinity!

Buy one and try it—if not perfectly satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is so much an object, now, as the capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK, 3 years ago, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation, some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood of the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

ANDERSON

SPRING BED-BOTTOM,

(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)

Another Triumph of American Genius!

Price Only $6!

This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valuable the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into shape, giving great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.

They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, recommending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.

The reason why we say it is the BEST, All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!

These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Mr. J. C. LANGLEY, Conductor C. & P. R. R.

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The rebel force in Kentucky holds Paris, Georgetown, Cynthiana and Williamsport.

Gen. Sherman's troops are having an active time of it, which, were it not for the greater campaign in Virginia, would arrest the attention of the country. They left Cassville May 22d, and pushed across the river toward Huntsville, skirmishing on the way and reaching that place on the 25th, leaving Altoona, the rebel forts and big guns miles to the left, thus flanking them. Toward evening Gen. Hooker suddenly fell upon the enemy in a swamp and drove him back. The next morning another skirmish took place, and the rebels were again forced back, followed incautiously by our troops, when suddenly masked batteries opened with destructive effect upon our men. Our loss was between 200 and 300 men. On the 28th the army was in position in front of the rebels strongly posted, four miles from Dallas. The next day the enemy massed for an assault on our works. For half an hour the fighting was terrible, and the slaughter of the enemy great. He was driven back in confusion. At the same time a powerful attack was made on Gen. McPherson on the right. The enemy were repulsed, losing from 2000 to 3000 men.—On the 31st a feeble attack was made by the rebels and repulsed. June 3d we entered Dallas.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Sheridan has gone on another very important raide.

Sec. Stanton says: "A deserter who came into our lines reports that Gen. Hunter's victory near Staunton was more complete than the Richmond papers reported. He says Hunter took 20 cannon, many prisoners and a large quantity of stores. The defeated force was recently a part of Breckinridge's command. Gen. Hunter's report has not yet been received."

Correspondents state that on the 7th two divisions of the 5th corps occupied a position from the Railroad Bridge over the Chickahominy to Summers' Bridge, crossing the river two miles above. The enemy were strongly posted on the opposite side with heavy guns. Our lines have been somewhat advanced and placed in a strong position for defence, and our ranks are still being filled rapidly by reinforcements. About 4 P. M. Monday the rebels made another desperate charge on the 9th army corps works and were again disastrously repulsed.

Official dispatches from the army of the Potomac to 9 o'clock Thursday evening, report that there was no firing on Wednesday except by pickets, and that there were no movements on Friday.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Hon. Charles E. Potter, of Hillsborough, is the new Agricultural editor of the Manchester Mirror. He is a practical farmer, and has had much experience in conducting agricultural papers.

—— A war correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, in a letter dated at Cold Harbor, Va., June 5, gives the following:

All day yesterday a wounded officer of a New Hampshire regiment lay some twenty yards in front of Gen. Marston's works, unable to crawl in, and the Rebel sharpshooters would suffer none to go out for him. He had fallen the day before in the morning assault, and the lines as finally established left him midway between friend and enemy. One man had been severely wounded in attempting to reach him. Hard bread was shied out to him in abundance, but a dozen canteens were thrown away before one lodged within his grasp. Finally, night setting in, opens a chance to get him off. A zigzag is started from the main works; men work with zeal and well-directed muscle, but noiselessly, as though they were the original managing directors of "Off in the Silly Night." Three hours of such work and the wounded man is reached; is pulled into the trench; is carried triumphantly back its tacking course, and then is received behind cover with great cheers. The cheers cause a volley, but the volley is harmless, and the man is saved. I am chagrined that I have been unable to ascertain this officer's name.

☞ Max Roth, a lad of only 15 years, lately in the employ of Messrs. Boody & Co., bankers, Wall street, New York, called, on the 31st ult., at the Marine Bank, where the firm had just deposited $76,000, and under pretence of correcting a mistake, procured the bank book of the firm, abstracted $6,088 from it, altered the figures to correspond with the amount thus taken, returned the book to the bank officers, and for nearly two weeks—that time having elapsed before the theft was discovered—indulged in fast horses, fast women and champagne suppers. He was arrested on Wednesday, after having spent over $2000 of the stolen money.

— The store of F. A. Day, on Factory Island, Saco, Me., was broken into on Sunday morning, and about $1000 worth of silks stolen therefrom, as we learn from the Democrat.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY.—The Senate referred the matter of the State Capital to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Harris, Hatch and Mason. A bill to prevent cruelty to animals was introduced.

In the House a bill to encourage volunteering was introduced. It directs the State Treasurer to pay $550 to every enrolled militia man liable to do duty, ten days after he has been accepted by the Government, or furnished an acceptable substitute, and prohibits towns from paying any bounty.—The following bills were passed: to extend the suspension of specie payments by banks; to encourage enlistments in the First N. H. Cavalry; to incorporate the Union Mills.

THE SENATORSHIP.—The excitement in Concord on Thursday evening was very great. The informal ballot at the Union caucus for a candidate for Senator was as follows: Marston 57; Cragin 49; Hale 35; Tuck 32; Edwards 24; Scattering 5: Total 202. The first, second and third formal ballots resulted in no choice, Marston leading on the first and the second, and Cragin on the third. The fourth ballot resulted as follows: Whole number 201; necessary for a choice 101; Cragin had 126, and Marston 75; and the nomination of Aaron H. Cragin of Lebanon was, on motion, declared unanimous. He is a native of Weston, Vt., but since boyhood has been a resident of Lebanon. He is a lawyer, has been two years a Representative in Congress, and has held many other important offices.

Wednesday next has been assigned for the election of Senator.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN learned of his renomination on Wednesday, at the War Office, and expressed his surprise at the curious action of the Convention, (as it seemed to him) thinking it "had got the cart before the horse." In the evening, many called to offer congratulations, and the next morning a large majority of the Convention called personally, or in delegations, to express their gratification at the result of their labors.

Gov. Denison and the committee of the Convention waited on him at the White House, on Thursday afternoon, and Gov. D. in appropriate terms informed him of the action taken at Baltimore, and stated that the committee would in the course of a few days, through Mr. George W. Curtis of New York, communicate to him by letter more at length the circumstances under which he had been placed in nomination,—at the same time presenting him with a copy of the resolutions. Mr. Lincoln responded, expressing his gratitude that the Union people, through their Convention, in their continued effort to save and advance the nation, have deemed him not unworthy to remain in his present position. He also expressed his approval of the declaration in favor of an amendment to the Constitution to prohibit slavery throughout the nation, regarding such a result as a fitting and necessary conclusion to the final success of the Union cause.

The inevitable shaking of hands, and shaking of sides at the President's "stories" followed. A South Carolina delegate expressed his regret that, after coming so far to vote for Mr. Lincoln at the Convention, their delegation had been left out in the cold. "Never mind," respond Mr. Lincoln, "you come from a hot State, and will soon be all right again."

The members of the National Union League Convention called on the President during the same afternoon, to congratulate him. Speeches, of course, were indulged in, and the President in the course of his, said:—

I have not permitted myself, gentlemen, to conclude that I am the best man in the country; but I am reminded, in this connection, of a story of an old Dutch farmer, who remarked to a companion that "it was not best to swap horses when crossing a stream."

In the evening the President was serenaded, and responded in his usual laconic style. After stating that he supposed they had done him this kindness in connection with the Baltimore Convention, which has recently taken place, and with which of course he was very well satisfied, he continued:

What we want still more than Baltimore conventions or Presidential elections is success under Grant. I wish that you constantly bear in mind that the support you owe to the brave officers and men in the field is of the very first importance, and we should, therefore, lend all our energies to that point. Now, without detaining you any longer, I propose you help me to close up what I am now saying with three rousing cheers for Gen. Grant and the officers and soldiers under his command.

Three hearty cheers were then given as proposed, the President leading off and swinging his hat with as much earnestness as the most enthusiastic person present.

— A daughter of Moses Hanscom, jr., of Waterville, Me., 16 years old, while visiting the cascade on the Messalonskee stream, with a Sabbath School party, accidentally slipped, and fell forty feet over the precipice, striking her head against a rock, producing instant death. The body passed into the deep water below and sank, but was recovered.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

A friend has handed us a copy of the "Independent Chronicle, and Universal Advertiser," a paper printed in Boston June 26, 1777.—from which we gather most curious matters;—the first we notice is a letter against extortion, purporting to be from the soldier,—though it was more probably from some manager.

Messrs. Printers.—Please to insert the following in your next, and you will oblige a lover of his country:

"To the Public with the Civil Officers, as the Fathers of the Age:

We the soldiery, are now embarked in the common cause, and stand for the defence of our country.

We pause——but with the pause, ask this solemn question: Shall our wives and children starve at home, while our bodies form the bulwark of the States? Your regulating bill, we confess, inspired; thus we became the Publick's.

——Then maintain your word while we defend you.

Death is esteemed by us a rugged monster; yet poverty more rugged still; for the one delivers us from, the other brings more evils with it, and if we escape the former, the latter will be our certain doom.

If 'tis said, who shall be deemed in fault, this is the answer: The grocery Merchant begins first to devour, and then the once, called honest Farmer plays on the string of avarice, calling it self-defence; and we, who work for wages, are cut between the whetted steel.

Yet at last the Merchant conquers; for while the Farmer claims £50 per cent., the Merchant calls for £1000; so the Farmer is wronged, the soldier robbed, and the few swallow up the many.

Let these hints excite our civil rulers to their duty. AMICUS PATRIÆ."

The following items about the war in 1777, have some interest at the present time.

It is reported, and believed, that ammunition and clothing are deposited, by order of a certain European Court, at New Orleans and the Havannah, with directions to lend them to such American vessels as may call for them.

The army of the United States, now in the field at different poets, amount by an exact calculation, to near 30,000. They are all enlisted either for three years, or during the war.

By a gentleman from Charlestown, South Carolina, we learn, that seven armed French vessels, one of them mounting twenty guns, arrived there about the 5th of May.

General Prescott, who commands at Rhode Island, has, by advertisement, offered a reward of 200 dollars, for discovering the author of a treasonable paper posted up in a place in Newport.

— Gold reached 199 on Friday.

— They were to raise a campaign flag in Portland last evening.

— Mr. Lincoln will move to the Soldiers' Home in a few days, and remain there till Autumn.

— The Provost Marshal General, President Lincoln and Secretary Stanton urge the repeal of the exemption clause.

— The submarine vessel built at Springfield with considerable mystery has been completed and sent southward.

— Ship building is now brisk at Bath, Me., there being more than ten thousand tons in process of construction: eight ships, two steamers, one bark and one schooner.

— A clerk in one of the Boston banks had $3200 stolen from his pocket, while at the office of the Assistant Treasurer, on Thursday.

— Another English house, Brandon & Noah, has come to grief, having become bankrupt though losses in attempting to run the blockade.

— A Providence man cautions the public, by advertisement in the Boston Journal, against purchasing certain jewelry of his wife,—diamond rings, a watch, etc.

— The U. S. Senate on Thursday adopted an amendment to the Enrollment bill, providing that three years' men be credited as three to one of the one year men.

— A child, they say, was born in Illinois the other day, with a very distinct resemblance of the American flag upon its shoulder. The stripes are perfect, but the stars are not so well formed, being dimmer in outline.

— The Edinburg Scotsman reports that more than twenty fast steamers, fitted out in British ports, have been engaged for the blockade running business this summer.—All are to carry valuable cargoes, to rendezvous at Nassau, and to make their way thence as best they may to the ports of the rebel States.

— By a recent accident on the Petersburg and Weldon R. R., a South Carolina rebel soldier was killed. He was on his way home, wounded, being the last of nine brothers—seven having been killed, and one died from wounds received on the field of battle.

— A man in Fall River was drafted the other week, and he being a poor man and having a family of children dependent on his daily toil, his friends and acquaintances undertook to raise money to enable him to obtain a substitute or procure commutation. They succeeded in raising from $300 to $400, which they passed into his hands, but instead of reporting himself to the Marshal, he left for New York and took the boat for California.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.
A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN
HOOP SKIRTS.
The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.
J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacture of this.
J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.
This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different States.

SPECIAL NOTICE
To Shoe Dealers.
The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to his opportunity of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 33 Tremont Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is that a large stock of the best quality can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. LETTER FROM GOV. GILMORE. To the Concord Daily Monitor:—The statement made in the Independent Democrat of this week, in regard to the proposition to establish a hospital in Portsmouth, is utterly and unqualifiedly false, as the writer, whoever he was, must have known. The United States Government never said to me that they would locate a hospital either at Portsmouth or any other place, for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers. They did promise that the first hospital that was built in any New England State should be at Concord, N. H. I have urged in person, by letter and through our Senators and Representatives, the fact that justice and humanity demanded that our noble State, which has responded so promptly to every call made by the Government, should be treated as well as other New England States; but up to this time I have had no official notice whatever of the location, or intent of Government to grant a hospital at any point in our State. Every word I uttered in my message before the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in regard to the treatment which our State had received from the General Government is true, and I might have said very much more on the same subject. The statement in the Independent is characteristic of the insinuations and falsehoods put forth by what is called the "Concord Clique," who set themselves up as the dictators and controllers of the people of New Hampshire.—They have done all they could, not only at home, but at Washington, to annoy myself, the Honorable Council and other State officers associated with me. I regret the necessity that demands of me this explanation, but in justice to myself and the Executive Department I state the facts as they exist.

Very Respectfully,
J. A. GILMORE.

All others may keep them on."

— The brick stores, Nos. 16 and 17 Rowe's wharf, Boston, occupied by A. S. & W. G. Lewis, commission merchants, was badly injured by fire on Friday morning. ☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ Diarrhea and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

BOSTON FURNITURE.—This is a great country we live in, and it requires a great deal of Furniture to make every house a pleasant home. But where all the furniture comes from is a mystery, until we enter the premises of Messrs. BEAL & HOOPER, of Boston, on Haymarket Square. From this establishment some furniture comes to our State and city, as well as farther east. Massachusetts and all the other New England States come in for a share—but for the products of this establishment there is no "Pent up Utica." The States of New York, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, &c., are furnished with the Parlor furniture of Beal & Hooper. More than a hundred hands are kept in regular employment, and the rooms of the establishment probably cover two acres of flooring. And yet, as you pass from room to room, all seems quietly going on like clockwork, and you almost hear the ticking of the great machine say—"Syste-matic—Syste-matic." In fact this one word is the key to Mr. Hooper's conducting an establishment of so great an extent and with a full personal knowledge of the transactions in every department, and at the same time give a courteous reception to every visitor.

Our Government has surrendered "Col. Don Jose Augustin Argnelles," a Lieut. Governor of a District in Cuba, for crimes, and he has been sent to the Governor General. The laws of Spain forbid the slave traffic; but the Gov. General, for a private bonus, has evaded it. The slaves are landed in some of the eastern Districts of the island, and smuggled amongst the planters. They cost about $60 in Africa, and bring $700 on an average in Cuba. A large cargo was landed in Argnelles' district, and the owners supposed they had made all right with him; when he suddenly seized the negroes and denounced their entry—sold on his own account 140 of them at $700 each—a clear speculation of $100,000—bribed the Priest to record a forged certificate of the death of these 140, and their burial, and then cleared himself for New York, where he was tracked, arrested and sent home. The Governor General will show him no mercy, of course, he having been thus cheated out of his Doubloon bonus for every slave, by his underling's "love of money," and more grasping rascality. As there exists no treaty for giving up persons who had committed crimes in Spain or its dominions, the affair has assumed much interest.

CITY COUNCIL.

In Common Council, Thursday evening, the committee of enquiry respecting the alterations in Jefferson Hall, reported the same as being done by direction of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, that the Hall is to be fitted up at a cost of $1200—part of the money to come from the contingent fund, the rest to be paid out of the surplus of appropriation for other purposes.

A petition to the Board of Aldermen from Lafayette Laighton and others to have the front of Jefferson Hall placed back a number of feet, and an addition made to the east end of the building, was received from the Board of Aldermen and returned without action.

A joint resolution that there be a Joint committee to hear the petitions upon the subject, was sent down and non-concurred in.

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The Common Council of this City have the sole power to originate all appropriations of money for city expences, and joint power with the Board of Aldermen over all City Lands; and

Whereas, a plan for the alteration of Jefferson Hall into a suite of rooms for the city officers being submitted to said Common Council was by them deemed entirely inexpedient, and no appropriation of any money made for said purpose, yet the Board of Aldermen have nevertheless proceeded to carry out said plan on their own responsibility; therefore

Resolved, That this Common Council consider this action of the Board of Aldermen as uncourteous and illegal.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Common Council be directed to communicate this Preamble and Resolutions to the Board of Aldermen, and have the same published in the papers of this city.

In the Board of Aldermen it was considered necessary that the Mayor should sign the Appropriation Bill, and Ald. Rider was appointed messenger to the Mayor, (now in Vermont) to obtain his signature.

Health Regulations.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. And whenever any person or persons shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

Morning Chronicle.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC SOLDIER.—Fitzroy Grover, of North Chelsea, a member of Co. H, Mass. 1st, is reported by his comrades to be a very enthusiastic soldier in the field. In the second day's battle of the Wilderness, Grover was in a position not far from some cannon, blazing away with his musket as fast as he could load and discharge, having a good time to himself, apparently all unconscious of anything or anybody else. An order was given to advance the cannon referred to, a few feet. All Grover heard of this order was the word advance, and, with a loud yell he sprang up and rushed across the field in the face of the enemy. The other boys, supposing they had mistaken the order, and that Grover was right, caught the enthusiasm, and pushed after him; the impulse was communicated to the whole line, when a simultaneous charge was made upon the enemy, and between three and four hundred prisoners captured.

Grays Patent
Molded Collars

Have now been before the public for nearly a year; they are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting collars extant.

The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles observable in other collars.

The cravat causes no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH INSIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.

The Garotte Collar has a smooth and evenly finished edge on both sides.

These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND STAMPED TO FIT THE NECK.

They are made in the "Novelty" (or turn-down) style, in every half size from 13 to 17 inches, and in "Garotte" (Gardette) from 13 to 17 inches; and packed in neat boxes containing a dozen each, taking 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.

☞ EVERY COLLAR is stamped
"Gray's Patent Molded Collar."

Constitution Life Syrup.
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
Formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Director New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopeless or incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as bronze as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt the permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body is in a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the disease. What we aim to effect is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all HEREDITARY DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life syrup is the only effective means of restoration to the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Dyspeptic Cough, Biliousness, Want of appetite, Flatulence, Sick Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, Neuralgia, The Dolorous.

Where is any disease in which the Constitution Life syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, the joints are free of tortures, of 10 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day they read this advertisement. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Red Gum, Sores in Bones, Deposits Spots.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases, such as
ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,
And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disgure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,
Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome and dangerous sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to these affections in the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and the terrible Dropsy of the ovarian sac, and generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life syrup. The disease known as Goitre, or Swollen Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is accompanied with a hardened stricture, which will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced Without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Hypertrophy, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or sling sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, are by Constitution Life Syrup, accurate pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (Whites in females) where all the old nauseous nostrums have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ For the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—they will cure diseases at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will send free, to any address, a full treatise.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than any other oven plates used, including the patent, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which articles can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would call the attention of those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to produce the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the firepot, which prevents them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., | Alfred Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill, | Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, | John Sise, and others.

☞ A travelling correspondent of the Fort Wayne (Indiana) Sentinel says:

A noticeable feature in traveling through the country is the number of women you see working in the fields, holding the plow, dropping or hoeing corn, and engaging in other unfeminine pursuits—very suggestive of the fact that we have a war on hand, drawing a greater portion of the men from their legitimate business and forcing the women to take their places in the field (not the tented, but the agricultural).

NOW READY.
THE LIFE AND TIMES
—OF—
Benjamin Franklin,
BY JAMES PARTON.
Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.
Two vols., Crown 8vo, 1427 and 1507 pages, with Steel Portraits. Cloth, extra, price $5.
In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to give a few fragments of Autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to mature readers,) and to append to these a large portion of Franklin's public career. A considerable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride misleads and prevents.
Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be seen to have not heretofore been deemed of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the best subject for biography to be found in the annals of America: His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.
Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1. Franklin's Apprenticeship to Life, which opens with his startling in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career; as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years' contest with the sons of William Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their efforts to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services to the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last Years and Latest Services.
The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.
Also, Ready,
A new edition of PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols. crown 8vo, steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

Important to the Afflicted.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
"PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE."
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pains and swellings, loss of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the hopes and blasts the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit are—Loss of vigor, Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Nervous Irritation, Dyspepsia, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, Loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consider the duties of married life, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your disease, and the money, $1 for one box of Fresh Capotiee, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N.B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every nature, and never fails, have he his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
N. B.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE STOCK OF EVERY KIND
—OF—
KITCHEN FURNISHING GOODS.
HALEY, MORSE & BOYDEN'S
SELF-ADJUSTING
CLOTHES WRINGER,
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
Over 40,000 have been sold by the manufacturer in a little more than two years—nearly 400 of them in Portsmouth and vicinity!
Buy one and try it—if not perfectly satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.
We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.
Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible; but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.
One of our abovestated customers purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.
A second purchaser, a friend purchased one, and after it had been in operation, some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house," his father and himself used wood of the same pile as before and three baskets full a day; and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.
These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use the full length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valuable the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under bedsteads at fifty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel force was defeated in a skirmish near Moorfield, West Virginia, on the 7th, and driven to the mountains.

There have been several expeditions in the vicinity of Hilton Head: one toward Secessionville drove the rebels from their breastworks at Battery Island. Gen. Gordon made a dash on the rebel force in front of Jacksonville, Fla., June 1, causing them to flee in confusion.

Firing on Charleston and Fort Sumter is still kept up at intervals. The rebel officer in command, it is said, has called for 5000 men, and has been told that they cannot be spared.

Malbone has been blockading the Mississippi near Greenville, about 70 miles above Vicksburg, but his rebel troops have been withdrawn.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

The Richmond Examiner says: Gen. Hunter has occupied Staunton, Va., driving Jones twelve miles from the battlefield to do it. Rumors prevailed that the Union forces have moved forward and occupied Lexington.

We have at length unofficial Union accounts of Gen. Hunter's important victory. The Richmond papers did not tell half the story. Our troops whipped Jones and Imboden, killing the latter, and captured six field-pieces, besides other cannon of heavy calibre, over $1,000,000 worth of stores, and hundreds of prisoners. All the railroad property was destroyed. Our loss was not large. The rebels, at first, in a complete stampede, went towards the Blue Ridge.

A steamer from Bermuda Hundred reports all quiet with Butler's forces, with the exception of a little firing in the direction of Petersburg on Thursday morning.

Two divisions of one of Gen. Meade's corps on Wednesday moved to Dispatch Station, and took possession of this side of the railroad bridge over the Chickahominy. This is considerably to the south east of the recent operations. Here the stream is not more than one hundred yards in width, although the bridge is three times as long. All the track is in excellent running order. Our troops at once dug rifle pits and began long lines of fortifications. The Washington Republican of Friday thinks that on the 10th of June, 1863, the situation before Vicksburg was not half so promising for the evacuation of that place on the 4th of July following, as is the situation to-day before Richmond.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

The following is Sec. Stanton's official bulletin, dated Washington, June 10:—

Official reports from headquarters, army of the Potomac, down to five o'clock, P. M., Friday, detail no movements of importance.

A dispatch from Gen. Sherman, dated Friday, states that our cavalry on Thursday night developed the position of the enemy in a line along the hills from Kennesaw to Lost Mountain, and are now marching by roads to Kennesaw.

A dispatch from Gen. Butler, dated Saturday A. M., 1 o'clock, reports all quiet along our lines. On Friday Gen. Kautz charged on Gurney's works at Petersburg, and carried them, penetrating the town; but not being supported by Gen. Gilmore, who had withdrawn his forces without a conflict, Gen. Kautz was obliged to withdraw without further effect. Gen. Kautz captured 40 prisoners and 1 piece of artillery, which he brought away with him.

A dispatch from Gen. Canby, dated Vicksburg, June 4, states that Gen. Emory reports an attempt by Taylor's rebel force to cross the Atchafalaya, which was frustrated. The troops that had crossed were scattered, and large quantities of commissary stores were captured.

Gen. Burbridge, commanding in Kentucky, in a dispatch dated at Lexington, reports that after concentrating his force at the mouth of Beaver Creek, on the Big Sandy, he moved his force against Morgan's force in Virginia, as far west as Gladesville. Morgan, with 2500 men, moved into Kentucky, via Whitesburg. Gen. Burbridge pursued, and by marching 90 (?) miles in 24 hours came upon him at Mount Sterling Friday A. M., and defeated him. By stealing fresh horses Morgan reached Lexington by 2 o'clock this (Saturday) A. M. Our forces held the fort, and the rebels did but very little damage. He left there at 7 A. M. for Versailles. Gen. Burbridge will start in pursuit with a fresh force this evening.

No official report has yet been received from Gen. Hunter.

E. M. STANTON, Sec. of War.

— Gold fell to 193 on Saturday.

— The steamer Doregan, with an assorted cargo, was captured, June 6th, by the blockading fleet off Mobile.

— The Isabel, another blockade runner, was captured off Texas May 28th, after a fight. She had a cargo of powder, arms, percussion caps, and medicines.

— A blockade running steamer was destroyed off Wilmington, N. C., June 2, and her captain, 29 of her crew, and 3 passengers, including a bearer of important dispatches from London to Richmond, were captured.

OUR ARMY MISSION.

Extracts from Rev. Mr. Patterson's Letters.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 4.

I am about going to Norfolk to see if I can make a draft upon the stores of the Sanitary Commission. They have a very large depot of supplies in Norfolk, but none at all here. You ask if it would not be well for me to place my funds in charge of the Commission. I have done so to some extent, but it is better for me, and for the soldiers, to have some money at my command. I made a deposit in Washington, and am ordering supplies from the N. H. Relief Association as I require them. I am also ordering stores in Baltimore, where I obtain them on precisely the same terms as the Christian Commission.

I wish you could follow me in my rounds for a single day. It is my custom to go through the wards with lemonade and oranges, also paper and envelopes, which I distribute to all who need them. As I pass along, if any one wants any little delicacy, such as jellies, &c., I take his order and get it for him. I also supply them with shirts, drawers, socks, slippers, &c., as they are needed, either from my own, or Government stores. Active hands and busy feet are needed here. And then a word of cheer to some sufferer, or a prayer by the couch of one appointed unto death, is worth more than supplies.

In passing through one ward this morning, a poor German, to whom I had ministered at Point of Rocks and on board the transport, recognized me and beckoned me to his side. He had been bleeding until his life was almost gone. He asked me to pray for him, and when I had done so he said—"Now I am ready to go; all is bright before me and I am happy. Death does not seem to me as I expected it would. I did want to live, but now I want to go home."

I see indications of faith here which shame the infidelity of some in happier places. When my German friend had ceased speaking, the surgeon knelt by his couch, watching the man closely, feeling his pulse, and noting all the effects of the prayer upon him. He afterwards took me aside and said he had feared the influence of ministerial efforts on behalf of low patients—that it generally tends to agitate or depress them, but, said he, "I notice that your presence has an entirely different effect—it calms and soothes." He did not know that it was the soothing spirit of our blessed faith,—and not I, the feeble instrument, which made the difference in effect. I should be sorry to ask a hero-martyr if he "were a christian?" and harrass his waning hours with doubtful questions about the safety of his soul. Be it mine to address him as a child of God—an object of his undying compassion, and to tell him that the hopes and consolations of Christ's religion are for such as he.

There are, on an average, about ten deaths per day in these hospitals. On the 2d, Lieut. Wheeler, of the 4th N. H., died. It was at first supposed that he might recover, but inflammation set in, and no efforts could save him. Yesterday, Sergt. Robinson, of a N. H. regiment, died. He was a native of Rochester, and a noble man. I was with him much during the last hours of his life. He was not only reconciled, but anxious to go. He died as the hero and christian die, calmly, hopefully, triumphantly.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., June 5.

I commenced this letter yesterday, at the Fortress, hoping to get into the mail; but before I reached a stopping-place, the boat whistled for Norfolk, and I had to run, literally writing as I ran. On arriving here I went immediately to the office of the Sanitary Commission, and found their large storehouse literally filled to overflowing.—And here I must refer to a defect in the working of this institution. A surgeon's order must be presented for everything that is drawn for the use of the soldiers. If a sick or ragged soldier should come asking medicine or clothing, he would have to find an army surgeon, and obtain an order, before he could draw either. I came with an order from several surgeons connected with the McClellan Hospital for supplies that were needed immediately. It was my purpose to find the Medical Director and obtain his signature, so that there might be no mistake or failure about it. He was absent from his office. The result was, the supplies could not be obtained until the order could make the circuit to the Fort, obtain his signature, and return, which must keep them from the sick and dying boys about two days. The Sanitary Commission has so much red tape tangled in its machinery that it loses much of its efficiency.

— There are now in this country nearly sixty officers of European navies, who are detailed especially to watch and report our discoveries and progress in naval architecture.

— Maffit, late of the pirate Georgia, is reported to have left Bermuda, June 4, in a British blockade runner, supposed for Wilmington, N. C. She had five cannon on board as freight. The mate of the craft is said to be the man who shot the engineer of the steamer Chesapeake when she was captured.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

NEW YORK, June 2.

Dear Chronicle:

The restless current of events, crowded with its chips, and fragments of various episode, has swept far down its tide the bubble of the proclamation excitement, and it is now almost out of view. Howard, the perpetrator of the villainous hoax, jokes carelessly over the matter, and boasts of having such connections with the Government as will secure his speedy release. Let him have as long a sea-turn at Fort Lafayette as have many others, less culpable. The people don't want to see any shystering in the matter.

The sentence of the U. S. Court, Judge Nelson, of Kohnstamm, the Government embezzler, to ten years hard labor in the State Prison, seems to give general satisfaction to everybody except the prisoner. He had laid away $300,000 or $400,000 of public funds, obtained on false contracts or invoices, was well received in society, and floating along on the tip-topmost wave of prosperity, but got caught in the eel-grass, and now for ten years leaves his diamonds and other precious stones, and goes to work on the more substantial and solid article chiseled at Sing Sing.

I had the selection a few days since of a twenty dollar box of super Rosa cigars, a present from a friend to Gen. Grant, thro' his brother, O. L. Grant, of Galena, now on his way to the front. A note under the lid read, "General: Smoke one in Richmond.—A. G. Pease." Grant's brother, with whom I conversed briefly, thinks U. S. is perfectly satisfied with his present honorable position, and that he scarcely has a desire for the, now-a-days, somewhat equivocal and thankless one of President.

Some years ago, Gen. Grant was running for Mayor of Galena, but the people refused to elect him on account of his extravagant propens , in wanting a plank sidewalk in front of his house. Within a week after, Grant had split the boards, and laid the walk himself, along the whole front of his lot.

I have seldom, if ever, passed a more pleasant evening than that of Sunday, with Ackerman, Justice of Peace, &c., &c., Wm. E. Hadley, and lady, at the "Metropolitan." I mistrust that, in view of the magnitude of his official responsibilities, he thought it best not to try it alone any longer. He will excuse me, on the score of old friendship and association, for speaking the truth boldly, in setting him down as one of the best citizens of Portsmouth, and an honor to her, as he was to New York, and would be to any city.

N.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The House assigned Wednesday for the election of Senator. A resolution was introduced, providing for the display, in the Rotunda of the Capitol, of the State's regimental ensigns tattered in battle, each to bear the number of its regiment, there to be preserved as memorials of the war. The consideration of the resolutions in reference to the proposed amendment of the U. S. Constitution, was made the special order for Tuesday next. A committee of inquiry was ordered on the subject of the action or non-action of the General Government concerning a hospital for soldiers in this State. It consists of Messrs. Rolfe of Concord, Haven of Portsmouth, Little of Manchester, Bickford of Dover, and Eastman of Littleton.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Quite an amount of counterfeit U. S. 50 cent fractional bills, new issue, was in circulation in Manchester on Thursday.

—— Mr. William H. Belknap, of Exeter, has been appointed by the Senate committee engrossing clerk for the present session.

—— The 2d N. H. regiment left White House, Va., for Concord, via Washington, on Friday. It numbers 200 men. They will probably arrive to-day, and the State authorities, we understand, have made the necessary arrangements to give the returning veterans such a reception as their eminent services merit.

— The Richmond Examiner says all the Post office clerks are now in the field; also, that the rebel treasury was without a dollar from Jan. 1, to the evening of the 5th.

— The proposed telegraph communication with Russia, by way of Behring's Straits, is very popular, owing to its commercial and international importance.

— Mr. and Mrs. O'Kane, the petitioner and respondent in the divorce suit in which Lord Palmerston was co-respondent, have left England for Australia.

— A recent letter from the front, says: "Our works are strong for defence and will soon prove dangerous for offence. Parallels and mines are progressing rapidly. We are sieging the outworks of Richmond."

— Of 14,741 drafted men in certain States, 5,050 paid the $300, and after deducting these and such as were exempt on physical grounds, the Government got only 2,675—of whom 1,416 were substitutes, leaving only 1,259 of the 14,741 originally drawn. This is getting but one in eleven, or, counting substitutes, one in five and a half.

— It is expected that Hon. John Bright of England will visit this country in August. Won't we give him a welcome.

— The Oregon State election for Congressmen has resulted in largely increased union majorities.

— Rhubarb is of no account in Connecticut as sugar is so high. It costs more than it comes to.

— The Springfield, Ill., Journal says the story that Gen. Pope has reached there on his way to Washington with 6000 men, is false.

— Richmond papers are very sad over Gen. Hunter's victory. The Examiner says Gen. Jones, who was killed, was one of the best officers in their service.

— After the repulse of the recent rebel assault on Gen. McPherson, our men were sent out to bring in the rebel wounded, and two Union soldiers, while bearing stretchers with rebel wounded, were shot by the chivalry.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To Shoe Dealers.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Boot, formerly of 45 Tremont Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell to one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is, that a larger stock and variety can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. "A Wonderful Discovery."
DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, smooth and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ We learn that the net proceeds of the Fair held by the Misses of the South (Unitarian) Parish, at Court St. Chapel, last week, will probably be about $160, which nice little sum goes to the aid of the N. H. Soldiers' Relief Association—a commendable charity indeed. This successful result of the very short time the few young ladies directly interested were employed in the good work, must be very encouraging to all.

2d N. H. Regiment—T. Collins, Portsmouth, Co. I, wounded in leg.
10th N. H. Regiment—F. Myers, hip, Co. G; J. Jordan, Portsmouth, Co. F, wrist.
13th N. H. Regiment—B. M. Geller, Co. K, in hand.

GREAT SUCCESS.—From our exchanges we learn that the celebrated Buckley's Serenaders are meeting with great success through New England: at many cities they have turned away hundreds who could not gain admission, owing to the crowded state of their halls. The troupe 23 in number will appear in this city June 21 and 22.

☞ A letter dated May 26, from several wounded officers, who were taken from the battle field to Fortress Monroe on board the hospital boat Sylvan Shore, very warmly thanks Rev. Mr. Patterson, of this city, Dr. Sawyer, Miss Dame and Mrs. Marden, for kind attentions from them. They belong to regiments from this State, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, &c. The letter says:

We here desire to express our deep gratitude, not alone for the individual comforts and dainty luxuries that we have received, but because we have seen those comforts, &c., dealt out without stint to the soldiers as well as to us collectively. The care and undivided attention with which you have discharged the duties of so great a responsibility have not gone by us unnoticed. And we do hereby tender you our thanks and the gratitude of our hearts; and we feel assured that could the soldiers on board know of this testimony, they would yield theirs with a right good will. God bless you and yours.

BILLIARD MATCH FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.—On Thursday night the great billiard match for the billiard championship of America and $1,000, between Dudley Kavanagh, the present holder of the emblematic golden cue, and William Goldthwait, came off in New York city. The spacious building was filled to excess with deeply interested spectators. This is the third match Kavanagh has played for the championship since he became entitled to it at the Billiard Congress held in that city in 1863, having defeated Seerieter of Detroit and Ticman of Cincinnati. Kavanagh was the favorite at two to one in the betting, which was very heavy, Mr. E. Cabill, Goldthwait's business partner, taking $1000 to $500 that he (G.) would win the match. On the second innings, Goldthwait made a run of 113, Kavanagh on the fifth innings following it up with one of 120, which placed him 19 points ahead. On the eleventh innings, Goldthwait passed him. On the fortieth innings, when Kavanagh had scored 750 points (exactly one-half the game, which was 1,500 up) Goldthwait was 101 points ahead. On the 73d and 74th innings, Kavanagh by magnificent play made two runs of 118 and 95, which brought him within 112 points of his opponent; the game standing 1,280 to 1,168. On the 83d innings, Kavanagh made the required 1,500 points, winning the match by 75 points, and thus retaining the possession of the Champion Cue, and the Billiard Championship of America.—N. Y. Tribune.

In the hospital at Resaca a bright young lad of 19 years, belonging to a cavalry regiment, was mortally wounded in the left breast. He was remarkably cheerful, although suffering intensely from a most painful wound, and his black, piercing eyes seemed to glisten with that ardent hope which only burns within the youthful bosom, as he conversed with one or two of his fellow-comrades who shared his dangers on the many battle-fields in which their regiment had participated. The surgeon in charge of the hospital, finding the brave boy was rapidly drawing near his last moments from internal hemorrhage, and witnessing his total unconsciousness of his precarious situation, informed the youthful martyr that he had but a few moments to live. Receiving the sad tidings with little emotion, he glanced at the ghastly wound which a traitorous arm had made, the briny tear just glistened in the eye as he kissed his mother's picture, pressed it with her letters to his bosom, and then again reviving he gave them to the surgeon. Calling one of his favorite companions to his simple couch, he reached forth his hands, saying: "They say I must go, Matt; but before I go let's give three cheers for our glorious old Union." Raising himself up in his bed the effort was too much, and, clasping the rough hand of his comrade, he sank to the floor, a sweet smile lingering on his bronzed but finely-molded features, as if conscious that he had at the last hour ratified the wish nearest his heart.

MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music, for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.
They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.
The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

No man and no woman is safe who has once formed the habit of looking to drink for solace, or cheerfulness, or comfort. While the world goes well they will likely be temperate; but the habit is built, the railroad to destruction is cut ready for use, the rails are laid down, the station houses erected, and the train is on the line waiting only for the locomotive; it comes to us; it grapples us, and away we go in a moment down the line we have been constructing, like a flash of lightning, to destruction.—Charles Reade.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depotts, under Surgeon Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable, are frequently cured in from five days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have occurred in the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from pain full and obstinate diseases, and have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with a storm of unceasing opposition so keen lean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the very tedious process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium, but when from any causes down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the system.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from FARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not referr to it it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight on Stomach, Sick Headache, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumous, Glandular Swellings, Ulcers, Kings Evil, Abscesses.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred diseases. The most distressing pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cures, chronic or virulent, of 10 or 20 years standing, have been cured by us.—

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Parents unable to work, suffering women to whom this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which infinite more than is promised.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Retting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all traces of Mercury, Iodide Pot. removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. Mercurial Spongy Gums and Loosen Teeth are firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Remains Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much deface the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken in the early stage of the complaint, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging sores, which designate so many of the most stubborn cases of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous humor, which Constitution Life Syrup soon recover by taking a few doses of its Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Cough, Fever, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation, Ulceration and Pain, are speedily permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove easily. No remedy should be taken for some time as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extreme perseverance. Cancers, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling on other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as palpitation), Disease of Valves—produced by grating or bilious Humors in the blood, the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be speedily relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain on the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Fear of Dissolution, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or neck, Constitution Life Syrup is unrivalled.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very troublesome to young ladies and married females. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an acid state of gastrous condition of that organ; accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

As a general Blood Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, so usually developed in the form of Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and other Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and limbs, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE HEAD AND FOOT are liable to the same Diseases. Nature and science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, Scrofula, Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it all the direful train springs from it.

Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain nothing deleterious to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute health for sickness, which, when properly used, they never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, not during the first three months, during which the unfailing nature of their action would inevitably prevent pregnancy.

All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly, freely and discreetly answered.

Full directions accompany each box.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and side iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet on top, in which articles can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would call attention about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a healthy warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, passed into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass on from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the upper part of your dwelling uncomfortable.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Meadum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Shea, and others.

The Chronicle.

☞ "Scyugle" is used by the army boys as synonymous with "gobble" and "ekeddaddle," or for any other word and for any want of any other word. A correspondent says:

"A 6th corps staff officer dismounted near me a moment ago. I inquired where he had been riding. He informed me that he had been sent out on a general 'scyugle;' that he had 'scyugled' along the front, where the Johnnies 'scyugled' a bullet through his clothes; that on his return he 'scyugled' an ice-house; that he should 'scyugle' his servant, who by the way, had just 'scyugled' three fat chickens, for a supply of ice; that after he had 'scyugled' his dinner he proposed to 'scyugle' a nap—and closed by asking how I 'scyugled.'" The correspondent claims that this new word, like "ekeddaddle," is classical and is derived from two Greek words. In the absence of our Liddell & Scott, we appeal to our readers.

— This item from Europe, like the Heenan & Sayers fight, furnishes a specimen of English love of fair play. A French horse, strangely enough, won the "Oaks," which so incensed the attending gallant sportsmen that they mobbed the jockey who rode him, and he and the horse he rode were saved only through the strenuous exertions of the police.

— The copperheads are getting aristocratic and curling their scornful lips at those not born with gold spoons in their mouths. The N. Y. World, for example, about ready to recognize a laboring man as a fiend still and an artisan as a "greasy mechanic," says: "The age of statesmen is gone; the age of railsplitters and tailors has succeeded."

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.
A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.
The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.
A. J. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of this.
H. W. BRADLEY'S PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.
This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elastic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided lightly together, close to the edge, making the lightest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of great elasticity and flexibleness, to pass and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and graceful form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never dispense with it, willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as cheap, and ladies in most first-class retail stores throughout the United States.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries; also, to procure Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Reexamining Patents, American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice in all matters appertaining to the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by return mail, for One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages in securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, which are not, I think, generally superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given are those only which have come to my hand. THE SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, I would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and to prove, that at no other office of the kind are charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which are here, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents issued in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
Of necessity of a journey to Washington, to secure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, have saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent, trustworthy, and more able of putting their applications in a form to secure for them any thing of favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending, such a mistakeable proof of great talent and ability in this part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN LAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other persons will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a letter bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus saving A SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED.
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JUNE 14, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Smith, on the 5th, defeated a force of 3000 rebels with some artillery, at Columbus, Ark. Marmaduke is said to have been in command.

The rebels demanded the surrender of Frankfort, Ky., on the 10th, but Gen. Bramlette refused, and fighting was resumed. There were about 100 killed and wounded in the city on that day.

Details from Kentucky state that the fighting at Frankfort occurred on Friday evening and Saturday. At 4 P. M., Saturday, the rebels abandoned the attack and moved eastward. Our loss was 6 wounded—one seriously. Two demands were made for the surrender of the fort, which was garrisoned by 150 men, only 12 of whom were soldiers. No injury was done to the city, except the burning of the barracks. On Saturday 3000 rebels attacked two Ohio regiments under Gen. Hobson, at Cynthiana, and after a pretty severe fight Gen. Hobson surrendered on condition that the men be immediately exchanged. Our loss in prisoners was from 1200 to 1500. On Sunday morning Gen. Burbridge fell upon Morgan's forces while at breakfast at Cynthiana, and after a very severe fight completely defeated and scattered them in all directions. About 100 prisoners were taken, including 20 officers. Gen. Burbridge closely pursued the fleeing rebels.

Dispatches from Gen. Sherman, dated at his headquarters Big Sunday morning, state that our lines are within 400 or 500 yards of the enemy, but there had been no fighting.

Further details from Sherman state that the enemy in front of the 23d corps on the 31st made a dash at the advanced lines of our works, but were met with a heavy fire, and fell back in confusion,—the repulse being the most decided and destructive which they have yet suffered. During the night the enemy assaulted Gen. Hooker, but were repulsed with loss.

A rebel official dispatch says Adm. Farragut, with 16 large ships, has arrived off Mobile.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Hunter officially reports his victory. He states that he met the enemy at Piedmont, Sunday, June 5, killing William E. Jones, their commanding general, and totally routing them after a battle of ten hours' duration. We captured 1500 prisoners altogether—1000 men and over 60 officers on the field of battle—also 3000 stand of arms, 3 pieces of artillery and a vast quantity of stores. On the 8th our troops effected a junction with Gens. Crook and Averill. It is stated in another dispatch (unofficial), dated Staunton, June 9, that our infantry was then engaged burning ties and bending rails east and west. All the government and railroad buildings at Staunton had been burned.

A deserter says Beauregard's troops are posted from Bottom's Bridge all the way to James river, watching for the appearance of an army in that direction.

☞ The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which represents the largest Protestant denomination of this country, passed a resolution which will mark a turning point in the history of the relation of the American Churches to Slavery. After a brief, and dispassionate discussion it was resolved, by 204 Yeas to 8 Nays, so to change the "General Rule" as to forbid slaveholding altogether. The minority consisted of 3 delegates from the West Virginia Conference, 2 from the Kentucky, 2 from the Baltimore, and 1 from East Baltimore Conference. All the delegates of the Missouri and Arkansas Conference, as well as the entire delegation of the Philadelphia Conference, which comprises parts of Maryland and Delaware, voted with the majority. So also did the majority of the delegates from the Baltimore and East Baltimore Conferences. The delegates of those Conferences which lie wholly within the Free States showed a very remarkable unanimity in favor of the report, not casting a single vote against it.

In order to become an obligatory law, each Annual Conference, of which there are forty-eight within the boundaries of the United States, and so soon as three-fourths of the members of all the Annual Conferences who may be present and vote thereon shall have concurred, the proposed change takes effect. As the vote of the General Conference indicates, this concurrence of the Conference is not in the least doubtful. It may possibly be rejected by three, the West Virginia, the Kentucky, and the Baltimore Conferences, and a few votes may be cast against it in two other Border Conferences (East Baltimore and Philadelphia); but all the others will pass it with entire, or nearly entire, unanimity.

OUR ARMY MISSION.

Extracts from Rev. Mr. Patterson's Letters.

PORTSMOUTH, V., June 5.

I crossed the river yesterday P. M. to this place (Portsmouth), and spent the evening and morning in visiting the hospitals here. There are about seven hundred patients, about fifty of whom are from New Hampshire. I find also a large number from Maine. But few of these men are wounded, and not many very sick. They occupy two buildings that were formerly popular hotels. The buildings are large, airy and convenient. The men have good clean beds, and clean comfortable clothing, but I have heard more complaint here than anywhere else. At the front, where the enemy's missiles whistle about their ears, they are all cheerful. On the field, in the tent, or the hospital of wounded men, you hear no murmur. They wonder that so much is done for them—that they have so good care. I think sick men are more likely to despond than wounded men. The fact is, every wounded man is proud of his scars. He likes to tell when, how, and where he received them, and feels that they will always be to him marks of honor. I think the sick do not realize that it is equally honorable to incur disease in the service of country. Then they tell me that their hospitals are run by contract, and it is quite probable the boys have reason for complaint of their fare. I find three or four Portsmouth boys here.

I spent an hour at the Navy Yard—saw our old friend Hanscom, also a son of Dea. Knowlton, and a son of Mr. Chandler.—This yard was formerly one of the largest and best in the United States, but it is a mass of ruins now. They are beginning the work of rebuilding it. You are aware that much of the artillery with which the rebels have prosecuted the war was taken from this yard.

These cities also seem man-forsaken—God-forsaken. Virginia is reaping the reward of her iniquity. When peace comes, and New England sends her enterprising sons along these water-courses, the desolate places will soon blossom as the rose.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 6.

I arose early this morning, made the round of Balfour Hospital at Portsmouth, and at eleven A. M. started for Fortress Monroe, arriving at 12 M.

You urge me to come home, and show many strong reasons why I should do so.—I should like to be at the Convention, and preach the Occasional sermon, according to appointment. I want to be at the wedding—I want to sit down again under the blessed shadow of my own dear home. But at the present crisis of our affairs should I come? Can I come and discharge my duty to the country and the noble men who are suffering in its behalf? I did think I might come this week—but we are having, just now, the most terrible battles of the war.—Letters came to-day, asking me to hasten immediately to White House. I know your spirit of patriotism and self-sacrifice will say "go." If you were here you would go. And however anxious you may be about me, you will commend my decision, when I say, I must go where there is the greatest suffering—the greatest need, and where it will require the greatest sacrifice. I shall start to-morrow. The path of duty in this crisis is plain, and the path of duty is always the path we should follow—always the safe path. I have preached it for others. I believe it most firmly for myself. Let me urge you again not to be troubled about me; I have no fear in going where I am needed.

God grant that this campaign may end the war, and that it may soon be over.

☞ The Boston Journal states that a letter from Miss Julia Gould, late of Buckley's Serenaders, who sailed May 13 in the Ocean Queen for Aspinwall, en route for California, states that among the passengers there were about 20 armed secessionists, who made an attempt to take possession of the steamer, but were overpowered by the passengers. Two of the ringleaders were thrown overboard in the fracas, and the remainder were seized and placed in irons. This is a very doubtful story.

☞ During the Mexican war, or rather the U. S. raid into Mexico, Col. Cook of the Mormon battalion of 500, "congratulated the battalion on their safe arrival on the shores of the Pacific ocean, and the conclusion of its march of over two thousand miles. History may be searched in vain for an equal march of infantry. Nine tenths was through a wilderness where nothing but savages and wild beasts are found, or deserts where, for want of water, there is no living creature. There, with almost hopeless labor, we have dug deep wells, which the future traveler will enjoy. Without a guide who had traversed them, we have ventured into trackless prairies; water was not found for several marches. With crowbar and pick and axe in hand, we have worked our way over mountains which seemed to defy aught save the wild goat, and hewed a passage through a chasm of living rock more narrow than our wagons. Thus marching, half naked and half fed, and living upon wild animals we have discovered and made a road of great value to our country."

☞ "Warrington," the Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican, says;—

The schism between Phillips and Garrison is one of the most curious events of the age. Garrison's editorials now-a-days are of that class which he used to print on his first page under the head of "Refuge of Oppression." I suppose he has actually got tired out in the cause. The inevitable reaction has come to him which comes to nearly all men who have worked thirty or forty years in one direction; and by a too vigorous summersault he has thrown himself backward clear beyond the radical republicans, who used to be too slow for him, and has landed among the conservatives and hunkers. He is not to be blamed. He is a victim of the same law which makes the total abstinence man of 21 take a trifle of toddy at 35, and perhaps his regular drinks at 40. I doubt whether Phillips or Pillsbury will hold out so long as Garrison has. I expect to become a desperate hunker by the year 1870, and to be rebuking the Republican for its destructive radicalism.

Uncle Toby remarked, on reading the above, that Warrington might be a fine writer, but if he does not know more about abolition than he does about temperance, his dicta on that subject are little worth. We know of no law or gospel which turns a total abstinent into a tippler in 15 years and a rummy in 20; but we do know of a law, (viz: gravitation,) by which thousands of moderate drinkers go down in the scale of sots, more and more miserable, till they drop into the drunkard's grave at the bottom.

We don't know Warrington, nor do we see Mr. Garrison's paper now-a-days—but we do know older abolitionists than the latter, who are not very likely to become *pro*slavery in these days.

Almost every exchange received lately narrates some accident to sailing parties by which one or more persons are drowned. These accidents are of course sometimes unavoidable, but oftener occur from the thoughtlessness, or timidity, or inexperience of the persons comprising the parties. Often a sudden squall may arise and endanger the lives of persons on the water, but with forethought the boat may be placed in proper trim to weather the blow; but such precautions may oftimes be rendered useless by the fright of some one of the party who changes position just at the critical moment and thus upsets the boat, and perchance sacrifices the lives of the whole party.

Soon the summer fishing and sailing parties will be numerous in our harbor, and many pleasant hours will be enjoyed by our citizens and visitors in our fine yachts and boats. We hope all such parties will be careful and have at least one experienced person on board who understands the management of a boat, and can detect the signs of approaching squalls. And let it be impressed upon the inexperienced that there is little danger if they will carefully obey orders and refrain from changing their positions at the wrong time and thus get the boat out of trim.—Gloucester Telegraph.

CHARACTER OF GEN. GRANT.—Grant is a brave man, not only fearless in all necessary exposure of his person in battle but cool, calculating, and clearly administrative in danger. A splendid horseman and of great personal endurance, perhaps he is seen to best advantages on the field of battle directing the movements.

He is a true man; true in his aims, and in his adherence to them, true in speech and in act. He has no tortuous policy, no subterranean movements. He does not parade his thoughts, indeed, but he does not mean one thing and say another. He has no talking gift, and he cultivates silence which, if speech be human, the philosopher, he declared to be divine. He is no boaster, no temporizer, no dreamer; he builds no Arcadian castles. He is simply a straightforward agent between his thoughts, words, and deeds there is an exact accordance; and very often the thought and deeds dispense with words—always when possible.

He is a man of strong will and endurance not disheartened by disaster; always ready to repair and relieve it. Vicksburg in especial demonstrated this. Repulsed at the north, he tried the cut-off. When that would not do, he landed on the south. Threatened by the rebels gathering in his rear he besieged the town. Repulsed in his attempts to storm the works, he pushed forward the siege, and at length Vicksburg fell, because Grant adhered to his purpose.

He is a generous man, ready to give full credit to his co-workers and subordinates. He scorns to receive praise which is their due, and tells of the invaluable aid and co-operation of Sherman, McPherson and others with no stinted eulogium. With such a general, men can work; for such a chief they will do all in their power.

He is an unambitious man. This needs a word of explanation. Ambitious men seek, as the great end of their labors, self-exaltation. Grant has thus far worked for the good of the country. Each battle has been fought without ulterior view. If God sends honest fame as the reward, he does not disdain it; but it must be a sequel, not an aim. Heaven preserve him long from this "last infirmity of noble minds!" It ruins all it touches. It has already paralyzed some of our best men.

In a concluding word, he is a strong, iron, living, busy, honest, capable, self sustained commander, who will plan wisely, fight terribly, follow up his victories, and leave the rest to Providence, in whom, after all, must be our trust. He has large and varied talents. He has what Guizot calls "the genius of common sense," and with that the power and determination to "go ahead," which we have lacked more than anything else in this war.— U. S. Service Magazine.

SPECIAL NOTICE
To Shoe Dealers.
The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of retail shoe dealers having locations for the sale of ladies' boots, to the superiority of the goods manufactured by him. He has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of ladies' boots and shoes for the last thirty years in Boston; and there are few shoe dealers in New England who have not heard of John Kimball, boot and shoe dealer, and inventor of what is called the Kimball Last, formerly of 43 Hanover Row, Boston. His long experience as a manufacturer will enable him to furnish a better fitting boot than can be found elsewhere in the States, and he is now supplying the best retail stores in Boston. In order to make it an object for some well established dealer, having a good share of the best class of trade, he will give an obligation for one year or more to sell no one firm only, in any city or town. One great advantage in this arrangement is that a large assortment of goods can be kept, which will call a larger number of best class customers to any store having the subscriber's goods. "A Wonderful Discovery."
DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing is far superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ The U. S. schooner Beauregard arrived at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Sunday last, with a number of sailors whose term of service has expired. The Beauregard was captured while attempting to run the blockade, and has since been turned to good account in the capture of 15 rebel vessels of different sizes and cargoes. On board of this schooner are four bales of Sea Island cotton, picked up on the passage home. It is said that more than fifty bales were obtained in this way by a U. S. steamer, which prevented the schooner from obtaining any more than the quantity stated above. This cotton was undoubtedly a part of the cargo of some blockade runner, which was thus disposed of in order to expedite the vessel's progress.

☞ In Police Court, Monday, one John Pillsbury, said to be from Candia, pleaded guilty to stealing a dress pattern from the store of Mr. Grace, and was sentenced to pay $2 fine, and costs $4.69, and pay the owner $10, or treble the value of the goods stolen.

A certain storekeeper was fined $3, and costs 7.94, for keeping open shop on Sunday.

☞ We learn from a letter received in this city from Mr. B. Stowe Laskey, Co. G, 10th N. H. regiment, that Mr. L. had been wounded in the mouth, the ball knocking out some of his teeth; and that Lieut. J. Albert Sanborn, of the same regiment, was slightly wounded by a spent ball.

☞ We are indebted to the attention of Mr. Frank P. Ackerman, Messenger for Jackson & Co.'s Express, for specimens of the new and neat 2-cent coin. The motto is, "In God we trust"—said to be the first recognition of the Deity on any U. S. coin. This coin will be a great convenience, if we can only get enough of them and the folks don't heard them.

☞ Colonel Dulany and Lieut. Colonels Marston and Reynolds, of the U. S. Marine Corps, who have all been stationed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard within a few years, have been retired after fifty-five years' service. This leaves Major Seelin senior officer of the corps on the active list.

☞ Alvah Manson, of this city, Co. K, 2d N. H. regiment, arrived in Concord on Saturday, to be mustered out of service.

OUR WOUNDED.—There is something approaching the sublime in the steadfastness of the soldiers who have suffered in the battles for the Union. The following, from the Washington correspondence of the Traveller, in its brief mention of the cheers given by the wounded for the reinforcements going to the army, contains much to make Americans proud of their countrymen:

Within the last three or four weeks there have passed through this city on their way to join Gen. Grant, at least sixty thousand men, all confident, and determined on entering Richmond. Recently there passed through three regiments of one-hundred days' men from Ohio. As one of those regiments was passing up Pennsylvania avenue, an ambulance train of wounded were passing up Fourth-and-a-half street. The ambulance train halted in order to let the regiment pass, and those of the wounded who were able to cheer sent forth their greeting and words of encouragement to those who were going to reinforce their comrades, and the regiment, in turn, gave three cheers for the wounded, and three more for General Grant.

There were some horrible-looking sights among the wounded—some with their arms or legs amputated horribly on the field; others with wounds in the breast and head. I have seen a number of those ambulance trains lately, and I have not heard one murmur, one cry of pain—all stand it manfully, and have words of encouragement for those who are taking their places in the field. A soldier is jolly under the most trying circumstances.

I noticed as the regiment was passing, a soldier who was lying down in an ambulance, and resting on one arm, with a Zouave cap in his hand, wave it repeatedly and cheer as loud as his faint voice would permit. From curiosity and admiration of the brave fellow, I questioned him as to the regiment he belonged to, and he answered in a genuine, rich, Irish "brogue,"—"The 143d Fanians, of New York, Colonel MacMahon, sir." He had his foot amputated a little above the ankle, and I remarked that it was a very severe wound. "Yis, in troth," said he, "it is a hard thing for a man to have half his understandin on the field; but, be gar, it's thankful to God I am that the Johnny Rebs didn't take my rason." His companion in the ambulance said, in a laugh that evidently hurt him, for he had a frightful wound in his right side, "Con! I believe you'll die with a joke on your lips." "Well," said he, "I hope I'll have my pipe along wid it."

— Five thousand singers are to take part in a choral festival to be giving by Mr. G. W. Martin at Sydenham Crystal Palace, June 15th. Some of the part-songs for four treble voices will be sung by a thousand voices on a part.

— Some of the school trustees of the Fourth Ward in New York have been expelled from office for levying contributions on teachers for their own benefit, under threats of dismissal. One poor girl, who came upon the stand on crutches, said she was taxed seventy-five dollars on her little salary of three hundred dollars.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

— The Army of the Potomac was jubilant on Saturday evening over a report of the capture of Fort Darling.

— Col. H. H. Pearson, of the 6th regiment, and Capt. William H. Smith, of Exeter, Co. E, 2d regiment, are dead.

— The Messrs. Baldwin, of Laconia, manufacture, on the average, ninety bushels of shoe pegs per day. Some days they make one hundred and fifty bushels.

— Mr. S. D. Lord of Manchester has printed a four-page letter in relation to the recent election of Clerk by the House of Representatives.

— The supposition that a girl named Helen A. Johnson had committed suicide at Hanover, was confirmed by her body being found in the river near where her clothing was discovered.

— Patrick Campbell, a Boston substitute broker, has been fined in the Concord Police Court, for knocking down a substitute who found out that the broker was going to make too much money out of him.

— The Annual Convention of the Universalists of New Hampshire meets at the Universalist Church in Nashua, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15th and 16th. Rev. A. J. Patterson, of this city, was expected to preach the occasional sermon Wednesday afternoon, but his absence at the seat of war will prevent his doing so.

— A little boy fell into a lime rock quarry at Rockland Me., a distance of 40 feet, and came near being killed; fortunately he struck in some water and was uninjured; he came near being drowned, however, but was rescued.

— The Gloucester Telegraph man has been out in the fields, and has ascertained that the birds begin to grow indifferent. Their sweet strains of music, so gladsome to our ears, are growing fainter and fainter; they are all married by this time, and, imitating the bad example of the human species, they have become careless and indifferent now that their market is made.

A LOVE SONG.

I pressed my beating heart,
I smoothed my ruffled hair,
I stepped into my room,
I found Lorinda there.

I seized her lily hand,
I squeezed it o'er and o'er,
I lent my well-turned legs,
I knelt upon the floor.

I told my tale of woe,
I whispered all my fears,
Then, what d'ye think she did?
Why, coolly boxed my ears!

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞ Mr. Joy's evening Singing School for Ladies and Gentlemen, is held at Mercantile Hall, on Tuesday evenings.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ Diarrhœa and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.
They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.
The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

Children often have ideas peculiarly their own, which, to say the least, are ingenious. A family used to live in Peacham, Vt., who owned a boy about five or six years old—the pet of the household. On one occasion several ministers spent the night at his father's house, and during the evening backsliding was a prominent topic of the conversation.

Two or three days afterwards, said the boy—"Father."

"Well, what my son?"

"I don't believe what the ministers said the other night about backsliding."

"Why not?"

Because when I was out sliding yesterday I tried to slide back and couldn't do it, and don't believe anybody can."

I know of a little boy who, one day last summer, left his play, found his mother, and asked—

"Mother, where is God?"

"Everywhere," was the reply.

He returned to his play, but soon came back and said:

"Why don't God build a house and stay at home?"

Gray's Patent Molded Collars

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated and extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

what may seem almost incredible, is that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and candid to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as before less as ever encountered by any reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature," (?) Reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium, but when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis,

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Dizziness, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumo, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling the with misery, is by all legal medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, and the whole system, cured, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Medicinally to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Aching of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Disagreeable Breath.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains, which Mercury or Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, and make them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Diseases of the Blood, which frequently, from the youngest portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Mesenteric Glandulars, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few ounces of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen; Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Ulcers, Sore eyes and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, will not Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly obstinate and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be permanently reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Hypogastric Pain, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart, Cough and Difficult Breathing, Pain in the important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering Females, Nervous Debility, Shaking, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Fatheadedness, Blotches, Pimples, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Bad Dreams, Confusion of Thoughts, Dyspepsia.

Constitution Life Syrup will cure the old of Constitution Life Syrup will cure the old of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

VERY FRENCHY.—The Nain Jaune re-tes the following anecdote:

At the commencement of the winter two urnalists were in conversation at the era. The one, M. De X——, is a bache-, the other, M. De Y——, just married. "Well," said the one to the other, "how you get along in your new condition?" "Ah! my dear, there is nothing like being arried. You cannot imagine how happy am. When I am at work my wife is at y side, and at the conclusion of each para-aph I embrace her. That is charming." "Now I understand," was the happy re-rt, "why your sentences are so short."

This conversation quickly spread through ris.

From that time forth the articles of —— were consulted by the public as the ermometer of his conjugal felicity.

During two months the prose of M. —— was disjointed and epigrammatic, in orter periods than are to be found in the ther writings of Emile de Girardin. ll the women grew jealous of Madam ——, but gradually the periods elongat-, the phrases were more involved, the ratographs were longer, the honey-moon as passed! At last Madam V——opened e journal edited by M. Y——, and cast-a rapid glance over the article signed ith his name, cried:

"What! but a single paragraph in the hole article! Poor woman! a divorce ll most assuredly follow!"

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its ca-pacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it base to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than the cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three bas-kets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private fam-ilies in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of Americ-an Genius!
Price Only $6!

This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This in-vention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so compactly arranged as to be packed into a trunk with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weak-ness.

They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the prof-ession from persons of the highest respecta-bility in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.

The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other persons will have it on account of being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED.

These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleas-ure to refer to—

Mr. J. C. LANGLEY, Conductor C. & P. R. R.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Morgan, in the fight on Sunday, lost 300 killed and wounded, and 700 prisoners.—The damage done by him to the Kentucky Central Railroad is about $200,000.—There were five locomotives and seventy-five cars at Lexington, which are reported uninjured.

Gen. Burbridge's official report of his victory over Morgan, states that he attacked him at daylight, Sunday, "and after one hour's hard fighting, completely routed him, killing 300, wounding nearly as many, and capturing nearly 400, besides recapturing 100 of Gen. Hobson's command, and over 1000 horses. Our loss in killed and wounded was about 150. Morgan's scattered forces are flying in all directions; they have thrown away their arms, are out of ammunition, and wholly demoralized."

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Dispatches from Gen. Grant, to 8 A. M., Monday, state that "the movement at that hour was in successful progress." Unofficial accounts state that Gen. Grant has effected a change of base to James river; that all movements since the battles of Friday have aimed at this consummation; and that Fort Darling is besieged by a heavy force.

Gen. Butler, it is said, has been reinforced.

Gen. Gilmore's withdrawal from the support of Gen. Kautz, in the assault on Petersburg, is criticised severely. It is said that there were only 600 rebel infantry and 3 or 4 companies of cavalry there to protect entrenchments 10 miles long, while Gen. Gilmore had 8500 men, and Gen. Kautz's cavalry rode over the rifle pits and entrenchments of the enemy, although unsupported.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Maj. Stokes, of the 2d N. H. Cavalry, has resigned.

—— The 2d N. H. regiment, 150 strong, arrived at New York on Monday night by steamer from Fortress Monroe.

—— Senator Hale's friends in Washington are urging his appointment as Consul General at Montreal.

—— The sum of thirty thousand dollars has been subscribed for the endowment of the Presidency of Dartmouth College.

—— William Everett, of Manchester, has been appointed to a cadetship at West Point by Hon. E. H. Rollins, Representative to Congress from the 2d District.

—— The bridge across the Cohas Brook on the Lawrence Railroad, about three miles below Manchester, was burned on Saturday last. The fire caught from a spark from a locomotive. The bridge was 142 feet long.

THE NATIONAL FREEDMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION is now relieving white refugees, in other words Southern Unionists. Mr. Wm. L. March, an agent of the Association at Natchez, writes to the President of the association at New York, stating that great numbers of white refugees, left helpless by Gen. Banks' retreat, are coming in. He says:

Your store here is the only one where relief can be furnished them. I have ordered this done to a limited extent. I am aware that in doing this the letter of your instructions was disregarded, but the appeals were urgent. The Western Sanitary Commission and the Western Freedmen's Aid Commission joined in affording aid, and I felt justified in doing what I did. If you could have witnessed the sad condition of the refugees—with bare feet, almost naked, famished, sick and heart-broken, without home or friends, you would have done as we did—relieved them. They were the families of Union men who have served as scouts in our army for a long time. Gen. Banks' retreat left them at the mercy of their enemies—you know what kind of mercy dwells in rebel breasts.I will not attempt to depict their distress. It is great. They must receive aid or die. Many will die if we do our best.

Geo. Francis Shaw, Esq., President of National Freedmen's Association in New York city, adds his orders as follows:—

In consequence of similar appeals recently received from North Carolina, the National Freedman's Relief Association has instructed its agents to receive contributions in aid of white refugees, to be distributed by its superintendents and teachers,—the fund to be kept separate from other collections, and now solicits such contributions from humane and sympathizing men and women.

Donations of money may be sent to Jos. B. Collins, Treasurer, 40 Wall street; of clothing, to C. C. Leigh, Chairman Executive Committee, 1 and 3 Mercer street.

Now, gentlemen Unionists of the North, who may have spoken or thought lightly of the Freedmen's Association,—please to pass along your contributions for the relief of the white sufferers by this cruel rebellion and war,—don't be stingy. Your aid is called for.

— Maximilian arrived at Vera Cruz, May 29.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

The old Democratic Party is now distinctly divided. One division is loyal, and in favor of supporting the sacred cause of their country, and crushing out the rebellion by the most vigorous measures the Administration can adopt.

The other division sympathize with the rebellion—they say nothing against the Southern rulers, the petty despots who waged the war against our free States, and whose object was to establish a separate nation and government, with slavery for its corner stone; but they declaim loudly against their own government, and accuse its administrators of a great variety of offences—of despotic acts in depriving them of freedom of speech (although they say what they please), and of an unnecessary increase of the public taxes and the national currency.

They propose to offer the rebels terms of peace to end the war, although they well know that there can be no peace without thereby acknowledging the rebels to be a separate nation. They vainly hope to gain the political ascendency by alarming the people in respect to the increase of taxes, and our vast national debt, as the sequence of the war. They resort to figures to show that the amount of the latter in silver dollars would be sufficient to encircle our globe! This is very alarming to ignorant politicians. We submit a few remarks upon this subject.

Freely admitting that our taxes are enormous in comparison to our past very light taxation, and that the public expenditures have increased to a vast amount, and must continue till the war ends, still we contend that in the total amount there is nothing to create an alarm.

In the first place the money is expended for the prosecution of the war within our loyal States. It is true that it shifts hands, but those who have the greatest ability to pay, as a general rule, have to bear the greatest burden. It is distributed chiefly among our brave soldiers who peril their lives in the defence of the liberties of their country, and even the army contractors and speculators cannot long retain it.

There are exceptions, but these are trifles in comparison to the total amount which must be finally distributed among our whole population. Never before was there so much money in our free States—perhaps over three hundred millions of specie, besides a vastly greater amount of silver ware and bullion. A great amount is hoarded up for the purpose of speculation, but the hoards will ultimately be distributed. The impost duties on foreign merchandise must be paid in specie—say fifty millions annually. This amount, together with our high taxation (the excise duties), tends to make a firm basis for the redemption of the Government notes, which now constitute our chief national currency, which is a legal tender, and, with a few exceptions, is equivalent to specie.

In the second place, it may be affirmed that the war debt will not essentially impede our industrial pursuits, wealth, population, prosperity, and march to the acme of national greatness. None of our pursuits have yet been arrested by the war. Our sufferings (the sacrifice of life excepted) are light in comparison to those of the rebel States. We complain of the high prices of provisions, which, at present, are unnecessarily too high, but will soon be reduced,—largely so should the war soon terminate. The prices are partly in consequence of the inflation of the currency, and the high rate of wages—not of any scarcity of our agricultural products. When laborers receive $2, or more, per day, surely they need not complain of the taxes, when prior to the war wages were not half so high per day, or for the season. NORTH.

☞ The Senate Military Committee favor the proposed repeal of the $300 commutation clause of the Enrollment bill, with the exception of its chairman, Mr. Wilson, who has given notice of his intention to offer certain amendments, the effect of which will be to give $100 bounty to drafted men at the end of one year's service, and proportional bounty for less time, if honorably discharged before the expiration of a year. He also proposes to add a provision for voluntary enlistments into regiments of other States from States in insurrection, and for securing the freedom of the wives and children of colored soldiers thus enlisted.

POLITICAL.—The friends of Hon. John P. Hale have suggested that he be nominated for Representative to Congress from the First District in New Hampshire at the next election. The district is now mis-represented by Hon. Daniel Marcy, one of the most intense copperheads in the country, and who was accidentally elected by a very small majority last year.

Mr. Hamlin will be a powerful rival against Hon. Wm. P. Fessenden as a Senator from Maine. The extraordinary course of the latter during the present session of Congress has induced his political friends in Maine to look about for a successor who will properly respect and represent their views. Mr. Hamlin was always very popular as a Senator, and a strong effort will be made for his return to that body next year as the colleague of Hon. Lot M. Morrill.—Transcript.

— In a church in Pennsylvania last Sunday, while the minister was in the midst of his sermon, a little boy took his hat, walked up to the pulpit and asked permission of the minister to leave the church, saying he forgot to feed the pig. The request was granted, and the boy left.

— The drought in the West continues with unabated severity. The Milwaukie Sentinel says "the heavens still remains as brass. The winds blow hot but bring no rain; and cold, but no rain comes." The drought has now lasted more than a month.

— Gen. Grant's object is not primarily the occupation of Richmond, but the utter destruction of Lee's army. Let people fix this fact in their minds, and they will have a correct point of departure from which to measure the bearing and importance of daily events.

— They talk of a new Cabinet as usual, to run thus: State Department, Wm. Pitt Fessenden, of Maine; War Department, G. B. Washburn, of Illinois; Navy Department, Cornelius Vanderbilt, New York; Postmaster General, Schuyler Colfax, Indiana; Interior, Henry L. Dawes, Mass.; Attorney General, Joseph Holt, Kentucky.

— The Army and Navy Journal states that the trouble on the steamer Ocean Queen, from New York for Aspinwall, was occasioned by the mutiny of 200 seamen for the Pacific squadron. The third day out they came aft and attempted to force the grating which separated the cabin from the steerage passengers, declaring they would dine in the cabin. Two of them were shot by Com'r Ammen, and the rest were put in irons.

LOST—Probably on Sunday, in Court or State street, a heavy GOLD CHAIN, with LOCKET attached containing two miniatures. The finder will confer a great favor, and receive a satisfactory reward, on leaving the same at the Chronicle Office.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of great alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from strumous complaints and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venerial Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not.—When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla.—For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the Agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Flatulency from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly,—and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

"A Wonderful Discovery."
DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

Local.

THE LITTLE DAILIES, or the Daily papers in cities of small size, are and must always necessarily be,—as we have often remarked—of much greater value and consequence to the community in which they are published, than they can be as a private speculation, be they never so profitable.

We have also before spoken of the Bath Daily Times; which has always been a live paper, and ought to "live forever." But the editor intimates that it is not very well supported; and says:

"We shall continue the publication one month longer. If, at the end of that time, the increase of subscription, or sufficient available assurances are not given that the paper shall be sustained, then its publication ceases. * * * The point we now wish to present is, that if the Daily is of any advantage to the people or the interests of Bath, it ought to receive a cordial and generous support. * * * True, we have a fair list of paying subscribers, and the other patronage of the office is good, but the largely increased expenses cannot be met. * * * We do not deem it best to increase the subscription rates, though this has been done by all other dailies. To have the paper stop, we believe would be a disadvantage to the place in many respects."

No doubt of it—and we cannot see why those who do want the paper, and most of whom would undoubtedly cheerfully pay an increased, remunerative price, should not be called upon to do so. Our experience has been that almost all (or if not, more than as many others,) who wanted this Chronicle at $3 the year, also retain it at $4 and $5. Says the Times man further:

"There are many business men and families in Bath who do not take the paper, who we know are perfectly able to do so. Many get all their newspaper reading without expense to themselves by borrowing the paper of their neighbors, or reading it in the stores or shops of others. There are people enough here to liberally sustain the paper. The list ought to be doubled, thus furnishing the means so that important improvements might be made in the general appearance and contents of the paper."

Every word of this is true—and it applies to other places besides Bath, too. We do not get pay for half those who read the Chronicle; and we hold that every able man who has regularly thus read our paper (not his) for the dozen years we have printed it, fairly owes us the $50 or so which our more honest "patrons" have paid us! We wonder when their white oak consciences will be smitten so that they will do the printer justice, and pay for the reading they have too long stolen from us? When they do, we'll hold a grand jubilee with all our original subscribers.

Then, too, here as farther east, there is many a man among us, called "rich," (but who sets too much by his money ever to feel so,) and who at least considers himself public-spirited and always ready to aid home enterprise,—who also steals his reading year after year. Suffice it to say, we ask no favors of such—and it is of no use for our Times friend to apply to them. They are joined to their idol, and their meanness—let them alone. He concludes:

"How can this be done? By the direct effort of the friends of the paper. We think that those who desire its continuance should influence enough of their friends and citizens to effect the result. A little effort in this direction might accomplish much. We need help, and if it does not come, we shall conclude the people do not want the paper, and must therefore cease its publication."

We don't believe in this reasoning. A newspaper must and should stand or fall on its own merits, like any other business. Friends or enemies, as such, (especially the latter,) are of comparatively little account. We advise the Times to put up the price of subscription.

☞ Among the wounded who had been taken to White House, Va., Jun 5, were the following residents of this city: James T. Gammon; Thomas Collins, flesh wound in the leg; James Gordon, flesh wound in the wrist.

George Brown, 10th N. H. regiment, is among the wounded who have been admitted to the field hospital of the 18th army corps,—probably George Brown of this city, a member of Co. G.

☞ The roof of the house of Capt. Asa Brooks, in Eliot, Me., was badly damaged by a fire on Saturday afternoon last, which caught from a burning chimney. The fire was discovered by a member of Dr. Guptil's family, who resides opposite, and was extinguished, after it had "honeycombed" the roof, by his family and the occupants—nearly all the men in the vicinity being absent at the Navy Yard or farming.

☞ Senior Lieut. Joseph M. Parsons, formerly of this city, of the 12th unattached company Mass. Heavy Artillery, has been promoted to the position of Captain of the 15th company, which has been ordered to Washington.

☞ Letters from Mr. Wilbur F. Lamb, of this city, Co. K, 6th regiment Veteran Reserves, state that he is uninjured. He has been reported killed.

☞ A man was thrown from a wagon on Market Square and somewhat injured, on Tuesday evening.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.—We learn that Second Lieuts. Washburn and French have been ordered to report for duty at this Marine Station.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Thomas R. Proctor has sufficiently recovered from a recent indisposition to enable him to resume his duties as writer for Paymaster Emery.

The U. S. schooner Beauregard is to be overhauled and thoroughly repaired before going to sea.

The steamer Albatross has been stripped of her spars, rigging, &c., and her deck timbers taken up preparatory to taking out her boilers and such parts of her machinery as will need repairing.

The Franklin will probably be launched in about two months, and give place to a large vessel of entirely different model.

The Turrets of the Agamenticus have arrived from East Boston and will be immediately put in.

The discharged sailors of the U. S. sloop Kittatinny who came home in the Albatross, received their pay on Tuesday, and were attended by the usual number of sharks and hangers-on. Jack, from appearances, fooled away his money in many instances, as usual.

The Vandalia has received a fresh coat of paint, which was very much needed, as a matter of utility and respectability.

The tug boat Pottfire makes daily trips to the ship New Hampshire (lying below), having in tow a schooner laden with provisions for the one thousand men on board.

☞ We hear frequent inquiries in these dusty times, about the street sprinkler; but we have not heard a word from the managers of it, and do not know whether it will be put on the course this season. Perhaps the managers are sick of trying thus thankelessly to serve the public—tired of the meanness of many who ought to help, but refused to aid the matter, because "it don't pass my house," or some other idle excuse. But as we said before, we don't know anything about it—though we do know that we wouldn't take charge of the business, as Messrs. Carr and Emery did last year, for less than all the money subscribed, to go to ourself. And yet, instead of making anything, we have heard somebody say their expenses were something like a hundred dollars more than receipts! And of course the cost will be far greater this year.

So unless subscriptions are pretty liberal and numerous, we suppose it is of no use to think of having the dust wet down, out of our mouths and eyes, this season.—The sprinkler "didn't pass our house," (nor the residences of either of the "high contracting parties," either;) but we considered it a privilege—although, we regret to say, our place of business is not on the lower floor—to pay our $5 toward so agreeable an institution, with all its faults. And we are ready to give twice as much this year. Who says aye?

☞ An intelligent Boy, of good habits and fair education, can have a fine opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the profession of printing, or be inducted into the mysteries of 'the art preservative of all arts,'—in other words, to learn the Printer's trade—at this Chronicle Office. je5tf

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ Diarrhea and dysentery will decimate the volunteers far more than the bullets of the enemy, therefore let every man see to it that he carries with him a full supply of Holloway's Pills. Their use in India and the Crimea saved thousands of British soldiers.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 213

CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.
They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.
The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

THE FIRST FORGER.—For sixty-four years the Bank of England had circulated its paper with freedom; and during this period no attempt had been made to imitate it. He who takes the first in a new line of wrong-doing has more than the simple act to answer for; and to Richard Henry Vaughan, a Stratford linen draper, belongs the melancholy celebrity of having led the van in this new phase of crime, in the year 1678. The records of his life do not show want, beggary or starvation urging him, but a simple design to seem greater than he was. By one of the artists employed—and there were several engaged on the different parts of the notes—the discovery was made. The criminal had filled them up to the number of twenty, and deposited them in the hands of a young lady to whom he was attached, as a proof of his wealth. From this period forged notes became common.—Notes and Queries.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospital, late Medical Inspector—Bureau New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered incurable, or intractable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded, and candid to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is eliminated, and the equilibrium is restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who have been cured by other physicians—the

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, we "cure too quick," while others doubt their convalescence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the slow recuperative process of Nature. This is our reply:

In health, the body is like a pendulum of equal scale, in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effect of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all HEREDITARY DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical treatment incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritic), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost INSTANTLY alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, chronic or virulent cases, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they first used this medicine, particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Retting of Bones, Bad Constitution, Pains in the Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Depressed Spirits, which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases, such as Pimples, Blotches, Blks.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to their friends and themselves.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing unnecessary and intolerable suffering, which disfigures so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, and Obstructions, Inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Fallen Womb, which will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation, Disease of Vision—producing a grating or jilting sound, Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or pressing sensations from any sudden pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Retrogression to Sterility, Pain in the Back, Loss of Flesh, Sleeplessness, Horror of Death, Fears, Fear of Disease, Diseases of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Loss of Spirits, Muscular Spasms, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Throat, Tongue, Spine, Limbs, Face, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending on a deranged action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the disease and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an uncle sted or sluggish condition of that vital organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup cannot be surpassed by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenances, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and the foundation is laid for disease in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the easiest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—those who have used it think it invaluable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is specially recommended in Gonorrhœa of three Months' standing in females where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls, three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its vigor, purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and anodyne; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

The oven is a new style and very superior broiler and cut iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use; as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of rekindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove; as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing little or no improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of oxygen air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert H. Swett, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

BATTLE AND DISEASE.—B. F. Taylor's last letter to the Chicago Journal contains the following:

Let me give you a suggestive fact which possesses a deep significance:—From November 24, 1863, to the 14th of May, 1864, out of one thousand and twenty-six who have been laid in the Soldiers' Rest at Chattanooga, one hundred and sixty-seven were killed on the field of battle. Three hundred and seventy eight died from wounds. Five hundred and forty-five in all from rebel bullets, only fifty-three per cent, of the thousand and twenty-six. And what of the four hundred and eighty-one! Hardships, exposure, the wasting fever, the "slings and arrows" of rheumatism, and all the ills of the empty box that stands wide open in the midst of camps, but at whose bottom is "Hope, the charmer," still, even as she lingered there in the old time. The battle ended, the surgeon's duty done, how does the work of physician and Sanitary Commission rise almost to the dignity of the army's salvation! In him, the faithful, skilled and true—in them, laden with blessings, so many beauties from home—is the soldier's hope, after all. Get generals wise and brave, if you can, but, oh, be sure that the Physician is equal to the trust; let no man "try his 'prentice hand" on our grand journeymen in blue. Let the women of the North love and labor on. Their gifts are angels in disguise. As I have told you before, the battle is the red blossom of war, but the roots, dark and bitter, run beneath ten thousand tents and cabins, creep through unnumbered wards of hospitals, and feel their way, like the fingers of a hand, in all this ground we tread upon, save that great, solemn acre rich in Soldiers dead—the acre of the living God.

— Two carpenters fell a distance of five stories in Boston on Monday, by the giving way of a staging. One of them was badly injured, but the other was able to walk away.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.
A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.
The Duplex Elliptic (or Double) Steel Spring.
J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers St., N. Y., Are the owners of the Patent and Exclusive Manufacturers of this,
J. W. BRADLEY'S PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT.
This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz: its annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any ordinary place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupy a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and all the lightness and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants who have supplied a-ove, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different States.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the shortest notice, and dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but the only one in Boston, with advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that any other of the kind claiming the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-four years past, enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY,

—OF—
KITCHEN FURNISHING GOODS.
The Virtues and Advantages
—OF—SCHOOLEY'S
NEW IMPROVED
REFRIGERATORS ARE:
1. We produce greater cold from less ice than any other Refrigerator ever invented.
2. We have double the cooling power at a less cost.
3. Complete and perfect ventilation.
4. Dry, cold air.
5. Sweet smelling, free from moisture, mold or must.
6. One article will not partake of the taste or smell of another, as is always the case in every other Refrigerator.
7. Any kind of perishable food can be preserved almost any length of time.
8. The Provision Chamber can easily be kept clean and sweet, as no moisture is ever deposited on its sides as in all other kinds.
9. The mechanical structure of our Refrigerators will compare with any of the best made household furniture.
10. Our prices are more reasonable than any other Refrigerator now offered for sale.
11. A perfectly uniform temperature, so that every portion of the Refrigerator can be used at the same time.
12. A constant change of air is secured in the Provision Chamber, without any unnecessary waste of ice, or loss of air already cooled.
An assortment of the above, with common Upright and Chest Refrigerators, for sale at the old prices, notwithstanding an advance of 15 per ct. has been made by the manufacturers on the 19th inst. Terms Cash. E. A. STEVENS.

Gas Fixtures.
Persons who desire to have any repairs or alterations made in Gas Pipes or Fixtures, are requested to send in their orders at once. The work can be done much more promptly now than later in the season. E. A. STEVENS.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."
All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.
A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

HALEY, MORSE & BOYDEN'S
SELF-ADJUSTING
CLOTHES WRINGER.
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
Over 40,000 have been sold by the manufacturer in a little more than two years—nearly 400 of them in Portsmouth and vicinity!
Buy one and try it—if not perfectly satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Facts for the People.
The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 30 to 40 per cent. this season.
We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to
THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.
Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to stop it at the present high price of Fuel.
One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.
A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.
These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses in Portsmouth, and private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valuable—more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials in the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the strongest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

An expedition of 1000 men from Memphis, under Gen. Sturgis, has met with a disaster, having been met by a rebel force, said to number 10,000 men, under Forrest, Lee and Rhoddy, and suffered a defeat, with the loss of their wagon train and ammunition. of our soldiers were captured, and they were compelled to destroy their artillery.

Marmaduke's force is reported to be at Bayou Magon, while Shelby's and Cabell's are at Columbia. Gen. Canby has dispatched a large force to drive off the rebels.

Dispatches from Gen. Sherman's army, 14th, state that Gen. Thomas had gained ground, and that the rebel Gen. Polk was killed on Monday and his body sent to Marietta. The Tribune's dispatch states that a "concentra-ed movement of gigantic import was successfully accomplished on the 1st by Gens. Hooker and McPherson, the nature of which cannot now be made public.—Wheeler, with a cavalry force, is endeavoring to interrupt Gen. Sherman's communications.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Hunter, with his own troops and those of Gens. Averill and Crook, left Staunton, Va., on the 10th. He destroyed over $3,000,000 worth of rebel property at that place. The expedition to Waynesboro destroyed several railroad bridges and tracks. Imboden's forces are reported to be completely demoralized, and there is no force of consequence in our front.

Sec. Stanton discloses the facts respecting Gen. Grant's great movement to the south of the James River. It commenced on Sunday night. Gen. Smith's 18th corps marched to White House and embarked in transports for Bermuda Landing; Wright and Burnside crossed the Chickahominy at Jones' Bridge, and marched to Charles City, on the James; Hancock and Warren crossed the Chickahominy at Long Bridge, and marched to Wilcox's, on the James. Tuesday P. M. Gen. Grant himself was with Gen. Butler at Bermuda Landing: our movement had been made with great celerity and so far without loss or accident.

There is great activity at Fortress Monroe and vicinity. The 18th army corps passed there on Monday night; and on Tuesday Gens. Smith, Benham and Martindale started up James river. The troops on the same day were rapidly disembarking at Bermuda Landing. Gen. Butler has been laying pontoons across James river for several days.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.—The Senate passed the bill in relation to the suspension of specie payments by banks. Notice was given of a bill exempting volunteers and drafted men from the payment of a poll tax. In the House, a bill to incorporate the Sovereign Grand Consistory of the State of New Hampshire, and a bill to tax Savings Banks were introduced, read twice and referred. Notice was given of a bill in relation to the Police Court of Portsmouth; of a bill to encourage enlistments; and of a bill prohibiting the enlistment of N. H. men in other States. The bill in amendment of Chapter 162, R. S., relating to insolvent estates, was passed. The Governor communicated the letter from the War Department announcing its intention to locate a hospital at Manchester. A special committee was appointed to inquire into alleged efforts on the part of the Warden of the State Prison or other state officials to procure pardons for convicts for pecuniary considerations.

The Election of U. S. Senator was made on Wednesday morning, for the term of six years from March 4, 1865. The vote in the House was as follows: Whole number 319, necessary to a choice, 160; Ira A. Eastman had 1, Gilman Marston 4, John H. George 113, Aaron H. Cragin 201.—The Senate concurred by the following vote—George 3, Cragin 8.

On Wednesday the Legislature passed unanimously a resolution extending the thanks of New Hampshire to Brig. General Marston, for his patriotic devotion to his country, and for conspicuous gallantry on the field of battle.

— The pirate Alabama left Cape of Good Hope March 25, cruising.

— The Boston Traveller is pitching into the monitors, with its coat off.

— President Lincoln visits the Philadelphia Sanitary Fair to-day,—Thursday.

— The House has passed the gold bill—prohibiting speculation in gold.

— Charles A. Binney, a New York commission merchant, was sent to Fort Lafayette on Tuesday, charged with being engaged in blockade running.

— A man named Eat-on has stolen some hens from a man named Frost in Westbrook, Me., which was a deed both foul and cool.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

Better never, perhaps, than too late—but really we do want to say a word further of Concord and Election Day, old and stale as the latter topic may now be. As to Concord, that is neither old nor stale, but one of the most beautiful of all New England's beautiful cities. We wish dear old Portsmouth was only laid out half as well, and had anything like so good sites for building. If our forefathers had exhibited as much taste and sound discretion in the matter as the settlers and builders of Concord, our city, with no more dwellings than we have now, would extend continuously to Greenland, and from the sea to old Piscataqua Bridge, instead of being all huddled up together like the crowded districts of a great city. Even now, when a man puts up a new house, he must needs shove it in between two old ones somewhere in what is termed a good location, where already there is not half breathing room for the present occupants. And the same with a church or a schoolhouse. And then to think that we have no common or park, or open square, nearer than the old sandy Plains, except a few yards on the Parade, and a foot or two at the old Haymarket.—And these all unornamented and unadorned. Alas! is it always to be thus?

These growlings or "reflections" were induced by whatever we saw in a walk of say three miles, around the spacious streets of Concord before breakfast on inauguration day. A more pleasant cruise we have rarely enjoyed.

For companion, we had Br. Place, of the Rochester Courier—him whom we have before mentioned, and with whom we had that glass of "lemonade, mine," plain, at the Phenix, with Col. Kent, (also one of the guill fraternity) the night before.—Place is an old soldier, and one of the walkers, and a right down good fellow, too, as all editors should be; but it don't agree with him to play all day and all night too so well as it does with some of the other boys. We told you to look out for 'em, Place.

Bruce, the veteran clerk at the Phenix, who never seems to leave his post—the "office"—to eat or sleep, and who certainly never sleeps while on duty, the night before invited us both to "sleep with him, if we didn't find any better choice." Place didn't understand the joke, and so thanked the attentive clerk, &c.; but we told him if he tried Bruce's place of rest he would have to lie down standing up, as the Dutchman's refractory ben "set stannin'." However, Dumas found us a room, or made one somewhere, as he always does, and we enjoyed our beds till day-break—after which it is always more agreeable to us to be out of doors. We wish the humans were as wise as all well behaved brutes, and would always go to bed at dark and get up at daylight.

Speaking of the Phenix, it is one of the most agreeable public houses we visit anywhere—and one reason is that, in addition to good rooms and good fare, there is so little fuss and flummery about the attendants. Bruce is quiet and cool as a cucumber, Ken. Eliot is daily growing fatter and more comfortable, and as for the host Dumas himself, he always appears (like Rice of the Boston "American") as if he had nothing to do but be agreeable to guests.—And yet all the details of business are attended to in the most thorough manner—better than if all hands hurry-skurried round as if for dear life.

They have just built a nice new brick High School House in Concord—a substantial building, but of singular model, and not generally pronounced beautiful. Tastes differ, however. The cost, we believe, is about $26,000.

We can hardly imagine a more foolish thing than to remove the State House from Concord—and we never expect to see it done. How much better, than to enlarge the premises, even, it would be to cut down the number of patriots who are desirous of serving their country in "the great and general court." And what folly, too, to talk about the State of New Hampshire not being able to afford a new Capitol, if she wants it! As well say a fellow couldn't get a ring for his sweetheart—and if he couldn't, then he doesn't deserve the girl, that's all; nor the State to be called a Government. Why, some single men build a private house to cost more than the sum proposed. Away with the absurd nonsense that a State or city can't afford a Hall, or any such twaddle.

It was good to see among the Ex-Governors, at the celebration, Goodwin, whose discreet foresight led him, almost alone among our public men, long before the war, to urge and re-urge the re-establishment of our old militia system, with improvements, and whose liberality and public spirit did organize the Horse Guards, and originate military encampments in the State; Haile, who so well sustains always the dignity of any position; Berry, the late incumbent of undoubted integrity; and the ever-active, ever-cheerful Colby, whose efficiency as Provost Marshal has counted so well for the Concord district in the important matter of quotas, and for the State as Adjutant General.

But we must leave Concord, in all its glory—and the Horse Guards in all their glory too, at dinner, alas! and away we go, in Conductor Clough's train of a couple of dozen cars, to Manchester, whence Langley whisks us home at a great rate of speed.—And its of no use, no matter how long the train, for fellows to try to dodge those Conductors, and steal their ride, as a couple of Nashua boys did that day, by getting on at the back end of the train after the ticket-taker had been through a car. It is astonishing to any of the uninitiated, how many people who call themselves honest, want to steal their reading and their riding. F.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A grand Lincoln and Johnson ratification meeting is to be held in Concord this (Thursday) evening.

—— A communication just received by Gov. Gilmore, states that the General Government has ordered the location of a hospital of four hundred beds, in Manchester.

—— Col. John H. George was the Democratic candidate for Senator, receiving in the Caucus 61 votes to 31 for Ira H. Eastman. The nomination was made unanimous.

—— There were snow squalls on the Lake, and beyond, last Friday, where our city cousins—the pickets of a numerous army that is to visit New Hampshire this season—expected Arcadian skies and an Italian atmosphere.

—— Last Saturday afternoon a carriage, containing Mr. Thompson, his wife and three children, of Fisherville, was run into by one of the afternoon trains at a crossing on the Boson, Concord and Montreal R. R. above Sewell's Falls. The horse was killed. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were considerably injured, but the children escaped harm.

—— The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says: "Hon. John P. Hale will return to his seat to-morow. The expression of regret at the termination of his Senatorial career is general. Equally general is the expression of the opinion that the anti-slavery cause is indebted to him in a debt it can never pay."

—— We are indebted to Hon. Peter Sanborn, State Treasurer, for a copy of his annual report for the year ending June 1, 1864. His style is not very flowery, but, judging from these pages, it is certainly figurative. The principal statements of receipts and expenditures by the State we have already published, as given in the Governor's Message.

—— The Concord Reporter states that a convict who was committed to the State Prison for stealing, among other articles, a bank note for a hundred dollars, having become serious under the preaching of the chaplain, has disclosed its hiding-place. It lay on the inside of a cover to a book in his cell, and a leaf of paper was pasted over it. It was concealed in his hair when he was incarcerated. The money has been restored to the owner.

—— We are indebted to John Foss, Warden of the State Prison, for a copy of his report for the past year, which is accompanied by the reports of the Chaplain and the Physician. The net income for the year has been $1442.15,—ours being one of the very few State Prisons in the country which actually pay expenses.—There were 101 convicts in the prison May 1, 1863, and 22 have been received during the year. 14 have been discharged and 17 pardoned, leaving 92 in the prison May 1, 1864, of whom 17 are from Rockingham County. Ten of the prisoners are serving out their second term; and five their third. The library contains 1100 volumes, which are earnestly sought after by most of those who can read. One of the prisoners has read 40,000 pages the past year. Several who could not read or write when committed, are now pretty good readers. The past has been an unusually healthy year at the prison. There has not been a case of fever, or a death, and but very little sickness.

—— The 2d N. H. regiment arrived in Boston at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, and after a short stop proceeded to Concord, where they were appropriately greeted and honored. A dispatch was received in Concord on Monday afternoon from Col. Howe, State Agent at New York, stating that the regiment would leave for Portsmouth; but this, of course, would never do, and Capt. Holmes, U. S. mustering officer at Concord, was posted off to Boston at once, to meet the regiment and if possible have them proceed to Concord.

So the regiment went to Concord, reaching there at 11 A. M. They were received by the Brigade Band and crowds of citizens, and escorted through the principal streets to the Phenix and Eagle Hotels, where a public dinner was given them. A grand reception was then extended to them on the State House grounds, the exercises being in charge of Adj. Gen. Natt Head. Gov. Gilmore presided, and the Legislature attended in a body. Addresses were made by several gentlemen, in honor of the regiment. The brave boys deserve it all, and more.

The Dime Coffee

Still sells well yet as a substitute for the higher price Coffee, at Je9 L. LAIGHTON'S.

Local.

☞ A great hue and cry is raised about town, because our Acting Mayor has allowed a Circus Company to put up huge billboards on Market Square—forming a sort of big box or small building, covered with illuminated posters advertising the miraculous show. We hear that petitions for the removal of the unsightly structure, or remonstrances against its continuance, are to be presented to the Aldermen. But, probably, after the Mayor's agreement, and the fact that the old Market is so conditioned as not to allow the usual posting there,—the novelty will remain for a few days, till after the show. And, really, we can't see that it hurts anybody; and homely as it is, it doesn't look a bit more so, to us, than the old Market near it, and many other nuisances which are allowed.

☞ The Boys' High School in this city has for several months been in charge of Mr. John E. Ayer, the Assistant Teacher, —Mr. Smith, the Principal, being kept from his duties by severe sickness from rheumatism. Mr. Ayer has for some time had the aid of his brother in the school; but he has been obliged to return to College to graduate, and Mr. Edwin B. Neal, another student at Portsmouth, is at present acting as Assistant Teacher. Matters are conducted very much as usual, amid all these changes; and the interests of the school suffer as little as possible under the circumstances.

☞ The Boston Transcript states that a letter from the chaplain of the 27th Mass. Regt., dated "In the field, near Gaines's Mills, June 4," brings the sad news of the death of Maj. Wm. Augustus Walker, who was in command of the regiment. He fell mortally wounded on the 3d inst., while leading a charge on the enemy's works, at the head of his men. He had reached the rifle pits of the enemy, when he was pierced by a musket ball through the neck, and fell forward into the ditch. His remains had not been recovered at last accounts. Maj. Walker was a native of this city, about 36 years of age, and son of the late William Walker. He was clerk for a time in Mr. Joseph Clark's jewelry store, being known here generally by his middle name. From 1850 to 1853 he was a clerk in Boston, and subsequently moved to Greenfield, Mass., where he resided at the breaking out of the rebellion. A company was raised in that town, of which Mr. Walker was appointed captain. He served with great ability in the campaigns in North Carolina, and was greatly beloved by his men and associate officers. From the former he received most convicting proof of their regard.

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER."—It is unsafe and uncertain to count unhatched chickens, no doubt; but a pigeon of Mr. Bilbrook's, at Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge's brewery stable in this city, has just brought out a couple of as good chicks as any biddy can show. The way it came about was: a hen flew up into the dove cote, and laid several eggs, which were removed, all but two, and also those the pigeon laid. So the dove had only Hobson's choice left,—and she did not retreat or surrender, as our General of that name is reported to have done, down South, just now; but stuck to her work, and was in due time rewarded by the forthcoming of the two chicks aforesaid—which were soon taken from her, and are now doing as well as can be expected—and no doubt will soon outgrow their mother, if they can find out who she is.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.—The New Hampshire was towed to sea from the lower harbor on Wednesday morning, by the tugboat Portfire.

U. S. steamer Albatross was docked on Wednesday morning for examination.

First Lieut. L. P. French and Second Lieut. J. H. Washburne, of the U. S. Marine Corps, who have recently reported themselves at this station, are placed upon duty at the Marine Barracks.

☞ That Street Sprinkler is coming out, after all, we are told—if funds enough are subscribed, for which the committee are looking round. And we are glad to learn, further, that this year all who refuse to aid the enterprise will be "spotted," by having the sprinkler always shut off in front of their premises. That's right—let them have their "peck."

☞ The Ladies of the National Table of the Maryland Fair for the Sanitary and Christian Commissions "acknowledge with gratitude the donation of a large case of admirable spool cotton from the Portsmouth, N. H., Steam Factory, through William S. Eaton."

☞ Mr. Warren K. Day, organist at the Universalist Church in this city, has removed from Dover to Portsmouth—and offers his services in the music-teaching line generally, to our citizens, in his advertisement.

☞ Myers' Dramatic Company open at the Temple to-night. They have always met good success here,—and the attention of theatre-goers is invited to the advertisement for this series of three entertainments.

N. E. BUSINESS DIRECTORY FOR 1864. The last number of this valuable business man's guide was issued by Messrs. Adams, Sampson & Co., of Boston, in 1860. They are now engaged collecting information for a new edition, to appear very soon, containing the name and Post Office address of every business man in New England; also a list of Banks, Insurance and Manufacturing Co.'s, and other general and valuable information, arranged in the most simple manner. Their agents are now in this city, and our business men will be called upon for information, which will, of course, be given willingly and correctly. The Directory is one of the best advertising mediums, and all business men would do well to examine it and engage a copy of the work. Price $5.

☞ Mr. Avery on Tuesday received the first strawberries of the season, raised by Mr. R. W. Webster. There had been a few boxes sold previously, brought from places further South, but these, we believe, were the first of the home product.

— The blockade runner Rose, a side-wheel steamer, of London, with an assorted cargo, was chased ashore on the 2d by the U. S. steamer Wamsuca, at Georgetown, S. C., and destroyed.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. It does always bringes a smile to the housewife; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Is it possible that any Soldier can be so foolish as to leave the city without a supply of Holloway's Ointment and Pills? Whoever does so will deeply regret it. These medicines are the only certain cures for Bowel Complaints, Fevers, Sores and Scurvy.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 223

The ship Anna Schmidt, which was destroyed by the Alabama off the coast of South America, had on board a quantity of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for California. Dr. Ayer & Co. now appeal for redress direct to the British Government, as the responsible party in this wicked business, and base their claim for payment and protection on the ground of humanity, as their commodities are wholly for the sick. Their point is well taken, and will doubtless be pressed with the pluck and persistency which characterize the operations of these celebrated chemists.—[Baltimore Clipper.

NEW JERSEY WINE.—This new article of American Wine is meeting with uncommon favor in European circles, and highly esteemed by the best physicians in this country. The following is a testimonial we saw from the New York Hospital. We publish it for the information of our readers:

"New York, Nov. 14.

"I am using Speer's 'Sambuci Wine,' and find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and as such I believe it preferable to the commercial port, and all other wines, as it possesses their tonic properties without the deleterious effect caused by their impurities. It is also very palatable, and this is a recommendation to many, especially females.

S. S. HARRIS, M. D., N. Y. Hospital."

This is an excellent article for family use, and for females. Our druggists have it for sale.

MASON & HAMLIN'S
CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

☞ The manuscript of the following lines was contributed to the St. Louis Sanitary Fair by John G. Whittier:

THE CAUSE.

God mend his heart who cannot feel
The impulse of a holy zeal,
And see not, with his sordid eyes,
The beauty of self-sacrifice!
Though in the sacred place he stands,
Uplifting consecrated hands,
Unworthy are his lips to tell
Of Jesus' martyr miracle.

Not to the swift nor to the strong
The battles of the right belong;
For he who strikes for freedom, wears
The armor of the captive's prayer,
And nature proffers to his cause
The strength of her eternal laws;
While he whose aim is truth and love
And herd with common brutes to blind,
Strives evermore at fearful odds
With nature and the justice of God,
And dares the dread flood which, late or soon, their right shall vindicate.

— A lady attempting to leave the train, in Portland on Monday after the cars started, her ample crinoline was caught in the step of the car and she was precipitated to the platform. Some other portion of her dress was caught by the wheels, and she was dragged about 60 feet, the united strength of three men being scarcely sufficient to keep her from being drawn under the wheels of the car. She was finally released by her hoop skirt being torn from her body and carried away by the wheels. She sustained some slight bruises.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York Volunteer Drafts, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have to parallel in the medical world.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Diseases of long standing, painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past few years we have combined with science and overcome opposition as hoary-headed as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt the permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the slow recuperative process of Nature. This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium, but when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the balance, and that is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need but reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Dizziness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumo, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Dyspepsia, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritic], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most severe cases are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 10 or 20 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak and nervous men, this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fullds more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all effects of Mercury, restoring and moving the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselve and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Breast, Neck or Groin. Female Bloom should be taken upon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disgure so many of the prettiest faces of the opposite sex. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which blight upon a Beautiful Complexion. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All accompanying diseases suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, Leucorrhœa, Suppressed, Painful, Inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swollen Neck, the Life Syrup will eradicate in a few days. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without persevering. The enlarged Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as the Palpitation, Disease of Hope producing Spitting or Gling sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any complaint of the Heart, Constitution Life Syrup, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forgetfulness, Horror of Disease, Dull Eyes, Pimples on the Face, Dry Skin, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languor of the Secondary Symptoms of Disease and of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Throat, Nose, Mouth, Limbs, Scrofula or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased state of the system, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is disagreeable to the husband.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an elevated or yellow complexion or hot flashes, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in Lumbago, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Science and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is impaired in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant on childbirth. The strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the flow of milk, which is thus made healthy and nutritious. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is specially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus or Whites, particularly where all the old nostrums and medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an aid to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap secret injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and soap-stone heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who have been using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe and chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some patents having little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend until they are burned up, the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of fuel not generated, meeting the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated to let in just the amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE LIFE AND TIMES
OF
Benjamin Franklin,
BY JAMES PARTON.
Author of "Life and Times of Aaron Burr," "Life of Andrew Jackson," "Gen. Butler in New Orleans," etc.

Two vols., Crown 8vo, 687 and 707 pages, with Steel Portraits. Cloth, extra, price $5.

In previous Biographies of Franklin, the course pursued has been to gather the materials of a autobiography which Franklin prepared for the benefit of youth, (omitting, therefore, much of interest to mature readers,) and to append to them a brief account of Franklin's public career. Admirable as is the portion of autobiography which Franklin left, it cannot be regarded as a satisfactory biography, not merely because it was designed for the young, but also because no man can be an impartial judge of his own actions—his pride or modesty will prevent.

Mr. Parton has used Franklin's autobiography as material only, employing in his narrative of Franklin's early life the mass of interesting material afforded by the newspapers, books and correspondence of the period. His later life, also, is fully related in these volumes for the first time. Beside the stores of material collected in our historical libraries, Mr. Parton has obtained much that is absolutely new, and much more that will be new to all that have not made the times of Franklin an object of special research. Franklin, perhaps, offers the most subject for biography to be found in the annals of America. His career as a citizen, tradesman, philosopher, politician, statesman, diplomatist and author, presents a variety of incident, anecdote and history wholly without parallel.

Mr. Parton divides his work into seven parts: 1 Franklin's Ancestry and Early Life, which ends with his starting in business, and his happy recovery from his early skepticism. 2. His Successful Business Career, as editor, printer, stationer and publisher, including his electrical discoveries. 3. His Services to Pennsylvania, in her twenty years contest with the sons of Wm. Penn. 4. His ten years' Residence in London as the representative and champion of the Colonies in their forty to obtain peaceful redress. 5. His Services in the Continental Congress. 6. His nine years' residence in France as the great diplomatist of the Revolution. 7. His Last years and Last Days in Philadelphia.

The publishers, who have been witnesses of the remarkable industry of the author of these volumes, and of the enthusiasm with which he has pursued his labors, confidently believe that this work will prove to be one of the most interesting and valuable biographies ever published.

Also, Ready,
A NEW EDITION OF PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR, much enlarged. 2 vols., crown 8vo, Steel Portraits, cloth, extra. Price $4.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the greatest facilities of any person fortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulceration, Pains in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and military habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit are Nervous Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, excitement, nervousness, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contracting matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Preventive, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invisibly certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N.—All letters for advice must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every one and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!

This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and universally is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department, and the merit of it is, that Bed-Bottoms is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.

They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.

The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed, and claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in understanding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!

These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Further particulars of Gen. Sturgis' disaster are received. Our troops are said to have fought desperately, but of 18 pieces of artillery only 4 were brought off; about 100 wagons were lost, and the greater portion of our wounded fell into the hands of the enemy. Our loss is estimated at 1000 all told.

Gen. A. J. Smith's battle with Marmaduke at Bayou Fish, Ark., took place on the 6th, and lasted two hours. Marmaduke's forces, numbering 6000 mounted infantry and cavalry, beside three batteries, were completely routed, thus opening the Mississippi.

An expedition of Union troops from Fort Myers, Fla., has captured 22 horses, 1000 head of cattle, etc.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

The Boston Advertiser's Washington dispatch refers as follows to Gen. Grant's campaign: "Now that Gen. Grant has reached the James river it is not improper to state that he has achieved up to this time exactly what he intended when he crossed the Rapidan, and that he has not deviated ten miles from his proposed line of march at any place. His crossing at the North Anna was undertaken for the purpose of effectually destroying the section of the Virginia Central railroad between Hanover Junction and Gordonsville, thereby preventing the return of Lee's army northward under any circumstances. This work was accomplished in the most thorough manner, rendering it impossible to supply an army moving on Washington from the South, Northern Virginia being utterly exhausted of food since our forces crossed the Rapidan. They have forced Lee back sixty miles, through four complete lines of fortifications, captured 12,000 prisoners by actual count and twenty-three pieces of artillery. We have lost less than 6000 prisoners, one half of whom were stragglers, and only three guns. Being the attacking party we have lost a few more in killed and wounded than the enemy, but only a few. We have lost seventeen general officers and the enemy twenty-five."

Two army corps crossed to the south side of James river on Tuesday night; and other portions of the army on Wednesday at various points. There was fighting in the direction of Petersburg, Wednesday morning—result not ascertained. It is said that the rebels left their works almost as soon as we did, taking the roads to Richmond.

Lee's cavalry disappeared on Friday, probably in pursuit of Sheridan.

THE LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—The election of Senator, and the passage of resolutions complimentary to Brig. Gen. Marston, we have already reported. The House referred the petition of James N. Tarleton and 202 others, for a reduction of the tolls over New Castle Bridge. Mr. Walker, of Portsmouth, presented the report of the committee appointed by the Governor and Council to prepare a plan for an Agricultural College, which, on motion of Mr. Haven, of Portsmouth, was referred to a select committee of ten, one from each county. The Committee on the Judiciary reported a bill in relation to costs—that costs shall follow the results of the suit; ordered to a second reading. A resolution was introduced, instructing the Committee on the State House and State House Yard to inquire and report immediately if gunpowder or fixed ammunition is stored in the State House. It aroused some sleepy members, who could not be induced to keep their eyes open through any ordinary means.

— Somebody defines a Copperhead as one who has all the instincts of a traitor without the pluck to be a rebel.

— A man has been arrested at Manchester, England, for trying to kill his wife with a tart containing seven pins, bent and sharpened like fishhooks. The woman was insane, and he wanted to marry another.

— There was a large and enthusiastic ratification meeting in New York Wednesday evening, which cordially endorsed the Baltimore platform and nominations.

— A project is on foot in New York, to establish, on the banks of the Hudson, a Home for the Orphan Daughters of Volunteer Soldiers.

— New Zealand advices report two severe engagements, in one of which the English troops suffered a reverse. There was no immediate prospect of the campaign closing.

— Late foreign advices give a report that Louis Napoleon has sent two Commissioners to America to report on the prospects of the war here, and to renew overtures in conjunction with England to stop the carnage.

— A California paper relates the story of a woman whose husband was killed after she had been married four weeks; in three weeks more she married again; that husband lived two weeks; in two weeks after he died, she married his brother; and six months after her last marriage, she gave birth to a child by her first husband.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

[Concluded.]

In the third place, the aggregate annual amount of the products of our free States may be estimated at about thirty hundred millions, and the annual amount, as well as our population, native and foreign, are on the rapid increase. With inexhaustible resources and wealth, we need not be alarmed in respect to the large National debt. Besides, should the rebels be subdued, a large portion of the war expenses, according to the usage of other nations, should be paid out of the confiscated property of the rebel property-holders who waged the war. And, further, the national debt will be extinguished gradually, so as not to fall heavily upon the present generation. Inasmuch as our glorious liberties are now being re-baptised in blood, future generations should pay a portion of the debt.

Now if we can believe the ambitious leaders of the copperheads, our national debt will lead to national bankruptcy and ruin. The same kind of alarm was raised in England when, under the prodigal administration of the first William Pitt, the debt swelled to £140,000,000. And when, as a sequence of her wars with foreign nations, it swelled up to £240,000,000, even many of her candid politicians again predicted national bankruptcy. But although her debt was vastly increased by subsequent wars; by the wars with the United States, France and other powers, during all that long period the prosperity, wealth and population of England were constantly increasing.

The domain of the United States is larger than that of all Europe; our resources are superior to those of England; our population increases more rapidly; our commerce extends to every commercial nation on the globe; and our mines will constantly increase our metallic currency; while our railroads, affording all the facilities of internal trade, cannot fail to add to the national prosperity, wealth and power. If, then, England could flourish, especially in her financial condition, amid all her wars, and afterwards, our loyal States need not despair. It would be idle to regard the croakings and mournful predictions of the opponents of the Administration, the sympathizers with the southern traitors and rebels, who express no joyful emotions in respect to the victories of our valiant troops.

Our calculations are based upon the firm belief that our armies will be victorious; for we trust that out of a population of twenty-four millions, should one million be insufficient, two millions more might be called to the field, rather than see our priceless liberties perish, and the best Government on earth subverted, and our population subjected to the arbitrary rule of the Southern petty despots, by which human life would be insecure, and property of little value.—Relying in a just cause, upon the guidance and protection of the Supreme Ruler of Nations, we do not, and never have despaired of the salvation of the Republic.

NORTH.

☞ A New York dispatch states that the trotting match, mile heats in harness, between Fillingham, Butler and Morgan, took place on Wednesday. The betting was two to one on the former, who won the first two heats, and crossed Butler while leading near the judges' stand on the third heat, and was ruled out of the race, the judges giving the heat to Morgan. Butler won the fourth heat and distanced Morgan in the fifth heat; 5000 persons were present. Time; 2 26; 2 25; 2 24; 2 23; and 2 31.

☞ Hon. Geo. B. Chandler, who has officiated as President of the Union Bank, in Concord, since its organization, has resigned, and is succeeded by Nath'l White, Esq. N. B. Walker, Esq., has been elected director in place of Mr. White. Mr. Chandler, having extensive real estate interests in Vermont, will soon take up his residence at Island Pond.

— The cession of the Ionian Islands to Greece has been formally completed.

—It is reported that the sale of the pirate Georgia has been effected in Liverpool.

— There are very favorable anticipations of the West Egyptian cotton crops.

— There isn't a manufactory of agricultural tools in the Confederacy.

— Advices from Denmark continue very warlike, and there are many indications that the war will go on.

— Gen. Sickles and staff arrived at Little Rock, Ark., on the 5th. He left for Vicksburg on the 10th.

— Gen. Sherman's official return shows that during the present campaign he has captured 1500 rebel prisoners.

— The Charleston Courier complains bitterly of the want of manufactories of glassware and pottery, of matches and agricultural tools, and also of oils of all kinds.

— Gen. Carl Schurz has not been placed in command of a convalescent camp; he is engaged in organizing a large reserve force and awaits orders from Gen. Sherman.

— We have received the July number of the Lady's Friend, which comes to us semi-occasionally. It is very good and cheap,—$2 per year.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—About the time of Lexington battle there were rumors circulated in various places that the British, or red coats, as they were called, were in the neighborhood of such places, killing all before them. At Newbury they had landed upon Plumb Island.

The scene of the one I am about to relate was in that part of Chester now Auburn, and the red coats were reported to be coming up from Sandown. The neighborhood consisted of five families within about half a mile. The men were all in middle life, and all but one, upon hearing of Lexington battle, had shouldered their muskets, and gone to the headquarters at Cambridge.

The report first reached the family of Stephen Dearborn (afterwards Colonel), which consisted of a wife, one son about 11 years old, and two other lads, perhaps a little older. They put the cows and calves together, and started directly towards the British, to the next neighbor—Caleb Hall. His family consisted of his wife, and four girls under eleven years of age. They did the same with cows and calves, and joined the Dearborn family, and went to the next house—Moody Chase's. He was out at Cambridge, but had gone to visit the sick wife of a brother. His wife and three children—the oldest less than six, and the youngest one year old, fell in. The next family was Wells Chase's, who had a wife and boy about 13 years old (the father of the writer). The next was Nathaniel Woods, who had a wife and three children, the youngest two weeks old. They all fell in and marched on in solemn procession directly toward the danger, not knowing whither they were going, until they met Moody Chase returning, who contradicted the report, when they turned round and put up for the night at some of the first houses.

A Mrs. Calef buried her pewter plate, so that the regulars should not run it into balls. Hezekiah Underhill had a quantity of silver money, which he put into a stocking leg and dropped it into the well. William Graham's family "heard the guns all night;" in the morning it was found to be a horse stamping on a plank floor.

I have been thus particular to write out what I have often heard my grand-parents and father relate, to perpetuate the memory of the scene and the actors.

BENJAMIN CHASE.

Auburn, June, 1864.

On the afternoon of the 6th of May, when the massed legions of Longstreet, led it is said in person by that rebel officer, were being buried with almost irresistible fury against Hancock on the Rock road in the Wilderness, and when his line had been broken, a messenger was dispatched by Gen. Hancock to Gen. Meade, announcing the fact. Gen. Grant, who happened to be at Gen. Meade's, is reported to have said on receiving the intelligence, "I can scarcely believe it!" and slowly walking to the skirt of the little pine grove in which headquarters were situated, he leaned one hand against a small tree, and still quietly smoking, gazed toward the left where the battle was raging with ceaseless fury. From the dense chapparel where Hancock was engaged with the enemy lazily rolled upward the sulphurous cloud of battle.

The continuous rattle of musketry, mingled with the crash of as many guns as the nature of the ground allowed to get into position, together with the yells of the enemy, evidenced the desperate character of the conflict. Soon the report that our left wing had been broken, and was being driven back in confusion, spread, and many a face grew pale at the thought of disaster. But calm and imperturbed stood Grant, still leaning against the pine, still smoking, still gazing toward the left, where the battle raged fiercest. But hark! the musketry fire slackens, still diminishes. Undoubtedly the enemy has possession of the road, and is in full pursuit of Hancock's routed and flying troops. But listen again! a cheer! and such a cheer, swelled by 15,000 voices into a roar, comes echoing from the dense forest on the left. It is the signal of hope, of safety, of victory, for the rebels never cheer.

A flash of triumph might have illumined for an instant the eye of Grant; no one saw it; no one saw him other than the same that he is always, undisturbed and self possessed. Five minutes after and an aide from Hancock came dashing up to headquarters and announced that we had repulsed the enemy, and that the gallant Carroll had saved the day. Hancock had sustained himself for some time against the impetuous onslaughts of Longstreet, the enemy had finally penetrated every line of battle, and had already planted his colors on the works along the Brook road, Carroll's brigade had been thrown into the breach, and the enemy rolled back with slaughter three quarters of a mile beyond, and the battle was over. The Lieut. General received this intelligence with his customary complacency, which seemed to say, "I trusted Hancock, and looked for no other result." It is not astonishing that Grant's presence inspires confidence in the men.

JUNE SEVENTEENTH.—To-day is the 17th of June, and the Boston school children are to have the day, and some of their friends propose a Festival for them at Music Hall. Every boy and girl ought to have the memory of Freedom's dawn associated with their purest, highest and earliest pleasures. So says the Transcript and we would inquire why not the grown-up girls and boys too?

— Spanish advices indicate an early settlement of the dispute with Peru.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not entirely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

THACHER, opposite the Post Office and 12 Market Square, Agent for Portsmouth.—Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agent for New England, and sold by Druggists everywhere. TEBBETTS BROTHERS, Druggists and Chemists, Proprietors, Manchester, N. H. Jel—tf

Proposals for Wood.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the City Clerk's office, in the CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, until the twentieth day of July next, for supplying the Overseers of the Poor with from five hundred to two hundred and fifty cords merchantable HARD WOOD, to be delivered at either Railroad Depot, or at such wharf as the Overseers may designate.

The Overseers reserve the right to reject any bid. By order of the Overseers of the Poor.

MACELLUS BUFFORD, Clerk.

Portsmouth, N. H., May 14, 1864.

Local.

☞ Mr. Charles E. Plaisted, of this city, an original member of the Second New Hampshire Regiment, and who has re-enlisted, has returned home with the disbarged members, on a short furlough, to aid in settling the business of the regiment. From him we ascertain that the officers and men were much disappointed when they learned, at Boston, that they were to be mustered out at Concord, instead of Portsmouth, as had been ordered, and was expected on all hands, so fully that Col. Bailey's family were waiting here to receive him. The gallant Second was formed here,—and it was eminently fitting that Gen. Smith's order for it to be disbanded here should be carried out; but at the last minute Concord greed somehow got the matter arranged differently, or rather dis-arranged.

And the "reception" at Concord was no great shakes, after all—for they were not generally expected there at all, and scarcely anybody but a Band awaited them at the depot; and the official reception was afterwards appointed and announced to be held at the State House half an hour after the down train took away many of the men for their homes. We think Gov. Gilmore could not have had a hand in thus robbing Portsmouth of her own regiment. They will probably be mustered out at Concord next week—unless that order shall be countermanded also.

THE NEW ENROLLMENT of the citizens of the 1st N. H. District liable to military duty has been completed. As we learn from the Provost Marshal's office, the old enrollment numbered 14,420 men; the additions by the present enrollment number 2245, and the deductions number 1967.—The present enrollment numbers 14,698 men—the difference between the first and last enrollments being but 278 men.

Capt. Tilton, Commissioner for this District, has been occupied, with the aid of the enrolling clerks, in arranging the lists, for the past six weeks. The above figures seem a very simple affair,—but it was only by dint of hard and persevering labor by the Commissioner and his assistants that they were obtained. The careful examination of the rolls, both old and new; the comparisons necessary to be made between them, &c., are not easily appreciated by the uninitiated.

☞ The side-wheel steamer De Soto, from Key West, arrived at the Navy Yard on Thursday morning; where a portion of her crew will be discharged, and the remainder removed to another vessel. There are several cases of fever on board, the character of which we have not learned. It is rumored that it is of the yellow type, but of course neither the captain of the yard nor our city health officers would allow her, without quarantine, to come up to the yard under such circumstances. One of the crew died Wednesday, and found a grave in the ocean; another died Thursday, and was buried on Sullivan's Island. The De Soto is a fast vessel, and has captured a large number of blockade runners.

☞ It has been stated in some newspapers of a certain class, that many of the heavy artillery company recently stationed at Fort Constitution have deserted since going to Virginia. A letter from a member of the 1st Company, dated Battery Cameron, June 8, states that "there has not one deserted from either company since leaving New Hampshire. The boys are in good spirits and are ready to obey all orders, whenever given them."

☞ Myers' Dramatic Company give another performance at the Temple to-night. See change of bill, and the cast, in advertisement.

— The Rural New Yorker advises the woman to wet the broom often when sweeping a carpet, so as to keep down the dust. Don't you do it. Two or three such sweepings will fade a carpet more than a year of sunshine.

— Mormon emigration from Europe is declining this year. Thirty-six hundred emigrants came last year. Only sixteen hundred still come this year. They are all from the north of Europe. Not a single Italian, or Spaniard, or Portuguese, and scarcely any Frenchmen are attracted by the Mormon scheme.

— A short time since three gentlemen of Andover engaged to furnish thirty thousand dollars for a library building for the Theological Seminary, provided twenty thousand more were secured for the erection of a chapel. This has been accomplished, and the foundations for the two structures, which are to be of granite, will be laid the ensuing autumn.

Some of our readers were greatly amused yesterday morning at the advertisement of a House, Store, &c., for sale. They didn't seem to understand it. For their information we will simply say it was a House with an L to it.—Portland Press.

An able physiologist has written that one-fifth of the human body is composed of phosphorus. Punch remarks that this most likely accounts for the number of matches made.

[Communication.]

Hon. John P. Hale and his friends do not appear to rest easy, since his defeat as a candidate to the U. S. Senate. We already see him suggested as a candidate for the popular branch of the national legislature.

The question arises, whether a Senator, upon whom a heavy imputation rests, and who could not sufficiently clear up his character (vide prominent Republican newspapers) to obtain a re-election to the Senate by the State legislature, must be considered a martyr, and in consequence thereof proposed as the people's candidate to the U. S. House of Representatives for this congressional district.

Whatever may be said in regard to the political sentiments of the present incumbent, it is quite certain that his honesty never has been and can not be impugned.

We are not of those who believe that certain men must be supported by the people during the terms of their natural lives. One great cause of the present rebellion is the fact of the long continuance in office of men who finally led themselves to believe that they owned the government, people and all. OBSERVER.

CABINET ORGANS,

Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

The undersigned, Agent for the Manufacturers, will be pleased to show the Cabinet Organs to all wishing to purchase, at his residence, NO. 30 HANOVER STREET.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and expensive diseases, whose lives have been sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles of an extreme opposition, so becoming as ever encountered by any Reformer.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "vis medicatrix vitæ" or "Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause there is one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and decisive remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universal, we submit that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need but reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Nausea, and Bowels.

Scrofula.

Strumæ, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint hereditary or acquired, filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorific.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its hundred kindred ills. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated, enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Morbid Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Parties unable to work, suffering from the effects of medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Failing of Warrantees, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depraved Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the effects of Mercury, thereby removing the Fetid Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigures the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken at the commencement of the disease, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the fairest portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few dose of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with immoderate and painful menses, or the reverse, are permanently cared by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove in time. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra efforts. Tumors of the Uterus, Tumors of the Breast, and swellings or other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing dropsy), Pain in the Side, Shoulder or the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any disease of the lungions of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indiscretion in Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Dreaming, Dimness of Sight, Dizziness, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, is recommended the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Joints, we would advise the use of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases, Wealth and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and weakness of the frame ensues. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the lacteal fluid, those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and immediately removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unbearable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and air-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shaking up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable, and as pure as that of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the flue.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron St. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

HOW THEY DO IT IN UTAH.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Salt Lake City, tells this story:

An elderly lady recently called on one of their bishops—Bishops are all unfeed counsellors—respecting her daughter. The mother stated that her offspring had a good opportunity of being united with a young man in wedlock, but she preferred a married gentleman. The Bishop inquired if the married man was of good character, proper habits, &c., could keep her, and take good care of the family that he already had. To this the mother replied affirmatively, and the Bishop said, "All right; let her have the man of her choice." The work was nearly through; the mother had to blush and inform the dignitary of the settlement that he himself was the choice of her daughter! How much the Bishop flushed, blushed and stammered, is not stated; but the damsel in a few days after came, from choice, the wife of her Bishop and counsellor.

RELATIVE VALUE OF U. S. STOCKS.—The following figures show the relative value of different classes of United States stocks. The estimate is based upon Price's Tables, the duration of the five-twenties being set at ten years from the dates of issue.

Gold being at par, the several stocks will pay the holder as follows:

10-40's, 5 p. ct.	if bought at par and accumulated interest.
5-20's, 6 "	if bought at 100 and accted int'st.
81's, 5 "	" 111.38	" "
7-30's, 5 "	" 111.71	" "

If the average premium on gold is 40 per cent. for the whole time, the stocks will pay the holder as follows:

10-40's, 7 p. ct.	if bought at par and accted int'st.
5-20's, 7 "	" 115	" "
81's, 7 "	" 123	" "
7-30's, 7 "	" 123	" "

The difference in value increasing and decreasing with the value of gold.—Portland Price Current.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Also, procures Reissues, Extensions, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches minute and American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largestin New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that more of MODELS PASS THROUGH THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that it is an abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a person more competent and more trustworthy than Mr. Eddy to prepare their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him for the securing of their patents, as they be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAYLOR.

During eight months, the number, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her walking, and even confined her to her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., but to no effect, and she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dis trees at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief, until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. BUTLER.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our House in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her usual use of her limbs; that she had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it if they do not agree with his case, or if not Worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewd neighbors who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three barrels full a day, and his father only one! We told him to move before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and actually is the more valued the more it is tried. This invention is far in advance of all others in this department. By means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, all corresponding in the high praise of comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will love it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being CHEAPER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had on under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The remnant of Morgan's command, numbering 700, passed through Flemingsburg, on the 12th, en route possibly for Pound Gap. A federal force of 1500 in pursuit, arrived at Flemingsburg about six hours after Morgan left.

The pursuit of Morgan is ended, he having passed the lines with a few men.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Dispatches state that on Wednesday Gen. Grant's whole army crossed the James river, and were marching into the interior. Gen. Smith's corps had arrived and reinforcements were coming in fast.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe states that Gen. Smith with the 18th corps left City Point for Petersburg on Wednesday morning, and Gen. Kautz's cavalry attacked the entrenchments outside of the city, and succeeded in carrying them, being supported by Gen. Smith's advanced guard. The capture of this city will give us possession of all the railroads connecting with Richmond south, except the Lynchburg and Danville road. And rebel accounts report Hunter and Crook well advanced upon Lynchburg to seize that road.—Hunter being at Lexington on the 11th, and Crook at Amherst Court House, only 12 miles from Lynchburg, on the 13th.

Sec. Stannton reports that Gen. Smith attacked Petersburg with 15,000 men on Wednesday. At 7:20 P. M. he assaulted and carried the principal line of the enemy's works, taking 13 cannon and 300 or 400 prisoners. The negro troops acted nobly, doing the hardest fighting, and Gen. Smith personally thanked them, telling them he was proud of their courage and dash. The line of works taken is two miles from Petersburg. Gen. Hancock joined Gen. Smith on Thursday morning. The city lies directly under our guns. Gen. Butler reports that the rebels have abandoned the works in front of Bermuda Hundred. His troops are tearing up the railroad between Petersbug and Richmond. Gen. Grant returned to the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac on Wednesday, from his visit to Gen. Butler.

THE LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—A bill fixing the salary of the Judge of the Police Court of this city at $500, was introduced in the House by Mr. Haven, and referred to our delegation. A bill was introduced, placing all recruiting under the control of the Governor and Council, and authorizing a bounty not exceeding $700; also another bill, authorizing a bounty not exceeding $300. Notice was given of a bill in relation to registration of births and deaths; and of a bill relating to time of closing the polls at State and National elections. The Governor communicated the contract with the State Liquor Agent previously asked by the House. He also communicated the State Treasurer's statement of the number and names of surgeons, nurses, agents, etc., sent to Washington and the battle field, during the past year, and the compensation and expenses paid each, so far as settled with. The amount paid is $3216.88. The Senate referred the act in relation to the Great Falls and Conway R. R. The joint resolution of thanks to Brig. Gen. Marston was passed unanimously.

THURSDAY.—The Senate passed the act relative to the Gt. Falls & Conway R. R.

In the House, Mr. Hackett gave notice of a bill in amendment of the charter of this city. A joint resolution was reported authorizing the State Treasurer to borrow $50,000, at rate of interest not exceeding 6 per cent., to pay interest on State bonds due in July. A bill was introduced, providing that on agreement of two-thirds of the Stockholders of a bank, the Directors may take steps towards converting such bank into a National Bank, without calling a meeting of the stock holders. Mr. Hackett, in behalf of the delegation from this city, reported that as the City is now authorized to increase the salary of the Police Justice, further legislation on the subject of the bill to amend the city charter is inexpedient.

— Gen Butler's "star" is in the ascendant just now.

— It costs $750,000 per annum to carry the letter mails from Atkinson, Kansas, to Folsom, Cal.

— The N. Y. Tribune's correspondent states that Gen. Sheridan has gone to pilot Gen. Hunter to Gen. Grant's new position.

— The N. Y. Times' dispatch states that Gen. Butler has relieved Gen. Gilmore, for alleged dilatoriness, in the recent movement on Petersburg.

— There is much excitement at Denver, N. T., in consequence of the Indians murdering and scalping a man, woman and two children, and burning a ranch twenty miles east of that city. Soldiers have been sent in pursuit of the Indians and the militia are organizing. Much stock has been stolen at different points lately.

THE SECOND N. H. REGIMENT.

THE SECOND N. H. REGIMENT, or those members of it who have not re-enlisted, have returned home, and are to be mustered out of the U. S. service, after three years of toil, daring, and patriotic devotion to the country. It was the first three years' regiment from this State that answered the call, and its career has been one of unsurpassed glory. Originally it was designed to organize it as a three months' regiment, under the first call, and a number of volunteers enlisted in it; but when the second call was issued, May 3, 1861, for three years' men, it was decided to change its term of service to three years. Accordingly as many of those who had enlisted for three months, who were willing to go for three years, were re-enlisted, and the few who were unwilling were mustered out.—The regiment rendezvoused in this city, being quartered at Camp Constitution, on the south side of the South Mill Pond. The regiment was rapidly filled up, and officers were appointed. Some of those declined, and at length the regiment was organized by the appointment of Gilman Marston of Exeter as Colonel; Frank S. Fiske of Keene, Lieutenant Colonel; Josiah Stevens, jr., of Concord, Major; Samuel C. Langley of Manchester, Adjutant; George H. Hubbard of Manchester, Surgeon; Henry E. Parker of Concord, Chaplain; and John S. Godfrey of Hampton Falls, Quartermaster.

The regiment, numbering 1040 men, left this city on Thursday morning, June 21, 1861, for Washington. Their reception in Boston, by the Sons of New Hampshire, was alike gratifying to them and honorable to the Sons,—and it has been often pleasantly and gratefully alluded to by "the boys."

The regiment arrived at Washington June 23, and went into camp on the 7th street park, remaining there until five days before the Bull Run battle, when they broke camp and marched into Virginia.—The regiment was brigaded with the 1st and 2d Rhode Island regiments and the 71st N. Y. S. M., under command of Gen. Burnside. At Bull Run the regiment did excellent service, and suffered severely—losing nearly 200 men. Col. Marston was wounded, but after having his wound dressed, returned to the field, and then perhaps was first really established in the hearts of his men that respect and admiration for him as a brave and intrepid leader, that has ever since been awarded him.

Soon after the battle of Bull Run Capts. Carr and Barker were detailed to come home for the purpose of obtaining recruits; and they returned to Washington about the middle of September, with 192 men.

Subsequently, upon the organization of the Army of the Potomac, the Second was put in Hooker's Brigade, and under him they fought as long as he held command.—He has frequently commended them for the ready and skilful manner in which they performed every duty devolving upon them; while "fighting Joe" had not in the army more warm admirers and eager followers than "the boys" of the Second N. H. regiment.

At Williamsburg the regiment reasserted its right to the high reputation it acquired at Bull Run; nor has it been less honored by its brave conduct at Yorktown, Fair Oaks, Tunstall's Station, Glendale, Malvern Hill, Bristow Station or Kettle Run, Bull Run (1862); Chantilly and Fredericksburg. In the Peninsular campaign, especially, the regiment did noble service, and many of its noblest officers and bravest men there laid down their lives in their country's cause.

Col. Marston was promoted to the position of Brigadier General; and Lieut. Col. Fiske and Major Stevens were compelled by ill health to resign. Capt. Bailey was promoted to the Lieut. Colonelcy, and Capt. Carr to the position of Major. In February, 1863, the regiment, after a year and nine months' service, was permitted to return home under command of Lieut. Col. Bailey, to fill up its depleted ranks. Accordingly they reached Concord on the 4th of March, and went into camp,—their progress through the Northern States being marked by many unmistakable indications of the confidence, respect and esteem in which they were held by all loyal citizens. In Boston they were again honored and greeted by a public reception given under the direction of "the Sons." At Manchester they passed the night of the 3d, where they received a cordial welcome; and at Concord they, on their arrival the next day, they were welcomed most enthusiastically and cordially. About 550 men in all returned at this time. Previous to their departure from the army, Gen. Sickles, under whose command they were, issued a complimentary order to the regiment, which, although it was published in the Chronicle at the time, we give here, as a part of the history of the regiment:

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY CORPS,
FEBRUARY 25, 1863.

The General Commanding cannot sever, even temporarily, his relations with the Second N. H. Volunteers, without expressing his regret that this gallant regiment no longer belongs to his command. Entering the service at the beginning of the war, this regiment has participated with distinction in the combats which have made this army illustrious. Unchanged in loyalty as in valor, this devotion of the 2d N. H. to our sacred cause is to-day as unyielding as when the fall of Sumter inflamed the Union Soldiers! Your patriotic State will soon fill up your ranks. You will be greeted at at home with affectionate welcome by those who appreciate your worth and share your unselfish love of country. You will perhaps encounter not a few who find everything to deplore in the means employed to suppress the rebellion, and nothing to commend except their own exertions to confer authority upon those who apologize for treason and sue for peace with the traitors who spurn them. You have offered your own lives for the Union. You have buried many brave comrades on the bloody fields of the rebellion. You will know how to repel the approach of renegades who would betray the cause for which your flag has been proudly borne in battle. To your commanding officer, Col. Gilman Marston, twice wounded at the head of his regiment, distinguished for gallantry in the field, and for signal ability in the National councils, I desire to acknowledge my obligation for his able and zealous co-operation as an officer of this command. Your comrades in those glorious Divisions which are forever inseparable from the names of Hooker and Kearney, will always cherish their recollections of the glorious service in which you have been associated; nor will they cease to look with solicitude to the day which all hope will not be distant, when you will return to the Third Army Corps with renovated ranks and undiminished ardor, eager to share with us the honors of new and eventful campaigns.

By command of Brig. Gen. SICKLES,
O. H. HART, Asst. Adj. Gen.

Through the exertions of Mayor Dearborn, Companies E, D and K were sent to this city, to garrison Forts Constitution and McClary during their stay in the State.—These were the Exeter and Hampton, the Dover, and the Portsmouth companies.—Capt. Samuel P. Sayles, Co. D, of Dover, was by Gen. Wool appointed commander of the Post. They reached here March 7, 1863. They had a noble reception—second in no respect to any, if it did not actually surpass all which had ever greeted them. The members of these companies have often, privately and publicly, expressed their gratification at the cordial and sincere welcome which they then received. The remembrance of it caused them to rejoice when they were ordered to Portsmouth to be mustered out, and to regret when they learned that a different arrangement was made in Boston, and that they were to go to Concord.

When Co. K left this city there were 64 Portsmouth men enlisted. On their return 24 had been discharged, 4 had deserted, 1 had been killed, 1 drowned, and 1 was reported as missing,—leaving 29 of the original Portsmouth members. During their stay in the State, about 200 men who had enlisted in the 17th regiment, (9 months) were transferred to the 2d, to serve out the remainder of their term; and the regiment left the State for the seat of war on Monday, May 25. They rejoined the Army of the Potomac, and fought at Gettysburg, losing heavily but again doing nobly. After this battle, they were ordered to Point Lookout, to garrison the rebel prisoners' camp; and in company with the 5th and 12th regiments there remained until a few weeks since, when they were ordered to Gen. Butler's command. In the present campaign they have done their usual good and efficient service, up to the time of their departure. At the battles of Drury's Bluff and Coal Harbor, the regiment lost ninety men in killed and wounded. Among the killed were Capt. Wm. H. Smith, B; Lieut. Henry Hayward, D; Capt. James Platt, E; and Capt. George W. Gordon, I.

The Second has been in 14 regular battles, and many skirmishes and reconnoissances; and never yet has any citizen of the Granite State had occasion to blush at its conduct. The regiment has uniformly been brave, thrustworthy and efficient.

The whole number of enlisted men connected with the regiment since its organization is about 3,000. The number having served three years, who have not re-enlisted and now entitled to discharge, is about 200, nearly 50 of whom are now in hospitals.

Of the original officers there are now but five connected with the regiment,—Col. Bailey and Lieut. Col. Carr, who went out Captains, Maj. Sayles and Capts. Young and Patterson, who went out Lieutenants. Capt. Griffin, who raised Co. B, is now a Brigadier General, a position he earned while Colonel of the 6th. Capt. Barker is Lieut. Col. of the 14th, and Capt. Farr, Major of the 11th.

The following officers have been killed in battle: Capts. Drown, Metcalf, Hubbard, Gordon, Littlefield, Platt and Smith; Lieuts. Rogers, Parmenter, Dascomb, Moore and Hayward: Capts. Colby and Weston died of disease, and Lieut. Walker was accidentally killed while the regiment was on its way to Washington.

On Wednesday last, the N. H. House of Representatives passed the following resolution:

Resolved That this House congratulate the war-worn and battle-scarred veterans of the Second Regiment of New-Hampshire Volunteers on their return to the State and to their homes; and that we tender to them our sincere thanks for the honor they have conferred on the State by their generous devotion to the cause of our country; by their patient endurance of hardship and suffering; by their heroic valor, attested in many a hard-fought battlefield, which has given them a name high among the heroes of the war, and entitled them to be ever held in grateful remembrance by this whole nation.

We have thus spoken at some length of the Second, because we know how deep has been the interest of our citizens in them throughout their career; and also because that career has been so honorable to them and so creditable to the State. We regret that the hasty compilation of our account has caused it to be so imperfect a record of the regiment's three years' labors for the cause of the Union.

☞ Quite a panic has been created among some of the workmen at the Portsmouth Navy Yard by the death of three or four seamen, by fever, on board the U. S. steamer DeSoto, which arrived on Thursday. A part of the crew have been transferred to the receiving ship Vandalia, and two of these, apparently in good health at the time of their removal, Thursday afternoon, were suddenly stricken sick, and have been removed to Sullivan's Island. There is considerable complaint because the vessel was not detained at quarantine the length of time prescribed by law, these complaints being occasioned by the belief that the disease among the officers and crew is contagious, and often fatal. We are informed that the Asst. Surgeon, Geo. Parker, of Concord, died on Friday morning,—and that two of the crew also died on that day.

☞ 1st Lieut. Robert S. Dame, Co. K, 5th N. H. regiment, son of John Dame of this city, is reported as missing.

The following names of wounded in Co. G, 10th N. H. regiment, are additional to those we have already published: Nicholas Kage, head; Francis H. Niles, left hip; Lewis Dow, head; William J. R. Burtt, left foot.

☞ The Artillery Company formerly stationed at Fort Constitution, in this harbor, is now at Battery Cameron, near Washington, D. C. Capt. C. H. Page is yet in command.

Capt. Barton's Company, from Fort McClary, is at Fort Foote, a few miles further down the river.

TEMPLE.—This evening is announced as the final performance of Myers' Dramatic Company who have been most favorably received the past two nights. This is to be an extra occasion and is enhanced by the fact that the genuine Yankee Locke, known to "all the world and the rest of mankind," is to make his first appearance here since his famous California tour. Locke has many warm friends who will gladly welcome him, and "if one human natur can make another larf he is bound to try the experiment to-night."

LECTURE ON SPIRITUALISM. — Mr. Charles H. Crowell, of Boston, formerly of this city, will lecture on Spiritualism at Academy Hall, Sabbath afternoon and evening, June 19. There will be a meeting at the same place on the following Sunday. Seats free. All are invited to attend. 1t

☞ Our merchants, we understand, are subscribing for copies of the N. E. Business Directory for 1864, quite generally, and many have given their cards for insertion in its pages,—a rare opportunity as the Directory is published only once in four or five years.

☞ The use of the Representatives' Hall in Concord on Thursday evening, June 23, has been granted to the N. H. Historical Society, by vote of the House on Thursday, for an Address by the Rev. Dr. Burroughs of this city.

☞ Rev. Mr. Waterhouse is to preach in the Chapel on the City Farm to-morrow afternoon at half-past 4.

☞ Rev. Dr. Burroughs is to preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow morning.

☞ The next meeting of the Public School Teachers' Association will be held at the City Rooms, Monday evening June 20, at 8 o'clock. JOHN DURGIN, SEC.

RED TAPE.—The Rockingham Mills in this city are making this article. Our government will not have to send abroad for the great supply needed in the departments.—Cor. Ballot.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Union caucus for nomination of Secretary of State, Treasurer, Warden of the Prison, and Commissary General, has been postponed till next Tuesday.

—— Governor Gilmore has issued a proclamation, by virtue of a legislative enactment, offering a State bounty of $300 to all recruits for the First New Hampshire cavalry.

—— The Lincoln and Johnson ratification meeting in Phenix Hall, Concord, on Thursday evening, was well attended.—Hon. Charles H. Bell presided, and speeches were made by Hon. David Crosby, A. H. Cragin and Amos Tuck.

—— William Sincere, 10 years of age, was so badly burned in Concord Wednesday afternoon, while playing with powder, by a quantity in one of his pockets becoming ignited, that he died on the following morning.

—— The friends of Dartmouth College are very anxious that the Agricultural School shall be connected in some way with that institution. Less expense in the erection of buildings and the endowment of professorships, and also greater privileges for students in agriculture, are among the inducements held out by those who desire the institution located at Hanover.

—— The New Hampshire Convention of Universalists held their Annual Meeting at Nashua on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15 and 16. The Occasional Sermon was delivered on Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. Mr. Bowles of Manchester. The Sunday School Anniversary was held on Wednesday evening, with interesting services; the reports showed a considerable increase in the number of scholars, and a hopeful advance in the usefulness of the schools. The Sermon on Thursday forenoon was by Rev. Mr. Canfield of Concord, and that in the afternoon by Rev. Mr. Abbott of Lowell. The principal churches were reported as in fair working order, and enjoying a good degree of prosperity.

—— Capt. Wm. H. Smith, of Exeter, Co. E, 2d N. H. Regiment, who died recently at Fortress Monroe, from wounds received at the battle of Coal Harbor, was thirty years of age, a book-keeper by profession, and a native of Chester. He was four years in the office of his father, who was Register of Deeds for Rockingham county, and afterwards in the office of S. D. Wingate, Esq. In 1861, he enlisted at Exeter, as a private in the 2d regiment, was soon promoted to a 2d Lieutenancy, and after the death of Capt. Drown, he was made commander of the company. He leaves a young wife. His remains were embalmed, and will be buried with Masonic honors at Exeter on Monday next.

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is based in strict conformance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain the skin. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS where the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganed. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. CABINET ORGANS,
Combining the requisites for Sacred and Secular, Church and Parlor Music; for Families, Sunday Schools, Day Schools, Churches, &c.

They are elegant as pieces of furniture; occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.

They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.

The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind. Its superiority consists in many important characteristics.

☞ A correspondent of the London Globe tells us of a curious specimen of hotel finance, as follows:

"A friend had his son from Cambridge to spend a day and night with him in London during Easter; but his own house being full, he went to engage a bed for his son at the 'Grosvenor,' and selected a room en quatrieme, for which the charge was to be 3s. 6d., explaining that it was for his son, who only wanted accommodation for the night, and would take his meals at his father's house. Next morning, on the son asking for his bill, he was surprised to find himself charged 7s. 6d. thus: To bed, 3s. 6d., attendance, 1s. 6d.; not taken any thing at the hotel, 2s. 6d.; total 7s. 6d. Now the absurd part of the story is, that my friend before leaving the hotel, happened to take up a carte and saw therein (inter alia): Cup of coffee with hot milk, roll, and butter, 1s. 6d. So that had his son partaken of a cup of coffee, with hot milk, roll, and butter, he would have had 1s. less to pay than he was charged for taking nothing."

The following dialogue is said to have taken place recently between a married couple on their travels: "My dear, are you comfortable in that corner?" "Quite, thank you, my dear." "Sure?" "Sure,love." "And no cold air from the window by you?" "Quite certain, darling." "Then, my dear, I'll change places with you."

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospital, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we obtain only by the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicines act direct, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have valiantly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as never less as ever contended against by inventors.

Rapidity of Cures!

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by "the tedious, conservative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause there is a disturbance of the balance, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restate the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Sick Headache, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Jaundice.

Scrofula.

Abscess, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired) filling life with painful misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Inflammatory, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are quieted instantly, and the duration of suffrings are reduced. Cases chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Nervous Fears, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pusillanimous Feelings, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, and all the direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and contains no alcohol in any form, and has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain over such strong and stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not, the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars see pamphlet, which any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same a full pamphlet in pamphlet form.

☞ Prices, $1 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

Dr. W. R. MERWIN & CO., Sole Proprietors, No. 59 Liberty street, New York.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!
The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stones in the Bladder, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhea, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus or Whites in females where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

The subscriber, having received his Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from coming into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which a dinner can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, free from dust and smoke—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass over it, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cover can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the same may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

They cure Nervous and spinal affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it ALL the effects that spring from it.

Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain nothing deleterious to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute strength for weakness, which, when properly used, they never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, except during the first three months, during which the peculiar nature of their action would intelligibly prevent pregnancy.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from coming into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which a dinner can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, free from dust and smoke—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass over it, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cover can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the same may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1864. VOL. XXIV. No. 145.

The Chronicle.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—The Journal de Toulouse says: "A fire, attended by a singular accident and loss of life, happened a few days ago at Guiche (Basses Pyrenees). A girl living as servant with a grocer named Dugnet, on entering a bedroom accidentally set fire to the window curtains. She immediately raised an alarm, and commenced tearing down the burning material, which she threw out of the window. The grocer, on hearing the cry of "fire," rolled into the street a barrel of gunpowder weighing about fifty pounds, which he had in the shop. At that moment a piece of the burning curtain fell on the barrel, some of the staves of which were damaged, and the powder exploded, blowing down the house, in the ruins of which five persons were buried. The wife of the grocer received such injuries that she died shortly after; the man had to undergo the amputation of one of his legs, while the servant and two lodgers were seriously hurt.

FROM NASSAU.—The N. Y. Herald's Nassau correspondent says immense quantities of arms, ammunition, clothing, beef, pork and breadstuffs continue to be received there from New York, Philadelphia and Portland, and are sent to the rebels. Sixty thousand dollars were received from Frazer & Co., of Charleston, which were given to the British officials who seized the pirate Florida and went through a mock trial when she was receiving her armament. The American Consul has been compelled to close his consulate there, as the secesh sympathizers refuse to let him office room.

Facts for the People.
The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 35 to 50 per cent. this season.
We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to
THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,
for economy, convenience and dispatch.
Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.
One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.
A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.
These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE
ANDERSON
SPRING BED-BOTTOM,
(E. HENNESSEY'S PATENT.)
Another Triumph of American Genius!
Price Only $6!
This desirable mechanical arrangement has now been in use a sufficient length of time to show that it gives entire satisfaction and meets a want which is felt more valued the more it is tried. This invention is a step in advance of all others in this department, by means of it, a Bed-Bottom is obtained which is as flexible as hair, and yet is so recuperative as to bring itself into its place with great facility. It is adapted to the invalid, the aged, and all who linger in suffering and weakness.
They are made of good materials, warranted strong and durable, and not liable to get out of order. Numerous testimonials from the press, also from many persons of the highest respectability in different parts of the country, have been received, commending in the highest terms the comfort and utility of the Anderson Spring Bed-Bottom.
The rich will have it because IT IS THE BEST. All other classes will have it on account of it being HEALTHIER than any other bed. We claim that a better bed may be had by means of this improvement for six dollars than can be had in under-bedding for thirty-six, thus making a SAVING OF AT LEAST THIRTY DOLLARS ON EVERY BED!
These Bed-Bottoms have been introduced into a few families in this city, and we have the pleasure to refer to—

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The announcement that Morgan had left Kentucky, seems to have been premature. A Colonel and one of Morgan's staff went to Lexington on Thursday, with Gen. Hobson, under a flag of truce, to arrange for an exchange of prisoners. Gen. Burbridge refused to recognize the flag, arrested the rebels, and ordered Gen. Hobson to the command of his division.

An arrival from Port Royal states that the rebels opened fire from Sullivan's and James Islands on the 7th, which was replied to by our guns. At night the guns of Fort Putnam opened on a rebel steamer bound from Charleston for Fort Sumter, laden with troops and supplies. She was disabled, run aground, and at daylight demolished by our guns.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Hunter on the 12th was advancing with a view of counteracting the movements of the enemy, who are preparing to make a strong defence at Lynchburg. A captured dispatch from Lee urges Imboden to hold out, promising to reinforce him.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

The following is Sec. Stanton's official bulletin, dated June 18, 10 P. M.:

The following dispatch from Gen. Grant, dated yesterday, 17th, at City Point, has been received at the War Department:

"The 9th corps this morning carried two more redoubts, forming part of the defences of Petersburg, and captured 450 prisoners and 4 guns. Our forces drew out from within 50 yards of the enemy's entrenchments at Coal Harbor, made a flank movement of about 55 miles march, crossing the Chickahominy and James rivers, (the latter 2000 feet wide and 84 feet deep at the point of crossing) and surprising the enemy's rear at Petersburg,—all this being done without the loss of a wagon or piece of artillery, and only about 150 stragglers being picked up by the enemy. In covering this movement Warren's corps and Wilson's cavalry had frequent skirmishing with the enemy, each losing from 50 to 60 killed and wounded, but inflicting an equal if not greater loss on the enemy. The 18th corps (Smith's) were transferred to Bermuda Hundred from White House by water, and moved to the rear of Petersburg, on the right of them, and surprised, or rather captured, every strong work north of Petersburg, before sufficient force could be got there by the enemy to hold them. Gen. Smith was joined on the night following this capture by the 2d corps, which in turn captured more of the redoubts. Further south of this the corps was followed by the 9th, with the result above stated. The enemy, in their endeavors to reinforce Petersburg, abandoned their entrenchments in front of Bermuda Hundred. They no doubt expected troops from north of James river to take their places before we discovered it. Gen. Butler took advantage of this, and moved at once on the railroad and plank road between Richmond and Petersburg, which I hope to retain possession of."

Unofficial dispatches show that at 8 o'clock this (Saturday) morning, the enemy still occupied Petersburg.

Nothing has been received to-day from Gens. Sherman or Hunter.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Sec. of War.

— The small pox was raging fearfully at St. Domingo, at last accounts.

— The "original pop-corn man" of Springfield, Mass., has been drafted.

—Rev. Charles Cleveland of Boston was to preach on Sunday morning in commemoration of his 92d birth day.

— Chief Engineer Stimers has been relieved from duty as General Inspector of Iron-clads by Chief Engineer Ward.

— Several lives were lost at Washington on Friday by an explosion of fireworks which blew up the laboratory at the arsenal. 19 bodies have been taken out thus far.

— Two men and a boy are going to sail from New York this week for England, in a little boat, brig rigged, only fifteen feet long and one and three-quarters tons register.

— The latest fashion of the day in London is the pony mania. No lady of ton is now complete (says an English journal) without her park phaeton and here couple of high stepping ponies.

— Arrangements have been made by the Maine authorities for supplying sick and wounded soldiers belonging to that State with proper refreshments at the Boston and Maine Depot in Boston, when such persons arrive there en route for home.

— The N. Y. Herald's Newbern correspondent says that the rebels have secured the cargo of the blockade runner McCaw, which was run ashore by our blockaders a short time since, and that, too, almost under our guns, our vessels apparently looking on the act unconcerned. The statement should be received with caution.

— Two members of the firm of Smith Brothers, hardware dealers, of Boston, were sent to Fort Warren on Friday. They have been largely engaged in furnishing supplies to the Navy Department; and there is said to have been some collusion between them and an office-holder at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Senate has fixed Wednesday June 29, for the close of the session.

—— The funeral of Capt. William H Smith, of the 2d Regiment, took place at Exeter on Saturday last.

—— The names of members of the House failing to report to a call of the yeas and nays are, by vote, published in the Legislative Reporter. Bosh! Why not have a truant committee, at once, to relieve the Sergeant-at-Arms?

—— Rev. Mr. Hatch was installed as Pastor of the Unitarian Church in Concord on Thursday evening last: sermon by Rev. Dr. Hedge of Brookline; Right Hand of Fellowship, by Rev. James De Normandie of this city.

—— Two dwelling houses in Keene, were entered early on Friday morning last; from one $30 worth of silver ware was stolen from the dinning room table; from the other a watch and chain, silver ware, etc., in all $300 worth, were taken.

—— A valuable English watch and chain has been presented to Hon. N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, by friends who were his associates when he was the special agent of the Postal service in New England.

—— Liquors of various kinds, valued at $3000, were seized at the Dartmouth Hotel, Hanover, on Tuesday last; and the proprietor, a Mr. Frarey, was arraigned upon six complaints for selling liquor, and one as a common seller.

—— The Keene Sentinel announces the death of Dr. Daniel Adams, aged 91.—He graduated at Dartmouth in 1797; settled in Leominster, Mass., as a physician, and edited a newspaper called the Telescope. He taught school in Boston six years, and was the compiler of reading books, a grammar, a geography and the arithmetic which throughout New England has been known as Adams' Arithmetic. The Doctor was for years president of the New Hampshire Bible Society, and of the State Medical Society.

—— In the Universalist State Convention in Nashua, the following officers were elected: Hon. Ansel Glover, President; Hon. F. A. Rogers of Nashua, Vice President; Rev. A. J. Canfield of Concord, Recording Secretary; Rev. A. J. Patterson, of Portsmouth, Corresponding Secretary; Joseph Kidder, Esq., of Manchester, Treasurer; Rev. B. F. Bowles of Manchester, Rev. E. W. Coffin of Jaffrey, Rev. G. W. Bailey of Lebanon, Hon. Moses Humphrey of Concord, and Louis Simons, Esq., of Manchester, Committee of Fellowship, Ordination and Discipline. The question of approving a new plan of organization, proposed by the U. S. Convention to the several State Conventions for their approval, was taken up, discussed, and disposed of by postponing the subject one year.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY.—The Senate appointed its members of a joint committee to consider the expediency of calling a convention for altering the Constitution, as proposed by the Legislature of 1860 and acceded to by the voters at the March election, 1861. In the House the committee reported that no gunpowder is now stored in the State House, but that 40,000 rounds of fixed ammunition were kept in the library room from Sept., 1863, till May, 1864,—without any particular danger to anybody. A resolution was adopted as one to the standing rules, that hereafter no new business be introduced after the fourth week of a session. A joint resolution was introduced and referred, for the appropriation of $300 to the N. H. Historical Society to aid in procuring, preserving and publishing manuscripts, records and papers relating to the colonial history of New Hampshire. Mr. Pitman, of Bartlett, gave notice of a bill to prevent miscegenation.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN and wife visited the Philadelphia Sanitary Fair on Friday afternoon, and were enthusiastically received by the crowds present. At the supper the President responded to a toast in a speech, in which, after referring to the war and its effects, and complimenting the Sanitary and Christian Commissions, he said:

We accepted this war and did not begin it. We accepted it for an object, and when that object is accomplished, the war will end, and I hope to God it will never end until that object is accomplished. We are going through with our task, so far as I am concerned, if it takes us three years longer. I have not been in the habit of making predictions, but I am almost tempted now to hazard one. I will. It is, Gen. Grant is this morning in a position with Gens. Meade and Hancock of Pa., whence he can never be dislodged by the enemy until Richmond is taken. If I shall discover that Gen. Grant may be greatly facilitated in the capture of Richmond by rapidly pouring to him a large number of armed men at the briefest notice, will you go? (Cries of "yes.") Will you march on with him? (Cries of "yes, yes.") Then I shall call on you when it is necessary. (Applause, during which the President retired.)

— Four hundred thousand soldiers' letters, weighing upwards of six tons, were to be sent North from the Washington Post Office on Friday and Saturday, principally from the Army of the Potomac.

THE SECOND N. H. REGIMENT.

A member of the regiment communicates to the Concord Monitor a list of members of the regiment who have received commissions since they entered the service. Few regiments in our armies can present an equally honorable record:—

Brigadier General Gilman Marston, originally Colonel.
Dr. G. H. Hubbard, Medical Director Gen. Sherman's Department.—originally Surgeon.
J. W. Merrow, Surgeon 2d, originally Asst. Surgeon.

The Monitor's list, here given, is incomplete. We should be pleased to have some member of the Regiment furnish us with the names which are omitted.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE HOSPITAL.—We have already published the statement made by the Independent Democrat—that Gov. Gilmore prevented the U. S. Government from locating a Hospital in Portsmouth last winter—and have also given the Governor's fierce reply and denial, made in the Union, in which he denounced the "Concord Clique," &c. The Independent Democrat of last week reiterates their statement, and produces the following letter from His Excellency:—

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,
Executive Department,
Concord, Dec. 11, 1863.

My Dear Sir:—I received a letter from Mr. Chandler, under date of the 10th inst., in which he says that the Assistant Surgeon General recommends that a Hospital be established at Portsmouth equal to one thousand beds. Don't you let them make any such location. I want to be heard on the subject, unless they locate it at Concord.—Will yourself and Mr. Ordway please look after this; see the Secretary of War, if necessary, and as soon as Mr. Chandler returns I will write you more definitely; after seeing him, and getting the facts in the case, I shall know better what is to be done. Manchester is the place, for all Portsmouth. Please write me on receipt of this, and let me know all that you learn about the location of the Hospital, as well as anything else that you think will interest me. Can't you make Patterson aid us in this matter?

I am, my dear sir, very truly yours,
J. A. GILMORE.

To Hon. E. H. Rollins, M. C.,
Washington, D. C.

The Democrat defends itself and our Congressional delegation ("the Concord Clique") from the Governor's charges, in a spirited and severe article of a couple of columns; and closes with stating that "the matter is under investigation by a committee of the House, and the facts will thus be brought out."

"In conclusion, we notice that the Governor announced to the Legislature on Tuesday that a Hospital of five hundred beds has been finally located in Manchester. It will be seen that Manchester was foreshadowed in the letter to Mr. Rollins. We do not mention it for the purpose of making objection to the location, though we can't see what special advantages Manchester has over Portsmouth, to say nothing of Concord. There might have been one of a thousand beds in Portsmouth, last December, had the Governor not wished "to be heard."—Whether he has been heard or not we don't know—but neither Portsmouth nor Concord has got the Hospital—that is certain."

No, and Concord is ten times as good a place as Manchester for such an institution, and Portsmouth a hundred times better, as everybody knows, and nobody better than Gov. Gilmore. Portsmouth will owe him a grudge if he deprives us of our rights, as fairly as we do Gov. Hill's memory for cheating us out of the Insane Asylum.

Further, some folks—well informed, too,—are of opinion that this little dispute, and the bitterness engendered thereby, will result in moving the State Capital to Manchester also. But we hope not. That belongs to Concord, as justly as the Asylum and the Hospital to us.

— The Portlanders are asking the city government to establish ice water tanks at convenient places, for the benefit of the thirsty public.

— The blockade runner Perensy, a fine new iron side-wheel steamer of 543 tons, has been chased ashore by one of our vessels, near Beaufort. Her engines and boilers were blown completely out of her a few moments after she struck. She was laden with arms, lead, bacon and shoes.

— Mr. Rand, shingler, fell from a roof in East Cambridge, Mass., on Friday, struck upon his head, and was taken up dead.

Portsmouth, N. H., May 14, 1864.

Local.

☞ While so much is being done on the Navy Yard in the Constructor's Department in the matter of ship building and repairing, it might be inferred by some of our readers that nearly all the labor performed on the Yard was done in the above department. The construction of a vessel, and providing her with the proper outfits, from a gun-carriage down to a tin dipper, must of necessity require certain facilities for the accomplishment of such work, the furnishing of which devolves upon the Civil Engineer of the Yard. In a former item we made a brief allusion to the large amount of building performed in the Civil Engineer's department during the past year, mentioning the Machine Shop with its extension of one hundred and fifty feet, affording ample accomodations for from 150 to 200 workmen; the spacious Foundry with its excellent conveniences and improved ventilation; the extensive Smithery with its numerous forges and other facilities; together with the large addtion to the Naval Store, besides other matters of less pretension, but of proportionate importance. Now we have to add to these, the new Boat House and Carpenters' shop, nearly completed, situated near the Bridge leading to Kittery Foreside. This building is 150 feet in length by 55 feet in width, of unique construction, arranged in the best possible manner throughout for the purposes for which it is designed. From the lower floor, which is designed for boat building, boats can be rolled a few feet and then launched directly into the water, instead of being conveyed a distance of one-half the length of the Yard, as heretofore. These shops are to be supplied with machinery sufficient to accomplish all work that can be performed in this manner, a thing unknown, as yet, the labor in the Boat Builder's and Yard Carpenter's Departments being performed entirely by hand.

The building is erected by Messrs. Clement & Creesy, contractors, of Lawrence, Mass., superintended by Constructing Engineer B. F. Chandler, Esq., who, by the way, has no small task in the oversight of all the building and improvements of the Navy Yard, in its various departments.

The Ordnance Timber Shed, 150 by 55, is in process of erection. It is located near the Marine Barracks, and is a staunch, solid structure, the lower story being composed entirely of granite, supported in the centre by large stone piers or abutments. It is designed for the storage of ordnance stock, gun carriages, &c.

The extension of the Ordnance Building is a large two story addition of 93 by 35 feet, designed for the building of gun-carriages and for making articles pertaining thereto. The roof is on and nearly covered.

A large amount of grading has been done recently in front of the Magazine, providing a spacious yard, which is enclosed by a high and substantial fence. Wharf accommodations are greatly needed at our Yard, and it will be necessary, if the Government fails to buy Seavey's Island, to build a wharf on the north side of the Yard, in the accomplishment of which a large outlay of money will be required. The purchase of the Island would be of great advantage to the Government in many ways.

☞ The annual Picnic of the Avenue Myrtle Club came off on Friday at Rye Beach. The old Ivanhoe, with its freight of a couple of dozen merry passengers, and baskets innumerable, made the trip to the Ocean House (that is to be again), via Sagamore Bridge, in a short hour—having a spanking four-in-hand team in charge of "Jack" Sides. A ramble round these spacious and well-arranged, but uncompleted premises; a stroll on the beach, and a roll in the surf for those who had pluck enough and a bathing dress; dinner in the woods; then a drive to the old Atlantic House, or a walk by way of the beach to those who preferred; more bathing, singing, beaching, and roaming in Philbrick's superb woods—then supper on his lawn, a roll in his ninepin alley, and a moonlight drive home by Breakfast Hill road. Ask "S. W. C." if he knows where Elkins lives; and Com't Tilton if he stole that boy towards his quota. The day was voted, and the City Clerk will record it as a perfect success; and not a little of its enjoyment is due to the courtesy and cordiality of mine host of the Atlantic, his estimable lady, and their assistants. May all the members live a festive year, and their shadows never be less—(they won't, if they eat as they did there,—and a certain medical man's appetite seemed to "grow with what it had to feed on,") and may this means of grace be universally improved. F.

☞ A Portsmouth correspondent of the Concord Legislative Reporter pokes sharp sticks at "the member from —— who is not doing the thing that is right to be at home most of the time engaged in his fishing business." Who is he?

☞ The next meeting of the Public School Teachers' Association will be held at the City Rooms, Monday evening June 20, at 8 o'clock. JOHN DURGIN, SEC.

☞ A row-boat containing four persons, while attempting to pass Portsmouth Bridge, Sunday forenoon, was carried against the bridge by the tide, upset, and two of the men drowned. The survivors were rescued by James Miller and John Walsh, jr., who chanced to be in a boat near by.—Thomas Bancroft, one of the victims, leaves a wife and one child; Wm. Goodwin, the other, was a cripple, from wounds received in service during the present war, and was about to visit his mother at Newington.—Both of them, we believe, resided in this city, and the latter was employed at the Navy Yard.

☞ We inadvertently omitted on Saturday the name of Lieut. Charles W. Patch of this city from the list of the officers of the 2d N. H. Regiment who have laid down their lives in the service of the country. No braver man among them than he.

We followed a list published in several newspapers in this State and in Boston, in which Lieut. Parmenter's name was erroneously substituted for Lieut. Patch's. A correspondent informs us that Lieut. Parmenter served about one year and then resigned on account of sickness in his family. He is now in business in Dover.

☞ On Saturday evening closed a series of three performances given at the Temple by J. C. Myers' Dramatic Company, which gave entire satisfaction to his patrons. We hear that extensive alterations are purposed in the Temple this summer, which, when completed, will make it excellently well arranged for theatrical exhibitions; and moreover, that at the desire of many of his friends in Portsmouth, Manager Myers intends arranging for a season of performances in the Fall, lasting four or five weeks, when he will bring a larger and more extensive company, and also give our citizens an opportunity of witnessing some of the most celebrated Stars, whom he has engaged for his eastern circuit. Mr. M. is an enterprising Manager, and deserves well at the public's hands, and, provided sufficient patronage is extended to him, will give us a series of entertainments which cannot fail to command approbation and support.

TREASURE TROVE.—About $14,000 of English sovereigns were offered for sale Friday, which S. P. Mayberry found in the cellar of a house in Newcastle, N. H., once the residence of Gov. Allen, who held his commission from the English Government.—Boston Traveller.

Will the Traveler please tell us in what year those "English Sovereigns" were coined? Also, when they were found? under what circumstances? and any other items connected therewith which would be of interest to the citizens of Newcastle? The Newcastle people may bury sovereigns, and Mayberry may find them; but, if so, it has been kept wonderfully still down this way.

☞ A correspondent urges that a series of open-air concerts be given this season by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, to be paid for by subscription.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. Horton D. Walker for several State Documents of interest and value.

— An arrival from St. Domingo City, May 31, reports that the revolution was still progressing with savage hate. The great Monte Christo expedition had at last effected a landing at "Mansalla" Bay after a loss of 100 men.

Is it possible that any Soldier can be so foolish as to leave the city without a supply of Holloway's Ointment and Pills? Whoever does so will deeply regret it. These medicines are the only certain cures for Bowel Complaints, Fevers, Sores and Scurvy.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 223

They are elegant as pieces of furniture, occupy little space; are not liable to get out of order or out of tune; are warranted for five years; will improve in tone by age, and are moderate in cost.
They are to private houses, Sunday schools and smaller churches, what the larger pipe organs are to large churches, and in addition to this are adapted to secular as well as sacred music.
The Cabinet Organ is essentially different from, and a marked improvement upon, all instruments of the melodeon or harmonium kind; this superiority consists in many important characteristics.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM.

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.,
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heinous as ever encountered any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease can only be cured by the slow recuperative processes of Nature, and a long reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE or BROKEN DOWN BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective medicine, in relation in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumi, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—tumorous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 10 or 20 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Loss of Memory, Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all other complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Doubt not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. W. R. MERWIN & CO., Sole Proprietors,
No. 59 Liberty street, New York.

DR. WRIGHT'S
REJUVENATING ELIXIR, OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the same time.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and fall vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores the lost power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing victims of sensual pleasure.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Mucous, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhea, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old numerous nostrums have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an aly or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treating.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and ad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping to the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be confined all day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for Respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass over it, and thus obtain at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

These Furnaces do not work well in the cold, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"OUR COTTAGE BY THE SEA."

LINES WRITTEN IN FORT LAFAYETTE BY A PRISONER.

"I dreamed I dwelt in marble halls,"
And its not so far off you see;
For cold and grey are the granite walls
Of our "Cottage by the sea."

No balmy, gentle zephyrs here,
But shrill winds whistle free;
No loving kisses my flowers are here,
In our "Cottage by the sea."

But we've bunches of grapes, oh! heavier far
Than ever you did see;
And canister, too, we have, my dear,
But they're not filled with tea.

Such beautiful shells, as we have here!
Tho' not washed up by the sea,
And marine curiosities one may spear*
In our "Cottage by the sea."

The wild goose on its southern flight,
In angular lines we see;
And we hear the Scoot in the morning light!
In our "Cottage by the sea."†

We can only dream of marble halls,
And the beauties of the sea,
Disturbed but while by the sentry's calls,
In our "Cottage by the sea."

Alas! alas! for the "Pleasures of Hope,"
They are our only pleasures, you see;
And all we can do is to sit and mope
In our "Cottage by the sea."

*Spear—To spy out, to see.
†Hook—The cry of the wild goose.

Never, perhaps, are children dearer to their parents than when, as at present, the price of food and clothing is so excessive.

If you want to kiss a pretty girl, why, kiss her—if you can. If a pretty girl wants to kiss you, why, let her—like a man.

The difference between perseverance and obstinacy—one is a strong will, the other a strong wont.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

HALEY, MORSE & BOYDEN'S
SELF-ADJUSTING
CLOTHES WRINGER.
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

Over 40,000 have been sold by the manufacturer in a little more than two years—nearly 400 of them in Portsmouth and vicinity!

Buy one and try it—if not perfectly satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent, this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to stick to the old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the house and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three barrels full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

Our Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Grays Patent Molded Collars

Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and most durable collars extant.

The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles noticed in all other collars.

The crease causes no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH INSIDE AS OUTSIDE—and therefore perfectly free and easy to the neck.

The Garotte Collar has a smooth and evenly finished edge on BOTH SIDES.

These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a collar, but are MOLDED AND SHAPED TO FIT THE NECK.

They are made in "Novelty" for turn-down style, in every half size from 12 to 17 inches, and in "Eureka" (Garotte), from 12 to 17 inches, and packed in "solid sizes" in neat blue cartons, containing 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 each, the latter a very handy package for Travellers, Army and Navy Officers.

☞ EVERY COLLAR is stamped
"Gray's Patent Molded Collar."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,) 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the patent laws of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, not ascertainable, the probability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL IN THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber. And as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full sets of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they could not employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of properly drawing applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, seems to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JUNE 21, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Canby, commander of the trans-Mississippi Department, arrived at New Orleans June 9th, with his staff.

A staff officer from Gen. Sherman's army reports heavy fighting on W[illegible] day on our left. Gen. Blair's corps was storming the enemy's works; our whole army was in line and firing opened along the whole front. The rebels were being slowly driven back, mainly by our artillery. Our losses were slight. Gen. Blair was reported south of the Chattahoochie Wednesday night. Johnston massed his artillery to prevent our right crossing there. A rebel officer was captured on Tuesday night with dispatches from Johnston to Wheeler, ordering him to destroy the bridge, which Gen. Sherman had recently built over the Etowah river.

Gen. Sherman reports that the enemy gave way on Saturday night in the midst of storm and darkness, and at daylight our pickets entered his line from right to left. The whole army is now in pursuit as far as Chattahoochie, and Gen. Sherman would start at once for Marietta.

THE VIRGINIA CAMPAIGN.

The Richmond Sentinel, of the 15th, says Gen. Hunter's cavalry have raided through Nelson county, upon the line of the Charlottsville railroad. They have also operated on Concord, 18 miles east from Lynchburg, and upon Campbell Court House in a southerly direction. The purpose seems to have been to isolate Lynchburg, and possibly lay siege to it.

Gen. Sheridan reports that he crossed the Pamunkey on the 7th; marched through Childsburg and Newmarket on the 9th; on the 10th crossed both branches of the North Anna; on the 11th, Gen. Trabert, with his division and one brigade of Gen. Gregg's division, attacked the enemy's cavalry, and after an obstinate contest drove them from successive lines of breastworks, through an almost impassable forest back on Travillian Station, a distance of three miles. Meanwhile, one brigade of our troops were sent, under Gen. Custar, around so as to reach the Station in the enemy's rear, who, on their arrival, broke into a complete rout, leaving their dead and nearly all their wounded in our hands; also 20 officers, 500 privates, and 300 horses. On the 12th, Gen. Sheridan thoroughly destroyed the railroad from this point to Louisa Court House. The enemy retreated, and fortified themselves about 5 miles from Gordonsville; and as they had been reinforced, no general attack was made upon them, though there was some fighting. During the night and the next morning, Gen. Sheridan's force withdrew over the North Anna. He pronounces the cavalry engagement the most brilliant of the campaign. The enemy's loss was very heavy,—including several officers. Our loss in killed and wounded was about 575,—490 being wounded. 377 of the latter, all that could be transported, were brought off; the rest with a number of rebel wounded taken by us, were left, surgeons and attendants being detailed in charge of them. We captured 370 prisoners, including 20 commissioned officers. We lost 160,—principally from the 5th Mich. cavalry, which gallantly charged down the Gordonsville road, capturing about 1500 horses and about 800 men, but were finally surrounded and had to give them up. When the enemy broke they hurried between Custar's and Col. Gregg's brigades, capturing five caissons of a Pennsylvania Battery, three of which were afterward recaptured, leaving in their hands two caissons.

General Lee has hastened to Petersburg with his army, that being an important strategic point. Gen. Grant reports that on Saturday our forces advanced to within about a mile of the city, the enemy occupying a new line of entrenchments. After successive assaults, our troops failed to carry them, but hold and have entrenched their advanced positions.

Unofficial accounts state that up to Saturday 22 guns had been captured. Our forces held the Norfolk and Petersburg railroad. In the fighting on the 15th Gen. Hinks' negro troops behaved admirably.—With a wild yell they charged under a hot fire of musketry and artillery, over the rebel ditch and parapet, drove the enemy, and took entire possession of the works. Their delight knew no bounds. The 11th N. H. and 8th Conn. regiments led the charge on the centre of the line at nightfall, the men dashing forward furiously over a corn-field thickly interspersed with stumps. The cheering and enthusiasm all along the lines as the coast was made, and after it proved successful, are described as thrilling. 15 pieces of artillery were captured, and four earthworks strong enough to be called forts. Our troops are very near the city, and on the 17th a few shells were thrown into it, setting fire to several vessels.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Abell Storrs, of Lebanon, recently sold a pair of oxen weighing 4500 lbs., for $400. One year ago he paid for the same oxen $120.

—— Capt. John S. Ricker, of Dover, 5th N. H. Regiment, is reported to have been killed in one of the recent battles in Virginia.

—— The following officers of the 13th N. H. regiment have been wounded: Lieut. S. M. Thompson, ankle; Capt. E. E. Dodge thigh; Adjt. N. B. Boutwell, shoulder.

—— The 1st N. H. Cavalry, Lieut. Col. Hutchins, have received their horses and equipments, and have joined the second brigade, 3d division of Cavalry, commanded by Gen. Wilson, at Bottom's Bridge.

—— The bill for the removal of the records from Amherst to Nashua, which was referred to the Hillsborough County delegation, was amended by inserting a clause submitting it to a vote of the County at the November election.

—— The Nashua Telegraph states that Luther N. Clement, Esq., of that city has purchased from A. G. Stevens, Esq., of Wentworth, a splendid seven year old mare for $1000. She was raised by Young Morrill, weighs 1100 pounds and gives promise of great speed.

—— A bill is before the N. H. Legislature, in relation to the Governor's Horse Guards, which provides that the members of this corps shall receive the same pay as the State Militia when ordered out by the Governor. The Guards have now performed escort duty for five years without any State compensation whatever. They desire to be placed on a footing similar to that of the National Lancers of Boston.

—— On Thursday afternoon the Committees on the House of Reformation, of the Senate and House, accompanied by several Senators and Representatives, visited the State Reform School, by invitation of Hon. H. D. Walker, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The premises were examined, and after a look about the farm and buildings the visitors repaired to the School Room, where the children were seated.—The children sang several songs, after which Mr. Walker invited many of the gentlemen present to address the school. Brief speeches were made by Senators Hatch, Emerson and Blaisdell, and Messrs. Downe of Lebanon, Dustan of Henniker, of the above committee, and by Hon. Amos Tuck of Exeter, William H. Hackett, Esq., of Portsmouth, and Dr. Bancroft of the N. H. Asylum for the Insane. The visitors were apparently much pleased with the appearance of the School. We regret to hear that as Mr. Walker's term of appointment has nearly expired, he will decline a re-appointment. We trust that this will not be the case. His admirable qualifications for the position he has so ably filled for the past nine years would make his resignation the occasion of a great loss to the State.

It only needs to change less than a hundred thousand voters in this great country to carry the election above all the fraud and violence that can be used.—Journal of Commerce.

It is even so. The power of the administration is not therefore, quite so overwhelming as some seem to suppose. There have been vastly greater changes than that in campaigns before this, and there will be a change of a greater number of votes than one hundred thousand in the coming campaign.—Portland Argus.

This is very safe talk, says Uncle Toby. But does any body know exactly which way the changes will take place? Is the change to be in favor of treason, rebellion, and slavery, or in favor of law, order, and liberty?—We trust the latter.—It would be very good news indeed, if the change in New York City, should carry the election there, "above all the fraud and violence" of the rioters, murderers and swindlers, whom Gov. Seymour first addressed as his "immediate" constituents, and afterwards denounced his insurgents.

Does the Journal of Commerce mean this? or does it not rather mean the renewed and increased success of those same miscreants whose victory in an election caused Charleston to be illuminated?

U. T.

England is a constitutional country, in which the monarch reigns but does not govern. At present there is no sign that Queen Victoria even reigns. Secluded from society since Prince Albert's death, she is not even the head of a court. The English journals are beginning to grumble that the £400,000 a year, given by the nation to keep up the splendor of the court, should not be expended for that purpose. A large portion of this sum, saved by the Queen, adds so much to her personal income, and thus the spirit of the law is violated.—Boston Transcript.

And well the people may growl, too, if it be true, as stated, that they don't get the show or "Court" they pay for. No matter for private joys or griefs—no man is fit for President, and no woman for Queen, who can't and don't forget self for country.

☞ The Atlanta (Ga.) Appeal openly declares that the Northern copperheads are working for the benefit of the rebellion and the rebels, remarking:

Every successful blow we strike is so much bone and muscle to the arm which, under the training of Long, Harris, Voorhees and Vallandigham, is preparing to strike at the North.

THE REBEL RAM.—The captain of the rebel iron clad ram Albemarle has made a report of his recent engagement with the double-enders in the North Carolina waters. The account does not differ much from the Union account, except in the amount of damage the Albermarle inflicted upon our fleet. The captain thinks he sunk the Sassacus, which struck him on the side. He says:

"The contest was a very severe one, lasting about three hours. The disadvantages under which I labored from the tiller giving way, and the impossibility of producing steam enough to manage the vessel to advantage, prevented me from inflicting much greater damage than we did. The smoke stack was riddled to such an extent as to render it useless, and so great was my extremity at one time that I was forced to tear down the bulkheads, throw in all my bacon and lard, and other combustible matter, to produce steam enough to bring me back to the river."

This account shows that the Albemarle must have been much worse crippled than was supposed. The captain says also, that twenty inches of the muzzle of the after-gun of his vessel was knocked off by a shot from the double-ender.

NAVAL.—The U. S. House of Representatives, on Saturday, passed the Senate bill, that no officer under 62 years, who has been in service 45 years after attaining the age of 16, shall be retired.

The bill that the corps of commanders in the navy on the active list shall temporarily embrace all appointed to such grade before the present session of Congress, was also passed. Also a bill giving assimilated rank to warrant officers of the navy. After five years' service they are to rank as Ensigns and after ten years as Masters. The bill regarding prize proceedings and distribution of prize money was passed; and the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to provide for the education of naval constructors and steam engineers. Candidates are to be under 18 years of age.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says of the vote on the Constitutional amendment in the House:

As Joseph Bailey of Pennsylvania, one of the four democrats who had the patriotism to vote for the Constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery, was answering to his name on that question, a copperhead, his colleague Coffroth, who was passing at the time, laid his hand heavily upon Bailey's head and drew it down over his face, accompanying the action with words abusive of Bailey's vote and not fit to be printed. Bailey, suddenly forgetting his Quaker principles, seized Coffroth, who is much the larger man, by the collar, drew his head down and dealt him a powerful blow under the ear, which sent him reeling against the opposite desk. Coffroth laid down his arms.

"A Wonderful Discovery."
DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, silky and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "RESTORATIVE" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.
